Responses to 101 Questions on the Church Richard P. McBrien, 1996 Ecclesiology and Postmodernity Gerard Mannion, 2017-01-13 What in the world is postmodernity Is it the dominant reality today If it is what does it mean to be a church in a postmodern world It seems that the church had a difficult time coming to terms with a modern world an era ruled by the claims of scientific certainty Having done so more or less it is now confronted by the claims of postmodernity which seem to reverse the whole equation to say that certainty and objectivity are chimeras What is truth Pilate asked and postmodernity at least as caricatured by its opponents responds There s no such thing Gerard Mannion in Ecclesiology and Postmodernity addresses the situation of the church in a postmodern world The fundamental changes in human society and culture wrought by the twentieth century require the church to consider its response in the twenty first century What is the church s moral Vision how does its practice look what is the nature of its aspiration toward holiness in our times Mannion believes that since Vatican II the Catholic Church has been in a kind of limbo awaiting a Vision of its own life for the future Rather than focusing on specific controversies Mannion offers concrete suggestions about how the church can create a better harmony between its own self understanding its ecclesiological Vision and its day to day life its ecclesial practice Gerard Mannion PhD educated at King s College Cambridge University and New College Oxford University is Associate Professor of Ecclesiology and Ethics in the Department of Theology and Religious Studies at Liverpool Hope University UK He is also the director of Church In Our Times Centre for the Study of Contemporary Ecclesiology co director of the Applied Ethics

Peter Singer and Christian Ethics Charles C. Camosy, 2012-04-12 Interaction between Peter Singer and Christian ethics to the extent that it has happened at all has been unproductive and often antagonistic Singer sees himself as leading a Copernican Revolution against a sanctity of life ethic while many Christians associate his work with a culture of death Charles Camosy shows that this polarized understanding of the two positions is a mistake While their conclusions about abortion and euthanasia may differ there is surprising overlap in Christian and Singerite arguments and disagreements are interesting and fruitful Furthermore it turns out that Christians and Singerites can even make common cause for instance in matters such as global poverty and the dignity of non human animals Peter Singer and Christian ethics are far closer than almost anyone has imagined and this book is valuable to those who are interested in fresh thinking about the relationship between religious and secular ethics

Speaking of Dying Fred Craddock, Dale Goldsmith, Joy V. Goldsmith, 2012-07-01 The church does not cope very well with dying Instead of using its own resources to mount a positive end of life ministry for the terminally ill it outsources care to secular models providers and services A terminal diagnosis typically triggers denial of impending death and placing faith in the techniques and resources of modern medicine If a cure is not forthcoming the patient and his or her loved ones experience a sense of failure and bitter disappointment This book offers a critical analysis of the church's failure to communicate constructively about dying reminding the church of its considerable liturgical scriptural and pastoral resources when it ministers to the terminally ill The authors who have all been personally and professionally involved in end of life issues suggest practical theological bases for speaking about dying communicating with those facing death and preaching about dying They explore how dying in baptism begins and informs the Christian's life story They also emphasize that the narrative of faith embraces dying and they remind readers of scriptural and christological resources that can lead toward a good dying In addition they present current best practices from health professionals for communication among caregivers and those facing death The book includes a foreword by Stanley Hauerwas Raymond E. Brown and the Catholic Biblical Renewal Donald Senior, CP, 2018 A comprehensive analytical and critical and deeply appreciative biography of one of the greatest biblical scholars of the twentieth century that locates him within the sweep and drama of the Catholic biblical renewal especially in the United States
