Moving Image Theory Joseph D Anderson, Joseph Anderson, Barbara Fisher Anderson, 2007-03-05 Looking at film through its communication properties rather than its social or political implications this work draws on the tenets of James J Gibson's ecological theory of visual perception and offers a new understanding of how moving images are seen and understood

Moving Image Theory Joseph D Anderson, Barbara Fisher Anderson, 2007-03-05 Blending unconventional film theory with nontraditional psychology to provide a radically different set of critical methods and propositions about cinema Moving Image Theory Ecological Considerations looks at film through its communication properties rather than its social or political implications Drawing on the tenets of James J Gibson's ecological theory of visual perception the fifteen essays and forty one illustrations gathered here by editors Joseph D Anderson and Barbara Fisher Anderson offer a new understanding of how moving images are seen and understood Focusing on a more straightforward perception of the world and cinema in an attempt to move film theory closer to reality Moving Image Theory proposes that we should first understand how cinema communicates information about the representation of the three dimensional world through properties of image and sound

Narration and Spectatorship in Moving Images Barbara Fisher Anderson, Joseph D. Anderson, 2009-03-26 Philosophers and students of the arts have wondered since the time of Aristotle about the nature of aesthetic experience and how this experience can seemingly be evoked by works of art For more than a century producers and directors of motion pictures have made decisions about how to craft them based upon assumptions about complex stylistic devices and the effects such patterns of organization have on viewers Over the past few years film scholars have made considerable progress in analyzing the manifold connections that exist between stylistic patterns and aesthetic effects for moving images of all kinds In doing so they have increasingly drawn upon insights and methodologies derived from psychology The international conference from which this volume takes its contributions and its title was organized to encourage the seeking of descriptive models pertaining to those elements of filmic construction that account for specific aesthetic experience The focus of the current selection of twenty essays is therefore on the elements of filmic narration and their presumed aesthetic effects The editors are pleased to strengthen the link between film studies and psychology in the interest of gaining tangible insight into the ancient mystery of the link between art and aesthetic experience

Ecocinema Theory and Practice Stephen Rust, Salma Monani, Sean Cubitt, 2013 This is an anthology that offers a comprehensive introduction to the rapidly growing field of eco film criticism a branch of critical scholarship that investigates cinema's intersections with environmental understandings

Psychocinematics Arthur P. Shimamura, 2014-02-15 Largely through trial and error filmmakers have developed engaging techniques that capture our sensations thoughts and feelings Philosophers and film theorists have thought deeply about the nature and impact of these techniques yet few scientists have delved into empirical analyses of our movie experience or what Arthur P Shimamura has coined psychocinematics This edited volume introduces this exciting field by bringing together film theorists philosophers psychologists and neuroscientists to consider the viability of a scientific approach to our movie experience Cinematic Narration and its Psychological Impact Peter Wuss,2009-03-26 Film provides experience potential Contemporary cognitive psychology gives the opportunity to define this impact on the film spectators mind in regard to different aspects of cognition imagination and emotion Proceeding from these positions this book considers a number of practical issues of cinematic narration with which filmmakers theorists and cineastes are frequently confronted What is storytelling and how may we objectify the regularities to be found at work in different modes of narration in the fiction film among them structural principles of art cinema which are often experienced on a level beneath conscious reception What is the role of the element of conflict in the process of narration and what are the effects that the representation of conflict situations on the screen has on the viewers emotions How can we define cinematic tension and also suspense and how does each influence the disposition of the audience What constitutes a reality effect in fiction films and how can it vary in different modes of storytelling How are a given protagonists dreams fantasies and play behaviour integrated both into the course of narrative events and into the development of the spectator s imageries and ideas And finally How do film genres work on a psychological level Providing a theoretical framework for further empirical research the book outlines a differentiated model for analysing key devices of cinematic narration in view of their impact on the spectators mind The Routledge Encyclopedia of Film Theory Edward Branigan,Warren Buckland,2013-12-04 The Routledge Encyclopedia of Film Theory is an international reference work representing the essential ideas and concepts at the centre of film theory from the beginning of the twentieth century to the beginning of the twenty first When first encountering film theory students are often confronted with a dense interlocking set of texts full of arcane terminology inexact formulations sliding definitions and abstract generalities The Routledge Encyclopedia of Film Theory challenges these first impressions by aiming to make film theory accessible and open to new readers Edward Branigan and Warren Buckland have commissioned over 50 scholars from around the globe to address the difficult formulations and propositions in each theory by reducing these difficult formulations to straightforward propositions The result is a highly accessible volume that clearly defines and analyzes step by step many of the fundamental concepts in film theory ranging from familiar concepts such as Apparatus Gaze Genre and Identification to less well known and understood but equally important concepts such as Alain Badiou s Inaesthetics Gilles Deleuze s Time Image and Jean Luc Nancy s Evidence The Routledge Encyclopedia of Film Theory is an ideal reference book for undergraduates of film studies as well as graduate students new to the discipline Embodied Metaphors in Film, Television, and Video Games Kathrin Fahlenbrach,2015-10-05 In cognitive research metaphors have been shown to help us imagine complex abstract or invisible ideas concepts or emotions Contributors to this book argue that metaphors occur not only in language but in audio visual media well This is all the more evident in entertainment media which strategically sell their products by addressing their viewers immediate reflexive understanding through pictures sounds and language This volume applies cognitive metaphor theory CMT to film television and video games in order to analyze the embodied aesthetics and meanings of those moving images

