Gissing, 2004-06 I am busy with the hawkweeds that is to say I am learning to distinguish and to name as many as I can For scientific classification I have little mind it does not happen to fall in with my habits of thought but I like to be able to give its name the trivial by choice to every flower I meet in my walks Why should I be content to say Oh it s a hawkweed

The Private Papers of Henry Ryecroft George Gissing, 2020-03-21 For more than a week my pen has lain untouched I have written nothing for seven whole days not even a letter Except during one or two bouts of illness such a thing never happened in my life before In my life the life that is which had to be supported by anxious toil the life which was not lived for living s sake as all life should be but under the goad of fear The earning of money should be a means to an end for more than thirty years I began to support myself at sixteen I had to regard it as the end itself

George Gissing, 2020-05-21 The exquisite quiet of this room I have been sitting in utter idleness watching the sky viewing the shape of golden sunlight upon the carpet which changes as the minutes pass letting my eye wander from one framed print to another and along the ranks of my beloved books Within the house nothing stirs In the garden I can hear singing of birds I can hear the rustle of their wings And thus if it please me I may sit all day long and into the profounder quiet of the night My house is perfect By great good fortune I have found a housekeeper no less to my mind a low voiced light footed woman of discreet age strong and deft enough to render me all the service I require and not afraid of solitude She rises very early By my breakfast time there remains little to be done under the roof save dressing of meals Very rarely do I hear even a clink of crockery never the closing of a door or window Oh blessed silence The Private Papers of Henry Ryecroft Henry
