New Frontiers of Customer Strategy Thierry Delecolle, Florence Jacob, Isabelle Prim-Allaz, 2024-06-21 Digital transformation has shaped a new landscape for companies and their customers offering companies a wealth of data with which to develop customer knowledge However this evolution is just one of many transformations in customer marketing within an increasingly complex reality thrown into turmoil by environmental and social changes New frontiers in customer relations strategies are thus being drawn some in new territories grounded in efforts to preserve scarce resources while others are built on expectations of social responsibility These profound societal changes also reveal darker frontiers where companies have insufficient ethical considerations for vulnerable customers or merely react to changes in legislation New Frontiers of Customer Strategy offers practitioners lecturers and students an up to date reflection on the role of customer relations now and in the future to keep pace with environmental digital inclusive and ethical issues as well as organizational governance Economica ,1921 Covers international research in all branches of economics Publication ,1991

Telecommunications in Disaster Areas Nicola Marchetti, 2011-01-29 Coordinated relief to the affected areas needs to be given as soon as possible so to minimize further nefarious effects In such scenarios it is vital that communications between interested parties i e relief and security groups are established as quickly and as easily as possible ideally in a plug play or zero configuration fashion Selections from China Mainland Magazines ,1962 Vision and Voyages for Planetary Science in the Decade 2013-2022 National Research Council, Division on Engineering and Physical Sciences, Space Studies Board, Committee on the Planetary Science Decadal Survey, 2012-01-30 In recent years planetary science has seen a tremendous growth in new knowledge Deposits of water ice exist at the Moon s poles Discoveries on the surface of Mars point to an early warm wet climate and perhaps conditions under which life could have emerged Liquid methane rain falls on Saturn's moon Titan creating rivers, lakes, and geologic landscapes with uncanny resemblances to Earth's. Vision and Voyages for Planetary Science in the Decade 2013-2022 surveys the current state of knowledge of the solar system and recommends a suite of planetary science flagship missions for the decade 2013-2022 that could provide a steady stream of important new discoveries about the solar system. Research priorities defined in the report were selected through a rigorous review that included input from five expert panels. NASA's highest priority large mission should be the Mars Astrobiology Explorer-Cacher (MAX-C), a mission to Mars that could help determine whether the planet ever supported life and could also help answer questions about its geologic and climatic history. Other projects should include a mission to Jupiter's icy moon Europa and its subsurface ocean and the Uranus Orbiter and Probe mission to investigate that planet's interior structure, atmosphere, and composition. For medium-size missions, Vision and Voyages for Planetary Science in the Decade 2013-2022 recommends that NASA select two new missions to be included in its New Frontiers program, which explores the solar system with frequent mid-size spacecraft missions. If NASA cannot stay within budget for any of these proposed flagship projects, it should focus on smaller, less expensive missions. First, Vision and Voyages for Planetary Science in the Decade 2013-2022 suggests that the National Science Foundation expand its funding for existing laboratories and establish new facilities as needed. It also recommends that the program enlist the participation of international partners. This report is a vital resource for government agencies supporting space science, the planetary science community, and the public.