Freudian Fadeout Arij Ouweneel, 2012-08-07 In Western culture the psychoanalysis that has guided popular psychology for almost a century is now on the retreat Better equipped with proven results cognitive and evolutionary psychology has driven psychoanalysis out of the spotlight In cultural and film studies however the debate between cognitive sciences and psychoanalysis remains contentious This volume explores this state of things by examining criticism of 18 films juxtaposing them with cognitive based films to reveal the flaws in the psychoanalytical concepts It pays particular attention to simulation theory the concept that narratives learned from films could work in human minds as simulations for solutions to particular problems By introducing the idea of narrative stimulation to film studies this work argues for a different method of film critique encouraging further research into this nascent field

Enacting the Worlds of Cinema Steffen Hven, 2022 Enacting the Worlds of Cinema offers a substantial reconfiguration of the textual roots of modern film narratology By giving sustained attention to cinema's material affective modes of communicating its stories and embedding its audience in atmospheric kinetic and multisensorial worlds this book maintains that film narratives are less representations than they are enactments brought forth through the interactions of the felt body and the film material The book defends this enactive and media anthropological thesis by reworking a series of established film narratological key concepts including the diegesis mood atmosphere and the distinction between diegetic and non diegetic sound In the process this book draws on a wide range of contemporary theoretical resources such as affective neuroscience media philosophy philosophy of mind atmosphere research multisensory perception theory as well as a broad selection of films including Berlin Symphony of a Great City Ruttmann 1927 The Cranes are Flying Kalatozov 1957 and Happy as Lazzaro Rohrwacher 2018

focuses on texts that address the other arts from painting to photography from the stage to the screen and from avant garde experiments to mass culture Despite their diversity of object and approach the essays in Relational Designs coalesce around the argument that representations are defined by relations and dynamics rather than intrinsic features This rationale is supported by the discourses and methodologies favoured by the book s contributors their approaches offer a cross section of the intellectual and critical environment of our time The book illustrates the critical possibilities that derive from the broad range of modes of inquiry poststructuralist criticism gender studies postcolonial studies new historicism that the book s four sections bring to bear on a wealth of intermedial practices But Relational Designs compounds such critical emphases with the voice of the practitioner the book is rounded off by an interview in which a contemporary novelist discusses her attraction to the other arts in terms that extend the book s insights and bridge the gap between academic discourse and artistic practice The Extended Theory of Cognitive Creativity Antonino Pennisi,Alessandra Falzone,2019-09-25 This edited volume focuses on the hypothesis that performativity is not a property confined to certain specific human skills or to certain specific acts of language nor an accidental enrichment due to creative intelligence Instead the executive and motor component of cognitive behavior should be considered an intrinsic part of the physiological functioning of the mind and as endowed with self generative power Performativity in this theoretical context can be defined as a constituent component of cognitive processes The material action allowing us to interact with reality is both the means by which the subject knows the surrounding world and one through which he experiments with the possibilities of his body This proposal is rooted in models now widely accepted in the philosophy of mind and language in fact it focuses on a space of awareness that is not in the individual or outside it but is determined by the species specific ways in which the body acts on the world This theoretical hypothesis will be pursued through the latest interdisciplinary methodology typical of cognitive science that coincide with the five sections in which the book is organized Embodied enactivist philosophical approaches Aesthetics approaches Naturalistic and evolutionary approaches Neuroscientific approaches Linguistics approaches This book is intended for linguists philosophers psychologists cognitive scientists scholars of art and aesthetics performing artists researchers in embodied cognition especially enactivists and students of the extended mind Embodiment, Enaction, and Culture Christoph

