The Myth of Christian Beginnings Robert L. Wilken, 2009-05-04 In this challenging and vividly written book Dr Wilken shows that there never was a golden age in the Christian past Christian hope did not come to fulfillment in the age of apostles nor in the time of

Constantine nor in the Middle Ages nor during the Reformation nor in the revivals of the 19th century nor in the movements of renewal in our own time The history of Christianity is a story of imperfection and fragmentation but also a history of hoping and striving for an end that cannot be seen yet bears on the present With lively examples from the Christian past Wilken shows that change has been an abiding feature of Christian tradition Often those who proposed new ways of thinking and acted in unexpected ways turned out to be more faithful than those who repeated the old formulas As much as the past may give specificity and concreteness to renewal in the present Christian hope is set on things that are yet to be Seasons of Worship Steven D. Brooks,2024-01-11 Seasons of Worship A Spiritual Calendar for the Church Today emphasizes the transformative power of observing the Christian year It provides an overview of the key components of the Christian year along with their biblical historical and theological foundations The book offers practical resources to aid in planning programming and implementing worship opportunities based on the Christian year enriching the corporate worship experiences of congregations and fostering spiritual growth among worshipers Postmodern, Marxist, and Christian Historical Novels Lynne W. Hinojosa,2022-06-15 Postmodern Marxist and Christian Historical Novels Hope and the Burdens of History argues historical novels can help readers receive the burdens of history meaning both the burdens of the past present and future and the burden of living in time and develop a more robust conception of and concrete practice of hope Since the 1960s historical novels have been a dominant literary genre but they have been influenced primarily not by Christian but by postmodern and marxist thinkers and writers This book provides a theological and literary analysis of all three types of historical novels postmodern marxist and Christian and outlines what each school of thought can learn from each other regarding historical understanding and hope Using J rgen Moltmann s theology of hope and Frank Kermode s literary criticism as a theoretical basis the book offers readings of novels by Julian Barnes A S Byatt Kazuo Ishiguro Margaret Atwood Michael Ondaatje Ian McEwan and Ursula LeGuin among others and ends with an extended analysis of Marilynne Robinson s Gilead series Christian Identity Borght,2008-07-31 In this age of globalization a need for a communicative explanation of personal and group positions also motivates Christians to describe more precisely their identity in relation to other actors in society What makes a Christian a Christian What is specifically Christian in social actions or political calling Is there a difference between Christian justice and justice in general and the way Christians deal with justice What is our calling as Christians The contributions in this volume are the result of the 6th biannual IRTI conference in Seoul 2005 on this theme Christian Identity International Reformed Theological Institute. International Conference,2008 The volume offers contributions reflecting the understanding of Christian identity in the midst of changing cultural socio economic political and religious context in a globalized world The Spiritual Practice of Remembering Margaret Bendroth,2013-11-11 We often dismiss history as dull or irrelevant but our modern disengagement from the past puts us fundamentally out of step with the long witness of the Christian tradition Yet says Margaret Bendroth the past tense is essential to our language of faith and without it our conversation is limited and thin This accessible beautifully written book presents a new argument for honoring the past The Christian tradition gives us the powerful image of a vast communion of saints all of God s people both living and dead in vital conversation with each other This kind of connection with our ancestors in the faith Bendroth maintains will not happen by wishing or by accident She argues that remembering must become a regular spiritual practice part of the rhythm of our daily lives as we recognize our world to be in many ways a gift from others who have gone before
