Notes on the People of Siwah and El Garah in the Libyan Desert Walter Buchanan Cline, 1936 Notes on the People of Siwah and El Garah in the Libyan Desert Walter Cline, 1936 Siwa Margaret M. Vale, 2015-01-01 Siwa is a remote oasis deep in the heart of the Egyptian desert near the border with Libya Until an asphalt road was built to the Mediterranean coast in the 1980s its only links to the outside world were by arduous camel tracks As a result of this isolation Siwa developed a unique culture manifested in its crafts of basketry pottery and embroidery and in its styles of costume and silverwork The most visible and celebrated example of this was the silver jewelry that was worn by women in abundance at weddings and other ceremonies Based on conversations with women and men in the oasis and with reference to old texts this book describes the jewelry and costume at this highpoint of Siwan culture against the backdrop of its date gardens and springs social life and dramatic history It places the women s jewelry costume and embroidery into social perspective and describes how they were used in ceremonies and everyday life and how they were related to their beliefs and attitudes to the world The book also describes how in the second half of the twentieth century the arrival of the road and of television brought drastic change and the oasis was exposed to the styles and fashions of the outside world and how the traditional silver ornaments were gradually replaced by gold Many Faces Of Homosexuality: Anthropological Approaches To Homosexual Evelyn Blackwood, 2019-08-22 This groundbreaking book examines the diverse manifestations of homosexuality in various historical periods and non Western cultures The distinguished authors examine Kimam male ritualized homosexual behavior Mexican homosexual interaction in public contexts male homosexuality and spirit possession in Brazil and much more The Construction of Homosexuality David F. Greenberg, 2008-10-29 At various times homosexuality has been considered the noblest of loves a horrible sin a psychological condition or grounds for torture and execution David F Greenberg s careful encyclopedic and important new book argues that homosexuality is only deviant because society has constructed or defined it as deviant The book takes us over vast terrains of example and detail in the history of homosexuality Nicholas B Dirks New York Times Book Review Islamic Homosexualities Stephen O. Murray, Will Roscoe, 1997-02 The first anthropological collection that reveals patterns of male and female homosexuality in the Muslim World The dramatic impact of Islamic fundamentalism in recent years has skewed our image of Islamic history and culture Stereotypes depict Islamic societies as economically backward hyper patriarchal and fanatically religious But in fact the Islamic world encompasses a great diversity of cultures and a great deal of variation within those cultures in terms of gender roles and sexuality The first collection on this topic from a historical and anthropological perspective Homosexuality in the Muslim World reveals that patterns of male and female homosexuality have existed and often flourished within the Islamic world Indeed same sex relations have until quite recently been much more tolerated under Islam than in the Christian West Based on the latest theoretical perspectives in gender studies feminism and gay studies Homosexuality in the Muslim World

includes cultural and historical analyses of the entire Islamic world not just the so called Middle East Essays show both age stratified patterns of homosexuality as revealed in the erotic and romantic poetry of medieval poets and gender based patterns in which both men and women might to varying degrees choose to live as members of the opposite sex The contributors draw on historical documents literary texts ethnographic observation and direct observation by both Muslim and non Muslim authors to show the considerable diversity of Islamic societies and the existence of tolerated gender and sexual variances

Desert Borderland Matthew H. Ellis, 2018-03-20 Desert Borderland investigates the historical processes that transformed political identity in the easternmost reaches of the Sahara Desert in the half century before World War I Adopting a view from the margins illuminating the little known history of the Egyptian Libyan borderland the book challenges prevailing notions of how Egypt and Libya were constituted as modern territorial nation states Matthew H Ellis draws on a wide array of archival sources to reconstruct the multiple layers and meanings of territoriality in this desert borderland Throughout the decades a heightened awareness of the existence of distinctive Egyptian and Ottoman Libyan territorial spheres began to develop despite any clear cut boundary markers or cartographic evidence National territoriality was not simply imposed on Egypt's western or Ottoman Libya's eastern domains by centralizing state power Rather it developed only through a complex and multilayered process of negotiation with local groups motivated by their own local conceptions of space sovereignty and political belonging By the early twentieth century distinctive Egyptian and Libyan territorial domains emerged what would ultimately become the modern nation states of Egypt and Libya