Durt, Thomas Fuchs, Christian Tewes, 2017-04-14 The first interdisciplinary investigation of the cultural context of enactive embodiment offering perspectives that range from the neurophilosophical to the anthropological Recent accounts of cognition attempt to overcome the limitations of traditional cognitive science by reconceiving cognition as enactive and the cognizer as an embodied being who is embedded in biological psychological and cultural contexts Cultural forms of sense making constitute the shared world which in turn is the origin and place of cognition This volume is the first interdisciplinary collection on the cultural context of embodiment offering perspectives that range from the neurophilosophical to the anthropological The book brings together new contributions by some of the most renowned scholars in the field and the latest results from up and coming researchers The contributors explore conceptual foundations drawing on work by Husserl Merleau Ponty and Sartre and respond to recent critiques They consider whether there is something in the self that precedes intersubjectivity and inquire into the relation between culture and consciousness the nature of shared meaning and social understanding the social dimension of shame and the nature of joint affordances They apply the notion of radical enactive cognition to evolutionary anthropology and examine the concept of the body in relation to culture in light of studies in such fields as phenomenology cognitive neuroscience psychology and psychopathology Through such investigations the book breaks ground for the study of the interplay of embodiment enaction and culture Contributors Mark Bickhard Ingar Brinck Anna Ciaunica Hanne De Jaegher Nicolas de Warren Ezequiel Di Paolo Christoph Durt John Z Elias Joerg Fingerhut Aikaterini Fotopoulou Thomas Fuchs Shaun Gallagher Vittorio Gallese Duilio Garofoli Katrin Heimann Peter Henningsen Daniel D Hutto Laurence J Kirmayer Alba Montes Sanchez Dermot Moran Maxwell J D Ramstead Matthew Ratcliffe Vasudevi Reddy Zuzanna Ruci ska Alessandro Salice Glenda Satne Heribert Sattel Christian Tewes Dan Zahavi Emotion in Animated Films

Figure and Force in Animation Aesthetics Ryan Pierson, 2020 How can we describe movements in animated films In Figure and Force in Animation Aesthetics Ryan Pierson introduces a powerful new method for the study of animation By looking for figures arrangements that seem to intuitively hold together and forces underlying units of attraction repulsion and direction Pierson reveals startling new possibilities for animation criticism history and theory Drawing on concepts from Gestalt psychology Pierson offers a wide ranging comparative study of four animation techniques soft edged forms walk cycles camera movement and rotoscoping as they appear in commercial artisanal and avant garde works In the process through close readings of little analyzed films Pierson demonstrates that figures and forces make fertile resources for theoretical speculation unearthing affinities between animation practice and such topics as the philosophy of mathematics scientific and political revolution and love Beginning and ending with the imperative to look closely Figure and Force in Animation Aesthetics is a performance in seeing the world of motion anew

Kinematic Rhetoric Joddy Murray, 2020-04-24 Joddy Murray in Kinematic Rhetoric puts forward a theory of rhetoric that adds the elements of movement sound image affect and duration to traditional accounts of digital visual and multimodal rhetorics His concept of time affect images provides a complex and nuanced theory for composing that builds upon his earlier concept of nondiscursive texts By turning to Deleuze's work on cinema Murray presents the time affect image which generates and amplifies affectivity through duration and motion and is the key concept in this rhetorical theory Motion he argues creates meaning that is independent of the content and like all images carries with it the potential for persuasion through the affective domain
