Foster, 1987-05-29 What is the precise relationship between the writer of a text and the reader Contributions to reader response theory have suggested that the reader is relatively passive In this 1987 text Professor Foster argues that the relationship is more complex than that readers enter into complicity with writers and create the illusion of the writer s mastery over meaning in order to imagine themselves as masters and become writers in their own place This dynamic model of the reading process is revealed most tellingly in confessional narratives and so Professor Foster explores the complex patterns of the reader writer symbiosis in texts by Augustine Kierkegaard Henry James Hawthorne Faulkner and Beckett What emerges is a fresh theory of reading literature the engagement between writer and reader as a struggle for power in which the reader is actively complicit and self conscious in his or her interpretations Harper's New Monthly Magazine ,1868 The Book of Halloween Ruth Edna Kelley,2025-09-25 A fascinating journey tracing the origins of one of our most enduring holidays from the ancient Celtic festival of Samhain through its transformation under Roman and Christian influences As one of the earliest books devoted entirely to Halloween this work reveals the origins of many cherished customs From bonfires illuminating the Autumnal nights to mischievous costumes and fortune telling games Ruth Edna Kelley sheds light on the cultural and historical significance of beloved traditions First published in 1919 The Book of Halloween remains an essential read for all those curious about the spirited past of October's most magical night The Elegies of Propertius Sextus Propertius, The Good News of the Return of the King Michael T.
