Should I Have An Abortion:

What Roe V. Wade Should Have Said J. M. Balkin, 2005-08 Taking positions both for and against abortion 11 distinguished constitutional scholars rewrite the Supreme Court's opinions in this landmark case in light of 30 years of experience offering illuminating arguments that get to the heart of the case but making use only of sources available at the time of the original decision

Abortion, Motherhood, and Mental Health Ellie Lee, Whatever reproductive choices women make whether they opt to end a pregnancy through abortion or continue to term and give birth they are considered to be at risk of suffering serious mental health problems According to opponents of abortion in the United States potential injury to women is a major reason why people should consider abortion a problem On the other hand becoming a mother can also be considered a big risk This fine well balanced book is about how people represent the results of reproductive choices It examines how and why pregnancy and its various outcomes have come to be discussed this way The author's interest in the medicalization of reproduction its representation as a mental health problem first arose in relation to abortion There is a very clear contrast between the construction of women who have abortions implied by moralized argument against abortion and the construction that results when the case against abortion focuses on its effects on women's mental health Lee argues that claims that connect abortion with mental illness have been limited in their influence but this is not to suggest that they have not become a focus for discussion and have had no impact The limits to such claims about abortion do not by any means suggest limits to the process of the medicalization of pregnancy more broadly that is a process of demedicalization The final theme of Ellie Lee's book is the selective medicalization of reproduction Centering on the claim that abortion can create a post abortion syndrome the author examines the medicalization of the abortion problem on both sides of the Atlantic Lee points to contrasts in legal and medical dimensions of the abortion issue that make for some important differences but argues that in both the United States and Great Britain the post abortion syndrome claim constitutes an example of the limits to medicalization and the return to the theme of motherhood as a psychological ordeal Lee makes the case for looking to the social dimensions of mental health problems to account for and understand debates about what makes women ill Ellie Lee is research fellow in the Department of Sociology and Social Policy University of Southampton Highfield United Kingdom

Domestic Violence and Its Reverberations Mordecai Lipshitz, Ingrid Ekström, 2006 Domestic violence is control by one partner over another in a dating marital or live in relationship The means of control include physical sexual emotional and economic abuse threats and isolation Survivors face many obstacles in trying to end the abuse in their lives These obstacles include psychological and economic entrapment physical isolation and lack of social support challenges to religious and cultural values fear of social judgement threats and intimidation over custody or separation immigration status or disabilities and lack of viable alternatives Despite the vastness and power of these challenges most are able to overcome them because of increased public legal and health care awareness and improved community resources that enable survivors to rebuild their lives Domestic violence occurs in every culture country and age group It affects people from all socio economic educational and religious backgrounds and takes place in same sex as well as heterosexual relationships Women with fewer resources or greater perceived vulnerability girls and those experiencing physical or psychiatric disabilities or living below the poverty line are at even greater risk for domestic violence and lifetime abuse Children are also affected by domestic violence even if they do not witness it directly The book examines crucial issues in the field

The Complexity of Religious Inequality Melissa Wilde, 2021-04-27 Although scholars of religion acknowledge religion's deep interconnectedness with race and ethnicity in and occasionally class we nonetheless typically study religion as a factor that is independent from other social structures Likewise we rarely systematically examine class race or gender differences between or within religious groups This journal issue will highlight research that moves beyond these weaknesses by publishing papers that intentionally examine aspects of inequality as they relate to religion Papers that explore these connections historically or in contemporary times and internationally or locally are all encouraged

Reproduction, Childbearing and Motherhood Pranee Liamputtong, 2007 Although reproduction including infertility abortion childbearing and motherhood is a significant human experience its social meaning is shaped by the culture in which birthing women live Reproduction and its management therefore occur within the social and cultural context of the event As such reproductive beliefs and practices differ across social and cultural settings This book focuses on reproduction childbearing and motherhood In this volume the authors show that despite the modernisation of the society and advanced medical technology and knowledge in reproduction traditions continue to exert influence on how the women and their families manage their reproduction childbearing and motherhood in their societies

My Philosophy Dr. F.L. Nabie, 2022-04-08 My Philosophy Nature at Work By Dr F L Nabie Dr F L Nabie is from Sierra Leone West Africa He was born in a small town called Bamba which was comprised of a few houses all roofed with bamboo and walls built of sticks and mud at that time As a little boy it was a city for him because it was all he owned Nabie became the only one chosen out of a family of five to go to school a rather big deal This spurred his decision to come to the United States and to become a medical doctor so he could return home and care for his people and the sick However it did not work out this way His elementary school was the Roman Catholic school Sumbuya Lugbu Chieftdom Bo District and his high school was The Bo Government Secondary School in Bo After high school Nabie became a registered nurse and later a pharmacist in Connaught Hospital in the ministry of health inside the capital city of Freetown Sierra Leone In 1974 he traveled to the United States to attend St Augustine's college in Raleigh North Carolina where he graduated with a four year BS degree in pre med He has earned post graduate degrees as well and for many years while he was working on his graduate studies was driving taxis His career choices were to be a medical doctor or to be a writer if he could not get more medical education in addition to the education he received in Sierra

Leone A few years back Nabie was diagnosed with prostate cancer for which he had a surgical procedure and few years later fell sick again in 2018 with recurrent prostate cancer He is still taking cancer treatment and has not been able to work anymore physically He has worked in the past as a tax professional an enrolled agent representing taxpayers before the internal revenue service Nabie is married with four grown children two are currently married one in college the other in twelfth grade hoping to go to college next year He is currently retired and disabled with cancer and diabetes taking treatment for both

Economic Reforms and Fertility Behaviour Weiguo Zhang, 2013-12-19 Based on an intensive fieldwork in a southern Hebei village in northern China 1992 3 the author takes an institutional approach and focuses on the way deliberate Chinese state policies driven by new economic and social agendas since the late 1970s have impacted on marriage family relations and consequently on the way fertility trends have been adversely affected the study is also very much concerned with the human dimension and the way in which such social and economic changes are perceived and applied in a rural community The research presented in this study goes a long way to unravelling the puzzle concerning the reasons for a very rapid decline in Chinese fertility rates contrasting sharply with a very different fertility transition within western cultures

Beyond Choice Alexander Sanger, 2005-07-06 Thirty years after Roe v Wade the argument between pro choicers and pro lifers has reached stalemate Pro choice arguments haven't persuaded a comfortable majority that legal abortion is vital to our society nor addressed our moral qualms Younger people are less and less supportive of reproductive rights Since 1996 state legislatures have enacted nearly 300 pieces of anti choice legislation With Roe in jeopardy International Planned Parenthood Council Chair Alexander Sanger asks a simple but heretical question How many more pieces of anti choice legislation will it take to get the pro choice movement to rethink its approach to the issue In Beyond Choice Sanger explores the history of the reproductive rights movement to discover how it got stuck in its thinking and then provides a convincing new argument for the moral rightness of its cause He shows why it is vital to the health and survival of the human race that couples be able to have children or not when they choose why reproductive rights are just as important to men as to women and why in an era of new reproductive technologies completely unfettered choice is not morally defensible Beyond Choice is inspiring and important reading for women's rights advocates opinion leaders medical ethicists and anyone concerned to preserve our freedom to reproduce or not without government intervention
