Obshchestvo Ikona V Parizhe

Paul L. Gavrilyuk

Obshchestvo Ikona V Parizhe:

Modernism and the Spiritual in Russian Art Louise Hardiman, Nicola Kozicharow, 2017-11-13 In 1911 Vasily Kandinsky published the first edition of On the Spiritual in Art a landmark modernist treatise in which he sought to reframe the meaning of art and the true role of the artist For many artists of late Imperial Russia a culture deeply influenced by the regime's adoption of Byzantine Orthodoxy centuries before questions of religion and spirituality were of paramount importance As artists and the wider art community experimented with new ideas and interpretations at the dawn of the twentieth century their relationship with the spiritual broadly defined was inextricably linked to their roles as pioneers of modernism This diverse collection of essays introduces new and stimulating approaches to the ongoing debate as to how Russian artistic modernism engaged with questions of spirituality in the late nineteenth to mid twentieth centuries Ten chapters from emerging and established voices offer new perspectives on Kandinsky and other familiar names such as Kazimir Malevich Mikhail Larionov and Natalia Goncharova and introduce less well known figures such as the Georgian artists Ucha Japaridze and Lado Gudiashvili and the craftswoman and art promoter Aleksandra Pogosskaia Prefaced by a lively and informative introduction by Louise Hardiman and Nicola Kozicharow that sets these perspectives in their historical and critical context Modernism and the Spiritual in Russian Art New Perspectives enriches our understanding of the modernist period and breaks new ground in its re-examination of the role of religion and spirituality in the visual arts in late Imperial Russia Of interest to historians and enthusiasts of Russian art culture and religion and those of international modernism and the avant garde it offers innovative readings of a history only partially explored revealing uncharted corners and challenging long held assumptions Georges Florovsky and the Russian Religious Renaissance Paul L. Gavrilyuk, 2013-12-20 Georges Florovsky is the mastermind of a return to the Church Fathers in twentieth century Orthodox theology His theological vision the neopatristic synthesis became the main paradigm of Orthodox theology and the golden standard of Eastern Orthodox identity in the West Focusing on Florovsky's European period 1920-1948 this study analyses how Florovsky's evolving interpretation of Russian religious thought particularly Vladimir Solovyov and Sergius Bulgakov informed his approach to patristic sources Paul Gavrilyuk offers a new reading of Florovsky's neopatristic theology by closely considering its ontological epistemological and ecclesiological foundations It is common to contrast Florovsky's neopatristic theology with the modernist religious philosophies of Pavel Florensky Sergius Bulgakov and other representatives of the Russian Religious Renaissance Gavrilyuk argues that the standard narrative of twentieth century Orthodox theology based on this polarization must be reconsidered The author demonstrates Florovsky's critical appropriation of the main themes of the Russian Religious Renaissance including theological antinomies the meaning of history and the nature of personhood The distinctive features of Florovsky's neopatristic theology Christological focus ecclesial experience personalism and Christian Hellenism are best understood against the background of the main problematic of the Renaissance Specifically it is shown that Bulgakov's sophiology provided a polemical subtext for Florovsky's theology of creation. It is argued that the use of the patristic norm in application to modern Russian theology represents Florovsky's theological signature. Drawing on unpublished archival material and correspondence, this study sheds new light on such aspects of Florovsky's career as his family background, his participation in the Eurasian movement, his dissertation on Alexander Herzen, his lectures on Vladimir Solovyov and his involvement in Bulgakov's Brotherhood of St Sophia. A Celebration of Living Theology Justin Mihoc, Leonard Aldea, 2014-03-13. This volume brings together an international range of world class scholars to engage with Andrew Louth's work and its influence on modern Theology. Andrew Louth is well known and influential in the English speaking circles but also in the non English Orthodox world especially across Eastern Europe. The interaction between these theological groups remains sparse and intermittent. By drawing together scholars from the three main branches of Christianity and from around the world, this volume helps to increase our knowledge and exposure between these different spheres. This volume comprises of articles on Patristics, Byzantine Fathers, Latin Fathers, Modern Christianity, Theology as Life and the reception of Louth's work outside the English speaking world. The papers are written by the leading scholars such as Lewis Ayres, John Milbank, Kallistos Ware and Thomas Graumann. Bibliographic Guide to Art and Architecture New
