drawing on linguistics cognition studies theological studies and semiotics Shenton traces the development of Messiaen's sign system using examples from many of Messiaen's works and concentrating in particular on the Méditations sur le mystère de la Sainte Trinité for organ a suite which contains the most sophisticated and developed use of a sign system and represents a profound exegesis of Messiaen's understanding of the Catholic triune God By working on issues of interpretation Shenton endeavours to bridge the traditional gap between scholars and performers and to help people listen to Messiaen's music with spirit and understanding

After Sibelius: Studies in Finnish Music Tim Howell, 2017-07-05 During the last twenty years the rest of the world has come to focus on the music of Finland The seemingly disproportionate creative energy from this small country defies prevalent trends in the production of classical music Tim Howell provides an engaging investigation into Finnish music and combines elements of composer biography and detailed analysis within the broader context of cultural and national identity The book consists of a collection of eight individual composer studies that investigate the historical position and compositional characteristics of a representative selection of leading figures ranging from the beginning of the twentieth century to the present day These potentially self contained studies subscribe to a larger picture which explains the Sibelian legacy the effect of this considerable influence on subsequent generations and its lasting consequences an internationally acclaimed school of contemporary music Outlining a particular perspective on modernism Howell provides a careful balance between biographical and analytical concerns to allow the work to be accessible to the non specialist Each composer study offers a sense of overview followed by progressively more detail Close readings of selected orchestral works provide a focus while the structure of each analysis accommodates the different levels of engagement expected by a wide readership The composers under consideration are Aarre Merikanto Erik Bergman Joonas Kokkonen Einojuhani Rautavaara Aulis Sallinen Paavo Heininen Kaija Saariaho and Magnus Lindberg The concluding discussion of issues of national distinctiveness and the whole phenomenon of why such a small nation is compositionally so active is of wide ranging significance Drawing together various strands to emerge from these individual personalities Howell explores the Finnish attitude to new music in both its composition and reception uncovering an enlightened view of the value of creativity from which Liszt and the Symphonic Poem Joanne Cormac, 2017-10-26 Franz Liszt was preoccupied with a fundamental but difficult question what is the content of music His answer lay in his symphonic poems a group of orchestral pieces intended to depict a variety of subjects drawn from literature visual art and drama Today the symphonic poems are usually seen as alternatives to the symphony post Beethoven Analysts stress their symphonic logic thereby neglecting their extramusical subject matter This book takes a different approach it returns these influential pieces to their original performance context in the theatre arguing that the symphonic poem is as much a dramatic as a symphonic genre This is evidenced in new analyses of the music that examines the theatricality of these pieces and their depiction of voices mise en scene gesture and action Simultaneously the book repositions Liszt's legacy within theatre history arguing that his contributions should be placed alongside those of Mendelssohn Berlioz and Wagner Grove's Dictionary of Music and Musicians George Grove,1906

Beyond Jerusalem: Music in the Women's Institute, 1919-1969 Lorna Gibson,2017-07-05 Music in the Women's Institute has become stereotyped by the ritualistic singing of Jerusalem at monthly meetings Indeed Jerusalem has had an important role within the organization and provides a valuable means within which to assess the organization's relationship with women's suffrage and the importance of rurality in the Women's Institute's identity However this book looks beyond Jerusalem by examining the full range of music making within the organization and locates its significance within a wider historical cultural context The Institute's promotion of conducting a regular part of its musical activity since the 1930s is discussed within the context of embodying overtly feminist sentiments Lorna Gibson concludes that a redefinition of the term feminism is needed and the concept of gendered spheres of conducting provides a useful means of understanding the Institute's policy The organization's promotion of folk song is also examined and reveals the Institute's contribution to the Folk Revival as well as providing a valuable context within which to understand the National Federation's first music commission Ralph Vaughan Williams's Folk Songs of the Four Seasons 1950 This work and the Institute's second commission Malcolm Williamson's The Brilliant and the Dark 1969 are examined with the context of the organization's music policy In addition to discussing the background to the works issues of critical reception are addressed The book concludes with an Epilogue about the National Society Choir later known as the Avalon Singers which tested the organization's commitment to amateur music making The book is the result of meticulous work undertaken in the archives of the National Federation the BBC Written Archives Centre the V&A archives the Britten Pears Library the Ralph Vaughan Williams Library the Women's Library and the Newspaper Library Music in the Castle F. Alberto Gallo,1995 Writing for general readers and specialists alike Gallo illuminates the artistic cultural social and political dimensions of secular music vocal and instrumental His account also sheds new light on the potent influence of French culture in Italian courtly life Music and Discourse

Jean-Jacques Nattiez,1990-11-21 Series statement on p 4 of cover paperback edition Greek Orthodox Music in Ottoman Istanbul Merih Erol,2015-12-07 A study of the musical discourse among Ottoman Greek Orthodox Christians during a complicated time for them in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries During the late Ottoman period 1856-1922 a time of contestation about imperial policy toward minority groups music helped the Ottoman Greeks in Istanbul define themselves as a distinct cultural group A part of the largest non-Muslim minority within a multi-ethnic and multi-religious empire the Greek Orthodox educated elite engaged in heated discussions about their cultural identity Byzantine heritage and prospects for the future at the heart of which were debates about the place of traditional liturgical music in a community that was confronting modernity and westernization Merih Erol draws on archival evidence from ecclesiastical and lay sources dealing with understandings of Byzantine music and history forms of religious chanting the life stories of individual cantors and other popular and scholarly sources of the period Audio examples keyed to the text are available online Merih Erol s careful examination of the prominent church cantors of this period their opinions on Byzantine Ottoman and European musics as well as their relationship with both the Patriarchate and wealthy Greeks of Istanbul presents a detailed picture of a community trying to define their national identity during a transition Her study is unique and detailed and her call to pluralism is timely Mehmet Ali Sanlikol author of The Musician Mehters Overall the book impresses me as a sophisticated work that avoids the standard nationalist views on the history of the Ottoman Greeks Risto Pekka Pennanen University of Tampere Finland This book is a great contribution to the fields of historical ethnomusicology religious studies ethnic studies and Ottoman and Greek studies It offers timely research during a critical period for ethnic minorities in the Middle East in general and Christians in particular as they undergo persecution and forced migration Journal of the American Academy of Religion
