The Environmental Unconscious in the Fiction of Don DeLillo Elise A. Martucci, 2007 This book presents an ecocritical reading of DeLillo's novels in an attempt to mediate between the seemingly incompatible influences of postmodernism and environmentalism Martucci argues that although DeLillo is responding to and engaging with a postmodern culture of simulacra and simulation his novels do not reflect a postmodernist theory of the end of nature Rather his fiction emphasizes the lasting significance of the natural world and alerts us to the dangers of destroying it In order to support this argument Martucci examines DeLillo's novels in the context of traditional American literary representations of the environment especially through the lens of Leo Marx's discussion of the conflict between technology and nature found in traditional American literature She demonstrates that DeLillo's fiction explores the way in which new technologies alter perceptions and mediate reality to a further extent than earlier technologies however she argues that he keeps the material world at the forefront of his novels thereby illuminating the environmental implications of these technologies Through close readings of

Americana The Names White Noise and Underworld and discussions of postmodernist and ecocritical theories this project engages with current criticism of DeLillo postmodernist fiction and environmental criticism The Westminster Dictionary of New Testament and Early Christian Literature and Rhetoric David Edward Aune,2003-01-01 The Westminster Dictionary of New Testament and Early Christian Literature and Rhetoric details the variety of literary and rhetorical forms found in the New Testament and in the literature of the early Christian church This authoritative reference source is a treasury for understanding the methods employed by New Testament and early Christian writers Aune s extensive study will be of immense value to scholars and all those interested in the ways literary and rhetorical forms were used and how they functioned in the early Christian world This unique and encyclopedic study will serve generations of scholars and students by illuminating the ways words shaped the consciousness of those who encountered Christian teachings A Multicultural Dictionary of Literary Terms Gary Carey,Mary Ellen Snodgrass,2024-10-14 What is a corrido What is the difference between a tanka a choka and a renga What does it mean when you re doing the dozens What is a Bildungsroman This dictionary of literary terms provides the student scholar librarian or researcher with definitions explanations and models of the styles and forms of works of literature Along with novel tone tragedy and scansion are haiku noh griot and other terms that derive from works long undervalued by the literary world The examples come from a very broad field of authors reflecting a spirit of inclusion of all people races and literary traditions The editors have elected to quote from literary examples that students are likely to have read and to which they most readily relate for instance Angelou s I Know Why the Caged Bird Sings was preferred over a work such as Paradise Lost which fewer students have read and understand Included is a listing of poets laureate to the Library of Congress literature winners of the Pulitzer and Nobel prizes Booker McConnell Prize winners a time line of world literature and an index A Companion to Literary Theory David H. Vlachos,2009-01-01 First Corinthians 15 56 The sting of death is sin and the power of sin is the law is both puzzling and neglected It is puzzling since there appears to be no precursor in 1 Corinthians to the law critical statement found there It is neglected because of its size Nevertheless the short verse offers the opportunity to analyze in a rudimentary state Paul s law sin notion that appears full blown in Romans and the absence of a polemical setting allows scholars to examine a law critical statement issued during a polemical lull In The Law and Knowledge of Good and Evil Vlachos weighs attempts to explain the presence of 1 Cor 15 56 in 1 Corinthians and argues that the Genesis Fall narrative where the tempter plied his seductions by way of the commandment provides the theological substructure to Paul s understanding of the law s provocation of sin In doing so Vlachos contends that Paul reaches the historical high water mark of his polemic against the salvific efficacy of the law by locating a law sin nexus in Eden and contrary to some recent perspectives on Paul he argues that the edenically informed axiom in 1 Cor 15 56 suggests that Paul s fundamental concern with the law was rooted in primordial rather than ethnic soil While studies of Paul and the law have tended to bypass Eden The Law and Knowledge of Good and Evil breaks ground by moving the argument beyond Second Temple Judaism to the Genesis Fall account where the prohibition against partaking of the knowledge of good and evil led to the knowledge of sin The Coding Manual for Qualitative Researchers Johnny Saldana,2012-10-04 The Second Edition of Johnny Salda a s international bestseller provides an in depth guide to the multiple approaches available

Vanishing Voices Katarzyna Dudek,2020-01-15 The nature of silence is hard to grasp This book serves to systematize this concept and explore it in the works of three major poets of religious experience namely Gerard Manley Hopkins T S Eliot and R S Thomas Since these poets worked within a Christian framework the silences they refer to are mainly those emerging in the context of the relationship between God and man in a post Christian climate The book s textual analyses place special attention on the dynamics between thematic and structural manifestations of silence and are situated at the crossroads of the poetics philosophy and theology In this first study bringing together the poetry of Hopkins Eliot and Thomas the three poets each in his unique way emerge as poetic ministers practitioners and producers of silence who try to find a new language to talk about the Ineffable God and one s experience of the divine
