Making Meaning Eric Gould, 1989 Intensifying Classroom Routines in Reading and Writing Programs Michael P. Ford, 2017-06-15 Three common routines are seen in almost every primary language arts programs morning messages shared readings and word walls These routines should be integrated to support the total language arts program but are teachers of grades K 2 getting the most bang for their buck out of these activities Morning messages can become very routinized and repeat the same experiences over and over again Shared readings are sometimes conducted with little variation in spite of changing demands from the texts being used and changing needs in the learners with whom they are being used Word walls might be put up with some attention early in the year and remain virtually unchanged as the year moves forward Intensifying Classroom Routines in Reading and Writing Programs focuses on how teachers can get more instructional mileage out of these three common classroom routines Author Michael P Ford lays out step by step day by day plans to put those three key routines on a cycle that changes as students move through developmental phases This resource helps teachers plan for emergent and early readers and writers It also looks at how teachers can assist students as they move through critical areas including concepts of print alphabetic knowledge phonological awareness sound symbol relationships high frequency words structural analysis context clues comprehension strategies and composition strategies With these intensified routines in place students will clearly see connections between reading and writing Writing and Reading Connections Zoi A. Philippakos, Steve Graham, 2022-10-13 Writing skills are essential for success in the 21st century school and workplace but most classrooms devote far more time to reading instruction with writing often addressed in isolation or excluded In this insightful professional development resource and text leading researchers discuss why and how to integrate writing and reading instruction in grades K 12 and beyond Contributors explore how to harness writing reading connections to support learning in such areas as phonics and spelling vocabulary understanding genre and text structure and self regulated strategy development as well as across content areas and disciplines Special considerations in teaching emergent bilingual students and struggling literacy learners are described User friendly features include guiding questions classroom examples and action questions that help teachers translate the research and concepts into practice An NCTQ Exemplary Text for Reading Instruction Readings for Reflective Teaching in Schools Andrew Pollard, 2014-02-27 Readings for Reflective Teaching in Schools provides a portable library of over a hundred readings to support teacher education and professional development Extensively updated since earlier editions the book concisely introduces both classic and contemporary research and understanding on teaching and learning The selection reflects current issues and concerns in education and has been designed to support school led teacher education as well as a wide range of school university partnership arrangements Uniquely two types of reading are provided summaries enabling easy access to evidence on key classroom issues including relationships behaviour curriculum planning teaching strategies and assessment processes analyses of deeper forms of understanding about teaching and learning processes to support the development of expertise throughout a teaching career This collection of readings is edited by Andrew Pollard former Director of the UK s Teaching and Learning Research Programme with the advice of primary and secondary specialists from the University of Cambridge Readings for Reflective Teaching in Schools is part of a fully integrated set of resources for primary and secondary education Reflective Teaching in Schools focuses on how to achieve high quality teaching and learning By design it offers both practical support for effective practice and routes towards deeper expertise The website reflectiveteaching.co.uk offers supplementary resources including reflective activities research briefings advice on further reading and additional chapters It also features a glossary links to useful websites and a conceptual framework for deepening expertise This book is one of the Reflective Teaching Series inspiring education through innovation in early years schools further higher and adult education Making Meaning Marilyn Narey,2008-11-07 Making Meaning is a synthesis of theory research and practice that explicitly presents art as a meaning making process This book provokes readers to examine their current understandings of language literacy and learning through the lens of the various arts based perspectives offered in this volume provides a starting point for constructing broader multimodal views of what it might mean to make meaning and underscores why understanding arts based learning as a meaning making process is especially critical to early childhood education in the face of narrowly focused test driven curricular reforms Each contributor integrates this theory and research with stories of how passionate teachers teacher educators and pre service teachers along with administrators artists and professionals from a variety of fields have transcended disciplinary boundaries to engage the arts as a meaning making process for young children and for themselves

Connecting Reading & Writing in Second Language Writing Instruction Alan Hirvela,2004-08-20 Academic writing often requires students to incorporate material from outside sources like statistics ideas quotations paraphrases into their own written texts a particular obstacle for students who lack strong reading skills In Connecting Reading and Writing in Second Language Instruction Alan Hirvela contends that second language writing students should be considered as readers first and advocates the integration of reading and writing instruction with a survey of theory research and pedagogy in the subject area Although the integrated reading writing model has gained popularity in recent years many teachers have little more than an intuitive sense of the connections between these skills As part of the popular Michigan Series on Teaching Multilingual Writers Connecting Reading and Writing in Second Language Instruction will provide invaluable background knowledge on this issue to ESL teachers in training as well as teachers who are already practicing Digital Reading and Writing in Composition Studies Mary R. Lamb,Jennifer M. Parrott,2019-03-13 As digital reading has become more productive and active the lines between reading and writing become more blurred This book offers both an exploration of collaborative reading and pedagogical strategies for teaching reading and writing that reflect the realities of digital literacies This edited scholarly collection offers strategies for teaching reading and writing that highlight the possibilities opportunities and complexities of digital literacies Part 1 explores reading and writing that happen digitally and offers frameworks for thinking about this process Part 2 focuses on strategies for the classroom by applying reading theories design principles and rhetorical concepts to instruction Part 3 introduces various disciplinary implications for this blended approach to writing instruction What is emerging is new theories and practices of reading in both print and digital spaces theories that account for how diverse student readers encounter and engage digital texts This collection contributes to this work by offering strategies for sustaining reading and cultivating writing in this landscape of changing digital literacies The book is essential for the professional development of beginning teachers who will appreciate the historical and bibliographic overview as well as classroom strategies and for busy veteran teachers who will gain updated knowledge and a renewed commitment to teaching an array of literacy skills It will be ideal for graduate seminars in composition theory and pedagogy both undergraduate and graduate and teacher education courses and will be key reading for scholars in rhetoric and composition interested in composition history assessment communication studies and literature pedagogy
