Politics And Modernity History Of The Human Sciences Special Issue:

Gender and Political Culture in Early Modern Europe, 1400-1800 James Daybell, Svante Norrhem, 2016-07-01 Gender and Political Culture in Early Modern Europe investigates the gendered nature of political culture across early modern Europe by exploring the relationship between gender power and political authority and influence This collection offers a rethinking of what constituted politics and a reconsideration of how men and women operated as part of political culture It demonstrates how underlying structures could enable or constrain political action and how political power and influence could be exercised through social and cultural practices The book is divided into four parts diplomacy gifts and the politics of exchange socio economic structures gendered politics at court and voting and political representations each of which looks at a series of interrelated themes exploring the ways in which political culture is inflected by questions of gender In addition to examples drawn from across Europe including Austria the Dutch Republic the Italian States and Scandinavia the volume also takes a transnational comparative approach crossing national borders while the concluding chapter by Merry Wiesner Hanks offers a global perspective on the field and encourages comparative analysis both chronologically and geographically As the first collection to draw together early modern gender and political culture this book is the perfect starting point for students exploring this fascinating topic

Social Research and Reflexivity Tim May, Beth Perry, 2011 What are the critical gaps in thinking about reflexivity and social research How is reflexive practice shaped by the contexts and cultures in which researchers work How might research practice respond to twin demands of excellence and relevance in the knowledge based economy Thinking reflexively about the inter relationships between social research and societal practices is all the more important in the so called knowledge economy Developing reflexive practices in social research is not achieved through applying a method Where and how researchers work is fundamental in shaping the capacities and capabilities to produce research as content and context lie in a dynamic interaction This book not only provides a history of reflexive thought but its consequences for the practice of social research and an understanding of the contexts in which it is produced It provides critical insights into the implications of reflexivity through a discussion of positioning belonging and degrees of epistemic permeability in disciplines It is also highly innovative in its suggestions for ways forward in research practice through the introduction of active intermediaries Overall the book offers an exciting new position on reflexive research that will generate much debate through its successful achievement of two difficult feats providing essential reading for orientations on reflexivity and social research in the twenty first century and making a landmark contribution to thinking and practice in the field Social Research and Reflexivity is suitable for advanced undergraduates postgraduates and social researchers in general across a number of disciplines including geography social research management and organizations economics urban studies sociology social policy anthropology and politics as well as science and technology studies

Situating Social Theory May, Tim, Powell, Jason, 2008-08-01 This edition examines the implications of recent developments challenges and disputes that have become important to debates in social theory including new commentaries on key authors It also explores the extent to which how we situate social theory may need re examining Politics and Modernity Irving Velody, Robin Williams, 1993-01-29 Politics and Modernity provides a critical review of the key interface of contemporary political theory and social theory about the questions of modernity and postmodernity Review essays offer a broad ranging assessment of the issues at stake in current debates Among the works reviewed are those of William Connolly Anthony Giddens Jürgen Habermas Alasdair MacIntyre Richard Rorty Charles Taylor and Roy Bhaskar As well as reviewing the contemporary literature the contributors assess the historical roots of current problems in the works of Nietzsche and Max Weber

Unhastening Science Dick Pels, 2003-01-01 This book offers a new account of what makes science special among other human pursuits critically engaging with a variety of approaches especially constructivist and relativist studies of science and technology It focuses on the studied lack of haste of science its relative freedom from stress and its socially sanctioned withdrawal from the swift pace of ordinary life Unhastening Science offers a balanced and thoughtful argument which emphasizes the dangers of cossetting science from the scourge of internal competition while at the same time highlighting the need for distance between the process of scientific thought and the faster machinery of politics business sports and the media Political Epistemology Pietro Daniel Omodeo, 2019-10-14 This book is an investigation of the ideological dimensions of the disciplinary discourses on science in line with the scholarly tradition of historical epistemology It offers a programmatic treatment of the political epistemological problematic along three entangled lines of inquiry socio historical epistemological and historiographical The book aims for a meta level integration of the existing scholarship on the social and cultural history of science in order to consider the ways in which struggles for hegemony have constantly informed scientific discourses This problematic is of primary relevance for scholars in Science Studies philosophers historians and sociologists of science but would also be relevant for anybody interested in scientific culture and political theory The Origins of the Bible and Early Modern Political Thought Travis DeCook, 2021-03-18 Explores the cultural functions played in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries by accounts of the Bible s origins Invisible Labour in Modern Science Jenny Bangham, Xan Chacko, Judith Kaplan, 2022-09-01 Invisible Labour in Modern Science is about the people who are concealed eclipsed or anonymised in accounts of scientific research Many scientific workers including translators activists archivists technicians curators and ethics review boards are absent in publications and omitted from stories of discovery Scientific reports are often held to ideals of transparency yet they are the result of careful judgments about what and what not to reveal Professional scientists are often celebrated yet they are expected to uphold principles of objective self denial The emerging and leading scholars writing in this book negotiate such silences and omissions to reveal how invisibilities have shaped twentieth and twenty first century science Invisibility can be unjust it can also be powerful What is invisible to whom and when does this matter How do power structures built on hierarchies of race gender class and nation frame what can be seen And for those observing science When does the recovery of the invisible serve social justice and when does it invade privacy Tackling head on the silences and dilemmas that can haunt historians this book transforms invisibility into a guide for exploring the moral sensibilities and politics of science and its history The Humanities and the Modern Politics of Knowledge Anders Ekström, Hampus Östh Gustafsson, 2025-10-01 This book addresses the shifting status of the humanities through a national case study spanning two centuries The societal function of the humanities is considered from the flexible perspective of knowledge politics in order to historicize notions of impact and intellectual organization that tend to be taken for granted The focus on modern Sweden enables an extended but still empirically coherent historical analysis inviting critical comparisons with the growing literature on the history of the humanities from around the world In the Swedish case the humanities were instrumental to the construction of modern societal institutions political movements and professional education in the second half of the 19th century while in the 20th century the sense of future making shifted towards science and medicine and later technology and economy The very rationale of the humanities was thus put under pressure as their social contract required novel negotiations Their state and connections to society were nevertheless of a complex and ambiguous character as is demonstrated by this volume whose contributions explore the many faces and places of the modern humanities

