Manual of Style the undisputed authority for style usage and grammar In this age of searchable text the need for an index made with human input is sometimes questioned But a good index can do what a plain search cannot It gathers all the substantive terms and subjects of the work sorts them alphabetically provides cross references to and from related terms and includes specific page numbers or other locators or for electronic formats direct links to the text This painstaking intellectual labor serves readers of any longer work whether it is searchable or not For searchable texts an index provides insurance against fruitless queries and unintended results In a word a good index makes the text more accessible Most book indexes must be assembled swiftly between the time page proofs are issued and the time they are returned to the typesetter usually
