Religious Life Diarmuid O'Murchu, Diarmuid Ó Murchú, 1991      Religious Life Loan Le, 2016-06-22 Following the Second Vatican Council when each Religious Institute was encouraged to research its charism some Institutes experienced a tension between their charism and their mission or even difficulty identifying what their charism was This book is a study of the theological understanding of charism and of mission in relation to Religious Life within the Catholic Church While this topic has featured in much Roman Catholic theological literature since Vatican II there appears to be a dearth of in depth studies This book addresses this apparent lacuna It draws particularly on the work of two major theologians Jean Marie Roger Tillard OP and Sandra Marie Schneiders IHM who have reflected at length on charism and mission in the period leading up to Vatican II and on the implementation of its documents with respect to Religious Life The very significant contributions of Tillard and Schneiders on the topic provide Religious as well as others who want to know and understand Religious Life with an interesting and motivating insight into charism and mission in Religious Life Within the Roman Catholic Church a Year of Consecrated Life has just drawn to a close and this book forms a background and a response to Pope Francis Apostolic Letter to all Consecrated People on the occasion of the Year of Consecrated Life November 2014 which invited Religious to reflect on these aspects that are essential to the life they have chosen to live      Green Sisters Sarah McFarland Taylor, 2009-09-15 Listen to a short interview with Sarah McFarland Taylor Host Chris Gondek Producer Heron building alternative housing structures and hermitages from renewable materials adopting the green technology of composting toilets solar panels fluorescent lighting and hybrid vehicles and turning their community properties into land trusts with wildlife sanctuaries Green Sisters gives us a firsthand understanding of the practice and experience of women whose lives bring together Catholicism and ecology orthodoxy and activism traditional theology and a passionate mission to save the planet As green sisters explore ways of living a meaningful religious life in the face of increased cultural diversity and ecological crisis their story offers hope for the future and for a deeper understanding of the connections between women religion ecology and culture      A Concert of Charisms Paul Kevin Hennessy, 1997 Essays that take various approaches to the tensions that have arisen since Vatican II concerning the original mission and charisms of a religious order and today's actual situations of living within a parish      Female Faith Practices Nicola Slee, Dawn Llewellyn, Kim Wasey, Lindsey Taylor-Guthartz, 2023-08-01 This book explores female faith practices drawing on qualitative research to consider how women navigate and create spiritual and religious practices The chapters cover Christian Muslim Jewish and Buddhist contexts as well as newer spiritual movements The contributors examine prayer and ritual practices and familial educational and ritual spaces and relationships in a variety of cultural settings The volume reflects on the ways in which women subvert traditional or patriarchal religious practices and spaces both problematising and expanding existing notions of religious practice It also touches on research itself as a form of spiritual and academic practice considering ways in which women challenge androcentric modes of research as well as ways in which the subject of research in this case female faith may challenge the researcher's convictions and practice. Blending case studies with empirical research, this book will be an outstanding resource to theologians and researchers interested in Practical Theology, Gender Studies, Sociology of Religion and Anthropology. Forthcoming Books Rose Arny, 1992 Dominican Women Kathleen Boner, 2000 The Publishers Weekly, 1991 Mary in Our Search for Fullness of Life, 2006. Callen, 2017-06-27 Barry Callen is a church theologian in the finest sense. In this book he once again brings the commitments nurtured by Pietist, Anabaptist and Wesleyan theological streams into conversation with the issues and debates in contemporary church life and with the most formative voices in contemporary theology. The result is a convincing reminder that Christian teachings about ultimate things, eschatology, are much more concerned with providing hope and direction for living faithfully in our present settings than they are with providing timetables for the future. His exposition of the role of the church and sacrament in nurturing such hope is particularly helpful. Randy L. Maddox, Professor of Wesleyan and Methodist Studies, Duke University Divinity School. In a day when fanciful end-times speculations abound, the church does well to give heed to voices that call us back to the fundamentals of biblical eschatology. Barry Callen is such a voice. As he so forcefully declares, rather than focusing on dates and times, God calls us to be faithful in the meantime. Stanley J. Grenz, Professor Emeritus of Theology, Ethics, Baptist Heritage, Carey Theological College and Regent College. The doctrine of last things is important because faith would be empty if it could not hope for the coming of the kingdom of God. What we have in eschatology are not so much secrets about the future as images of God's final purposes which are meant to impact our every action and judgment. Here we have, thanks to Barry Callen, a responsible, informed, interesting and up-to-date account of our blessed hope. Clark H. Pinnock, Professor Emeritus of Theology, McMaster Divinity College. Today's Parish, 1990 The Cumulative Book Index, 1991. A world list of books in the English language Hope in Times of Crisis Marina Ngursangzeli Behera, Michael Biehl, Risto Jukko, Kenneth R. Ross, 2025-06-06. The early twenty-first century has dashed hopes for a more peaceful, harmonious and prosperous world order as many societies have been plunged into conflict and living conditions for many have become ever more precarious. The crisis is compounded by the advance of damaging climate change that jeopardizes the future of life on earth. Where can the imagination be found to meet such an unprecedented crisis? This book mines one hundred years of ecumenical reflection on mission, affirming the strengths of this tradition. It does so in a spirit of metanoia, repentance, recognizing that churches and missions were often complicit in trends that have proved to be damaging. At the same time, it draws on elements of renewal in thinking about mission, cherishing of life, environmental responsibility, action for justice, deepening of spirituality, working from a basis in ecumenical Christianity to make common cause with people of all faiths and convictions who share similar concerns While the book is unflinching in confronting the injustice and destructiveness of the prevailing world order its final message is one of hope proposing that a retrieval and renewal of the ecumenical vision holds the promise of a brighter future     Subject Guide to Books in Print ,1997