Rousseau, the Age of Enlightenment, and Their Legacies Robert Wokler, 2012 Robert Wokler was one of the world's leading experts on Rousseau and the Enlightenment but some of his best work was published in the form of widely scattered and difficult to find essays This book collects for the first time a representative selection of his most important essays on Rousseau and the legacy of Enlightenment political thought These essays concern many of the great themes of the age including liberty equality and the origins of revolution But they also address a number of less prominent debates including those over cosmopolitanism the nature and social role of music and the origins of the human sciences in the Enlightenment controversy over the relationship between humans and the great apes These essays also explore Rousseau's relationships to Rameau Pufendorf Voltaire and Marx reflect on the work of important earlier scholars of the Enlightenment including Ernst Cassirer and Isaiah Berlin and examine the influence of the Enlightenment on the twentieth century One of the central themes of the book is a defense of the Enlightenment against the common charge that it bears responsibility for the Terror of the French Revolution the totalitarian regimes of the twentieth century and the Holocaust Intentional Invisibilization in Modern Asian History: Concealing and Self-Concealed Agents Mònica Ginés-Blasi, 2025-03-03 Scholars from the humanities and social sciences have repeatedly faced the challenge of writing history beyond the constraints and frameworks set by grand narratives and established historiographies This book addresses the intentional invisibilization and concealment of people knowledge and ideas in historiography both by historians and by the historical actors themselves as an object of study It does so through the lens of Asian bondage and dependency in modern and contemporary history This collective work focuses on concealment self concealment and invisibility to analyze the asymmetrical agency involved in the act of hiding someone or something from being inscribed in the record and the social marginalization involved in this process With studies ranging from imperial colonial and postcolonial history language and translation studies as well as digital archival sciences the authors in this book examine ways in which concealment serves as a strategic tool for exercising power and shaping the flow of information Consequently this volume urges a fresh awareness of narrative construction encouraging humanities researchers to think creatively and to historicize independently of dominant narratives

Max Weber At 100 Joshua Derman, Peter E. Gordon, 2025 This article explores Max Weber's reasons for claiming that morally exemplary ideas with some regularity produce the unwanted result of highly dubious ethical consequences The diagnosis of such normative paradoxes is Weber's attempt to refute the optimistic philosophies of history with their own tools If the philosophy of the Enlightenment assumed that bold progressive ideas could steer the world toward improvement Weber sought to demonstrate that the opposite was true once such ideas became historically effective there was a certain inevitability with which they produced evil and social harm It will be shown that Weber thought he could justify this thesis by demonstrating that it is ultimately the givens of human nature that stand in the way of any linear and faithful realization of morally well intentioned ideas and even cause them to be transformed into their opposites

Visualising Ethnicity in the Southwest Borderlands Jing Zhu, 2020-01-29 This book explores the mutual constitutions of visibility and empire from the perspective of gender probing how the lives of China's ethnic minorities at the southwest frontiers were translated into images Two sets of visual materials make up its core sources the Miao album a genre of ethnographic illustration depicting the daily lives of non Han peoples in late imperial China and the ethnographic photographs found in popular Republican era periodicals It highlights gender ideals within images and develops a set of visual grammar of depicting the non Han Casting new light on a spectrum of gendered themes including femininity masculinity sexuality love body and clothing the book examines how the power constructed through gender helped to define order popularise celebrate and imagine possessions of empire

