The Renaissance in Europe Margaret L. King, 2003 The Renaissance is usually portrayed as a period dominated by the extraordinary achievements of great men rulers philosophers poets painters architects and scientists Leading scholar Margaret King recasts the Renaissance as a more complex cultural movement rooted in a unique urban society that was itself the product of many factors and interactions commerce papal and imperial ambitions artistic patronage scientific discovery aristocratic and popular violence legal precedents peasant migrations famine plague invasion and other social factors Together with literary and artistic achievements therefore today's Renaissance history includes the study of power wealth gender class honour shame ritual and other categories of historical investigation opened up in recent years Tracing the diffusion of the Renaissance from Italy to the rest of Europe Professor King marries the best work of the last generation of scholars with the findings of the most recent research including her own Ultimately she points to the multiple ways in which this seminal epoch influenced the later development of Western culture and society

The Invention of Art Larry Shiner, 2001-09 Larry Shiner challenges our conventional understandings of art and asks us to reconsider its history entirely arguing that the category of fine art is a modern invention and that the lines drawn between art and craft emerged only as the result of key European social transformations during the long eighteenth century
