Private Health Sector Growth In Asia Issues And Implications:

Private Health Sector Growth in Asia William Newbrander, 1997-08-21 At the end of the twentieth century Asia is in the middle of an economic political and social transformation Many countries are poised to enter the next century on a rising curve of rapid economic growth and human resource development Despite an increasing proportion of national income devoted to health government resources are not sufficient to maintain existing health systems meet increased demand and improve the quality of care Attitudes about the role of government in financing health care services have also changed As a result many countries in Asia have adopted a strategy of encouraging the expansion of the private health sector in health This book describes these policy shifts and the health sector reform issues in the countries of the region The actual process of change in six countries India Indonesia Korea the Philippines Thailand and Vietnam is also documented This collection of papers by eleven leading international experts was prepared for the Asian Development Bank's Second Regional Conference on Health Sector Reform Issues Related to Private Sector Growth held in Manila in 1996 Management Sciences for Health commissioned these papers and managed the conference for the ADB The ADB is a regional multilateral development bank with 58 member countries which provided development assistance through loans and grants to 36 countries in Asia and the Pacific Management Sciences for Health is a non profit organization dedicated to helping health care policy makers and managers develop and implement practical strategies to meet the challenges faced by the public and private sectors of health systems

China: Bioethics, Trust, and the Challenge of the Market J. Tao Lai Po-wah, 2008-07-08 to the Moral Challenges H Tristram Engelhardt Jr and Aaron E Hinkley 1 Taking Finitude Seriously in a Chinese Cultural Context Across the world health care policy is a moral and political challenge Few want to die young or to suffer yet not all the money in the world can deliver physical immortality or a life free of suffering In addition health care needs differ As a result unless a state coercively forbids those with the desire and means to buy better basic health care to do so access to medicine will be unequal No country can afford to provide all with the best of care In countries such as China there are in addition stark regional differences in the quality and availability of health care posing additional challenges to public policy making Further in China as elsewhere the desire to lower morbidity and mortality risks has led to ever more resources being invested in health care When such investment is supported primarily by funds derived from taxation an increasing burden is placed on a country's economy This is particularly the case as in China with its one child policy where the proportion of the elderly population consuming health care is rising These policy challenges are compounded by moral diversity Defacto humans do not share one morality Instead they rank cardinal human goods and right making conditions in different orders often not sharing an affirmation of the same goods or views of the right

Hong Kong's Health System Gabriel M. Leung, John Bacon-Shone, 2006-01-01 This book provides a significant contribution to the discussions about the future of the system The evidence driven content draws from the deep expertise and experience of a wide spectrum of contributors who represent virtually all relevant areas of the health system Establishing Private Health Care Facilities in Developing Countries Seung-Hee Nah, Egbe Osifo-Dawodu, 2007 This book is a practical guide for medical professionals with little or no business experience who are interested in establishing health care facilities in developing countries It is an introduction to the kinds of basic research and planning required to identify viable solutions and reduce the risk of failure Social Policy in East and Southeast Asia M. Ramesh, 2004-08-02 Social Policy in East and South East Asia provides the first systematic comparison of the policy sectors of income maintenance health housing and education in Hong Kong South Korea Singapore and Taiwan It focuses particularly on the provision and financing arrangements of these four Asian newly industrialized economies and their outcomes in terms of adequacy efficiency and equity drawing on extensive primary research carried out by the author Locating the importance of Asian social policies in the wake of the recent financial crisis in the region this work provides a comprehensive analysis of the different types of welfare state in contemporary Asia Medicine and the Market Daniel Callahan, Angela A. Wasunna, 2006-05-22 Outstanding Academic Title for 2007 Choice Magazine Much has been written about medicine and the market in recent years This book is the first to include an assessment of market influence in both developed and developing countries and among the very few that have tried to evaluate the actual health and economic impact of market theory and practices in a wide range of national settings Tracing the path that market practices have taken from Adam Smith in the eighteenth century into twenty first century health care Daniel Callahan and Angela A Wasunna add a fresh dimension they compare the different approaches taken in the market debate by health care economists conservative market advocates and liberal supporters of single payer or government regulated systems In addition to laying out the market versus government struggle around the world from Canada and the United States to Western Europe Latin America and many African and Asian countries they assess the leading market practices such as competition physician incentives and co payments for their economic and health efficacy to determine whether they work as advertised This timely and necessary book engages new dimensions of a development that has urgent consequences for the delivery of health care worldwide

Getting Health Reform Right Marc J. Roberts, 2008 This book provides a multi disciplinary framework for developing and analyzing health sector reforms based on the authors extensive international experience It offers practical guidance useful to policymakers consultants academics and students alike and stresses the need to take account of each country s economic administrative and political circumstances The authors explain how to design effective government interventions in five areas financing payment organization regulation and behavior to improve the performance and equity of health systems around the world The Ethico-Legal Medical Education: A Cure For Malpractices In India Dr. N. Kishor kumar Patnaik, The book on The Ethico Legal Education and Medical Mal Practices in India has emanated from the research work of the Author was a culmination of the emotional feelings of the Author and lifetime experiences he gained from his personal life to professional practice Author is a graduate in Science stream with Biology life sciences as his subjects in the graduate course curriculum The Author's personal relationship with his elder brother Dr N Ashok Kumar Patnaik as on today is a practicing cardiologist at USA having his very thicker blood relationship and he is much indebted to the support his brother provided for in his personal life and professional legal practice The Author right from his childhood days was well attached to the studies of his brother and till date remembers what are the subjects his brother studied in the course of M B B S The Author has encountered of agony with the death of the sister of his wife Rajani Patnaik was victimized and lost her life for the reasons of callous medical misadventures in the hands of half knowing nascent doctor who was engaged in a private hospital did administered a wrong fatal injection Then the Author felt the agony of the parents of the victim and to teach lessons to the hospital and the half knowledge treating doctor through the legal approach was questioned for her misconduct in the consumer forum and ultimately the truth of Medical negligence was established though the same was dragged up to Supreme Court of India In this background the Author was much exposed to the Medical Science and the Law pertinent to Medical Negligence and his personal feelings were involved for getting the justice of the similarly situated victims of India The doctor's do commit the crime which is unabated and therefore victims have no know how to deal with such misconducts of treating doctors who are made scot free for reasons of want of checks and balances in the legal mechanism for bringing them to Book of Law So with all these perceptions and knowledge the Author gained through the practice and make them know the know how of the Mechanism of the Medical Negligence which will be helpful not only to the victims but also to educate the treating doctors to make them aware of the practice of medicine along with the ethical approach and on failure the provisions of book of law which will make them to face the consequences of their wrong doings
