Reinventing Early Care and Education Sharon L. Kagan, Nancy E. Cohen, 1996-11-22 By the year 2000 all children in America will start school ready to learn For five years this has been our number one educational goal yet today s children are not receiving the early care and education services that they deserve and the nation needs to reach this goal Reinventing Early Care and Education edited by two leading thinkers in the field provides not only the necessary vision but a working blueprint for policy reform and program development Reinventing Early Care and Education defines the essential elements of a quality system and suggests innovative strategies for improving pedagogy and practice in family child care homes and early childhood centers It also offers alternative approaches to finance and governance and discusses how communities can mobilize citizens and the media to gain support for social change A Vision for Universal Preschool Education Edward Zigler, Walter S. Gilliam, Stephanie M. Jones, 2006-07-10 Decades of research point to the need for a universal preschool education program in the U S to help give our nation s children a sound cognitive and social foundation on which to build future educational and life successes In addition to enhanced school readiness and improved academic performance participation in high quality preschool programs has been linked with reductions in grade retentions and school drop out rates and cost savings associated with a diminished need for remedial educational services and justice services This 2006 book brings together nationally renowned experts from the fields of psychology education economics and political science to present a compelling case for expanded access to preschool services They describe the social educational and economic benefits for the nation as a whole that may result from the implementation of a universal preschool program in America and provide guiding principles upon which such a system can best be founded New Teachers for a New Century Diane Horm-Wingerd, 2001-04 The SAGE Handbook of Early Childhood Policy Linda Miller, Claire Cameron, Carmen Dalli, Nancy Barbour, 2017-10-02 Recent authoritative evidence suggests that an estimated 200 million children under five fail to achieve their developmental potential due to factors including poor health and nutrition and the lack of stable high quality care A significant number of the world's children today lack the basic rights to health development and protection In light of such statistics early childhood services for young children have expanded around the world The SAGE Handbook of Early Childhood Policy draws critical attention to policy in Early Childhood Education and Care ECEC its relationship to service provision and its impact on the lives of children and families The perspectives of leading academics and researchers from Europe North America South America Africa Australasia and Asia have been arranged around five key themes Part 1 The Relationship Between Research Policy And Practice Country Case Studies Part 2 Equitable Early Childhood Services Intervention to Improve Children's Life Chances Part 3 Extending Practice The Role of Early Childhood Services In Family Support Part 4 Participation Rights and Diversity Part 5 Future Directions for Early Childhood Policy This handbook is essential reading for practitioners stakeholders and others committed to working within early years services to achieve an awareness of policy and its implications for services and practice