Refiguring the Archive Carolyn Hamilton, 2002-12-31 Refiguring the Archive at once expresses cutting edge debates on the archive in South Africa and internationally and pushes the boundaries of those debates It brings together prominent thinkers from a range of disciplines mainly South Africans but a number from other countries Traditionally archives have been seen as preserving memory and as holding the past The contributors to this book question this orthodoxy unfolding the ways in which archives construct sanctify and bury pasts In his contribution Jacques Derrida an instantly recognisable name in intellectual discourse worldwide shows how remembering can never be separated from forgetting and argues that the archive is about the future rather than the past Collectively the contributors demonstrate the degree to which thinking about archives is embracing new realities and new possibilities The book expresses a confidence in claiming for archival discourse previously unentered terrains It serves as an early manual for a time that has already begun

Feminist Imagination Vikki Bell, 1999-11-28 Reading feminist theory as a complex imaginative achievement Feminist Imagination considers feminist commitment through the interrogation of its philosophical political and affective connections with the past and especially with the race trials of the twentieth century The book looks at the directionlessness of contemporary feminist thought the question of essentialism and embodiment the racial tensions in the work of Simone de Beauvoir the totalitarian character in Hannah Arendt the mimetic Jew and the concept of mimesis in the work of Judith Butler Vikki Bell provides a compelling rethinking of feminist theory as bound up with attempts to understand oppression outside a focus on women She affirms femini Tradition through Modernity Pertti J. Anttonen, 2005-02-06 In their study of social practices deemed traditional scholars tend to use the concept and idea of tradition as an element of meaning in the practices under investigation But just whose meaning is it Is it a meaning generated by those who study tradition or those whose traditions are being studied In both cases particular criteria for traditionality are employed whether these are explicated or not Individuals and groups will no doubt continue to uphold their traditional practices or refer to their practices as traditional While they are in no way obliged to explicate in analytical terms their criteria for traditionality the same cannot be said for those who make the study of traditions their profession In scholarly analysis traditions need to be explained instead of used as explanations for apparent repetitions and replications or symbolic linking in social practice values history and heritage politics This book takes a closer look at tradition and folklore in order to conceptualize them within discourses on modernity and modernism The first section discusses modern and traditional as modern concepts and the study of folklore as a modern trajectory The underlying tenet here is that non modernity cannot be represented without modern mediation which therefore makes the representations of non modernity epistemologically modern The second section focuses on the nation state of Finland and the nationalistic use of folk traditions in the discursive production of Finnish modernity and its Others The insights are applicable worldwide in discussions on cultural representation

C. Wright Mills and the Sociological Imagination John Scott, Ann Nilsen, 2013-11-29 With renowned international contributors and expert contributions from a range of specialisms this book will appeal to academics students and researchers of sociology

Rule by Numbers U. Kalpagam, 2014-08-20 This book examines aspects of the production of statistical knowledge as part of colonial governance in India using Foucault's ideas of governmentality The modern state is distinctive for its bureaucratic organization official procedures and accountability that in the colonial context of governing at a distance instituted a vast system of recordation bearing semblance to and yet differing markedly from the Victorian administrative state The colonial rule of difference that shaped liberal governmentality introduced new categories of rule that were nested in the procedures and records and could be unraveled from the archive of colonial governance Such an exercise is attempted here for certain key epistemic categories such as space time measurement classification and causality that have enabled the constitution of modern knowledge and the social scientific discourses of economy society and history The different chapters engage with how enumerative technologies of rule led to proliferating measurements and classifications as fields and objects came within the purview of modern governance rendering both statistical knowledge and also new ways of acting on objects and new discourses of governance and the nation The postcolonial implications of colonial governmentality are examined with respect to both planning techniques for attainment of justice and the role of information in the constitution of neoliberal subjects The Making of the Human Sciences in China Howard Chiang, 2019-05-07

This volume provides a history of how the human has been constituted as a subject of scientific inquiry in China from the seventeenth century to the present Organized around four themes Parameters of Human Life Formations of the Human Subject Disciplining Knowledge and Deciphering Health it scrutinizes the development of scientific knowledge and technical interest in human organization within an evolving Chinese society Spanning the Ming Qing Republican and contemporary periods its twenty four original synthetic chapters ground the mutual construction of China and the human in concrete historical contexts As a state of the field survey a definitive textbook for teaching and an authoritative reference that guides future research this book pushes Sinology comparative cultural studies and the history of science in new directions

Fishers and Scientists in Modern Turkey Ståle Knudsen, 2009 Through the ethnography and history of fish production seafood consumption state modernizing policies and marine science this book analyzes the role of local knowledge in the management of marine resources on the Eastern Black Sea coast of Turkey Fishing science and other ways of knowing and relating to fish and the sea are analyzed as particular ways of life conditioned by history ideology and daily practice The approach adopted here allows for a broader analysis of the role knowledge plays in the management of common pool resources CPR than is provided in much of the contemporary CPR debate that tends to have a somewhat narrow focus on institutions and rules By contrast the author argues that also local knowledge and the larger historical and ideological context of production as manifest in state modernization policies and consumption patterns should be taken into account when trying to explain the current management regime in Turkish Black Sea fisheries
