Primrose Past:

Primrose Past Caroline Rose Hunt, 2000-12-26 Primrose Past recreates with rare authenticity and engaging spirit the diary of a young girl growing up in Victorian England a time of simple manners and values when life was lived slowly and morals were passed on from generation to generation through homilies and by example The young lady of the story fifteen years of age in 1848 the year of the journal narrates in a fresh and endearing voice a year in the life of a Victorian family offering a window into the lifestyle of the time along the way she even includes recipes for dishes she learns from the family cook over the course of the year authentic 19th century recipes the author discovered in the course of her research But the story deceptively simple at first soon takes on an air of suspense as her parents leave on a journey and her father writes with the news that her mother has taken gravely ill soon thereafter the little girl identified only by the nickname cygnet or young swan in the diary finds a letter among her mother's belongings leading her to question her own parentage The text of the journal is framed by a present day narrative in Caroline's own voice detailing the discovery of the actual diary and Caroline's own attempts to discover the truth behind this enigmatic story full flowering of human potential A woman with a past Louise Berens,1886 Downward Mobility Katherine Binhammer,2020-04-28 How do the stories we tell about money shape our economies Beginning in the late eighteenth century as constant growth became the economic norm throughout Europe fictional stories involving money were overwhelmingly about loss Novel after novel tells the tale of bankruptcy and financial failure of people losing everything and ending up in debtor s prison of inheritances lost and daughters left orphaned and poor In Downward Mobility Katherine Binhammer argues that these stories of ruin are not simple tales about the losers of capitalism but narratives that help manage speculation of capital s inevitable collapse Bringing together contemporary critical finance studies with eighteenth century literary history Binhammer demonstrates the centrality of the myth of downward mobility to the cultural history of capitalism and to the emergence of the novel in Britain Deftly weaving economic history and formal analysis Binhammer reveals how capitalism requires the novel s complex techniques to render infinite economic growth imaginable She also explains why the novel s signature formal developments owe their narrative dynamics to the contradictions within capital s form Combining new archival research on the history of debt with original readings of sentimental novels including Frances Burney s Cecilia and Camilla Sarah Fielding s David Simple and Oliver Goldsmith s The Vicar of Wakefield Downward Mobility registers the value of literary narrative in interpreting the complex sequences behind financial capitalism especially the belief in infinite growth that has led to current environmental crises An audacious epilogue arms humanists with the argument that in order to save the planet from unsustainable growth we need to read more novels A Woman with a Past. A Novel Louise Berens,1886 Restaging the Past Angela Bartie,Linda Fleming,Mark Freeman,Alexander Hutton,Paul Readman,2020-08-17 Restaging the Past is the first edited collection devoted to the study of historical pageants in Britain ranging from their Edwardian origins to the present day Across Britain in the twentieth century people succumbed to pageant fever Thousands dressed up in historical costumes and performed scenes from the history of the places where they lived and hundreds of thousands more watched them These pageants were one of the most significant aspects of popular engagement with the past between the 1900s and the 1970s they took place in large cities small towns and tiny villages and engaged a whole range of different organised groups including Women s Institutes political parties schools churches and youth organisations Pageants were community events bringing large numbers of people together in a shared celebration and performance of the past they also involved many prominent novelists professional historians and other writers as well as featuring repeatedly in popular and highbrow literature Although the pageant tradition has largely died out it deserves to be acknowledged as a key aspect of community history during a period of great social and political change Indeed as this book shows some traces of pageant fever remain in evidence today Mothers, Mammies and Old Maids Axel Nissen,2014-01-10 Continuing the exploration which began in Actresses of a Certain Character Forty Familiar Hollywood Faces from the Thirties to the Fifties McFarland 2006 this companion volume analyzes the contributions of female supporting players in the films of Hollywood's Golden Age. The twenty-five actresses profiled herein range from the easily recognizable Marie Dressler, Ethel Waters to the long forgotten Esther Howard, Evelyn Varden and from the prolific Clara Blandick, Mary Forbes to the one work wonders Jane Cowl, Queenie Vassar. Each profile captures the essence of the individual performer's on-screen persona, unique talents and popular appeal with special emphasis on a single definitive performance of the actress's motion picture career who for example could ever forget Josephine Hull in Harvey. The appendix offers a list of The 100 Top Performances by Character Actresses in Hollywood 1930-1960. All My/Our Pain and Suffering Michael Milo Faff, 2019-05-18. This book is a combination of many small booklets written over the last fifteen years. And a few central themes weave their way through the book. Memories is one of those themes. What are they? We all have them but what are they and how do we make them? And how real are they? Reality is another theme that tugs at my imagination. Where is it? I will be answering the following questions: Why do you have the personality you do? Can you change your personality? How was your belief system formed? Can you change your beliefs? How did you manifest the world you have? And can you manifest a different world? What makes you who you are? And if you don't like it can you change who you are? Don't be shy come along. Maybe you will find a new way of experiencing life. Maybe you will find a new way of being in the world. Or maybe you will find a new world. Rumpole and His Rivals Peter Robson, 2025-02-15. Rumpole and His Rivals examines comic legal fiction and the role it plays in the public's understanding of the legal system. The work focuses on the writings of eight lawyer authors over the past century and traces the different approaches taken in this form of comedic literature. Over sixty comic legal fiction books have been published in Britain between 1924 and 2024 with the desire of their authors not only to entertain but to inform, educate and create a valuable resource for anyone seeking to understand how and why the rule of law and legal profession have garnered the current reputation and level of confidence which they have. Old Penn, 1913. International Molders' Journal, 1922. 1001 Walks in Britain Automobile Association (Great Britain), 2004-04. Walks of 2 to 10 miles in every corner of Britain. The Cyclopaedia of Practical Quotations, English and Latin Jehiel Keeler Hoyt, 1886. The Cyclopaedia of Practical Quotations, 1883. Bram Stoker Carol A. Senf, 2010-11-01. This study of Bram Stoker focuses on Stoker as a Gothic writer. Identified with Dracula, Stoker is largely responsible for taking the Gothic away from medieval castles and placing it at the center of modern life. The study examines Stoker's contribution to the modern notion of Gothic and thus to the history of popular culture and demonstrates that the excess generally associated with the Gothic is Stoker's way of examining the social, economic and political problems. His relevance today is his depiction of problems that continue to haunt us at the beginning of the twenty-first century. What makes the current study unique is that it privileges Stoker's use of the Gothic but also addresses that Stoker wrote seventeen other books plus numerous articles and short stories. Since a number of these works are decidedly not Gothic, the study puts his Gothic novels and short stories into the perspective of everything that he wrote. The creator of Dracula also wrote The Duties of Clerks of Petty Sessions in Ireland, a standard reference work for clerks in the Irish civil service as well as The Man and Lady Athlyne two delightful romances Furthermore Stoker was fascinated with technological development and racial and gender development at the end of the century as well as in supernatural mystery Indeed the study demonstrates that the tension between the things that can be explained rationally and the things that cannot is important to our understanding of Stoker as a Gothic writer Temple Bar ,1904
