Politics And Policy Implementation In The Third World:

Politics and Policy Implementation in the Third World Merilee S. Grindle, Politics and Policy Implementation in the Third World Merilee S. Grindle, 2017-03-14 This book addresses the broader questions of how both the content and the context of public policy affect its implementation Through a series of case studies from Mexico Peru Brazil Colombia Zambia Kenya and India ten scholars here demonstrate that numerous factors intervene between the statement of policy goals and their actual achievement in society Originally published in 1980 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 Handbook of Administrative Reform Jerri Killian, Niklas Eklund, 2008-02-21 The field of public administration currently lacks sufficient resources for understanding the rationale implications and inherent practices of reforming government administration around the world The Handbook of Administrative Reform satisfies this need by bringing together diverse international experts to analyze the sensible processes an Clientelism and Implementing Social Security Programmes in Post-conflict Iraqi Kurdistan Region Muslih Irwani, 2015-10-19 Clientelism and Implementing Social Security Programmes in Post conflict Iraqi Kurdistan Region investigates social policy in a politically less developed entity and examines the mainstream top down and bottom up models of policy implementation in light of a detailed study of the Kurdistan Regional Government In addition it introduces the innovative clientelistic model of policy implementation a political and preferential tool which utilises a public nationalistic dichotomy in social welfare provision The book argues that politicians in the Kurdistan region deal with social policy programmes according to their political preferences attaching importance to policies on the basis of the way they feel about those social programmes and interest groups concerned As such as it stands policy implementation is subject to interference by politicians and high government officials under the pretext of supporting and monitoring the way such policy is implemented Through an investigation of the most prominent actors in the implementation of social security programmes this book demonstrates how beneficiaries of these programmes can themselves become focal points in the implementation process Indeed within the Kurdistan Regional Government s social policy context today the benefits of social security schemes are being distributed based on the socio political status of recipients not on their socio economic conditions and needs Managing Development In The Third World Coralie Bryant, 2019-05-20 This is the first text to focus on the problems and processes involved in organizing implementing and managing programs and projects aimed at relieving poverty and underdevelopment in the Third World During the 1970s there was a shift in development assistance programs toward a greater concern for equity and the basic needs of the poor The auth Housing in the Third World Leslie

Women At Work In The Gulf Munira A. Fakhro, 2013-10-28 First published in 1990 This book grew out of a dissertation written during 1983-86 and is an analysis of the social policies needed to facilitate women's entry into the labour force Pushing the need and recognition that it is essential now for Gulf women to move beyond their domestic activities by taking an active role and by providing leadership to ensure that they have access to the opportunities and benefits of economic development The tables presented here are entirely new in the sense that data were selected from 1941-81 censuses Other statistics were drawn from different sources reflecting developments during the 1980s

Uneven Development in the Third World A. Bhalla, 1996-11-26 The book defines uneven development in terms of development strategies and their outcomes Drawing on case studies from China and India three types of strategy are discussed heavy industrialisation sectoral regional balance and economic liberalisation Also three kinds of outcomes are examined growth of output and productivity income consumption and class inequalities in three spatial dimensions intra regional inter regional and rural urban Furthermore access to and utilisation of technology health and educational services are compared

Learning From China? Bernhard Glaeser, 2013-09-05 First published in 1987 this volume was written to shed some light upon the nature and environmental consequences and wider relevance of development strategies in the Peoples Republic of China It covers industrialisation food production energy use and landscape and settlement planning The Chinese autocentred strategy is assessed from both the developmental and the environmental viewpoints Decision making processes and the opportunities to implement environmental policy in other parts of the developing world are analysed and the volume concludes with the view that benefits to other countries are likely to arise out of increased co operation and exchange with China although the Chinese model is by no means a panacea All students and researchers interested in either environmental or developmental issues will find this book to be a substantial and enlightening contribution to literature

The Autocrat's Predicament Timothy R. Heath, 2023-11-03 In their quest for national revival China's leaders under Xi

Jinping have sought to improve the economy's performance. The disappointing economic record of authoritarian regimes provides ample grounds for doubt yet not all have failed. Why have some succeeded where most did not? The theory of the enabling condition highlights the central role that politics plays in the pursuit of economic advancement. The theory explains that a political situation characterized by a strong central leadership, weak elite opposition and a united public offers favorable prospects for enacting concentrated growth policies. This arrangement enables the central leadership to enlist the public in convincing elites to implement policies that they might otherwise resist. Focusing on the experience of single party authoritarian regimes, The Autocrat's Predicament: The Political Peril of Economic Upgrade in Single Party Authoritarian Regimes examines episodes in the histories of the People's Republic of China, Taiwan and the Soviet Union. It concludes that China's unfavorable political situation could be potentially unfriendly for its ambitions to build an efficient, highly productive economy.

Beyond the Impasse Frans J Schuurman, 1993. Development theory in the past decade has met with increasingly heavy criticism. Dependency theories as well as modes of production and world system approaches have come to be considered as internally inconsistent and inadequate for explaining the increasing diversity and unevenness of the Third World. This book confronts the theoretical impasse which many feel has been reached. Development scholars from various disciplines review recent changes in research priorities, procedures and orientations and detect the emergence of new and diverse lines of theoretical development in the field. In particular, they deal with the important meta-theoretical, political, cultural and ethical questions that have come to the fore.

Perspectives on Kurdistan's Economy and Society in Transition Serwan M.J. Baban, Alan Dilani, Almas Heshmati, 2014-10-16. The second scientific World Kurdish Congress was held in October 2012 at Hewler with the theme of improving the quality of life, science and culture for progress in Kurdistan. The papers presented focused on various important aspects of culture, economy, education, health, industry and political science in Kurdistan. The objective of this conference was to create a network of academicians to exchange and develop knowledge and work together with the Kurdistan Regional Government on how to further enhance the progress within the Kurdish society. This volume is a collection of 26 studies presented at the Congress and includes an introduction by the editors and a summary report of the Congress. The topics presented here are diverse, covering several areas pertinent to the current Kurdish situation. The studies are divided into ten areas: namely, agriculture and rural development, diaspora, education and research, health and quality of life, industry, information technology and e-government, infrastructure and development, language, human rights and politics. In the last part of the volume, the organization committee provides a compilation of recommendations from the Congress to the Kurdistan Regional Government.
