Show Us Life Toward A History And Aesthetics Of The Committed Documentary:

'Show Us Life' Thomas Waugh, 1984 An absorbing anthology surveying some of the most exciting and exploratory films and filmmakers involved in the complex history of radical documentaries Timely and significant THE INDEPENDENT In addition to providing a masterful introduction Waugh begins each chapter with succinct lucid comments A valuable contribution to an understanding of documentary film and the rhetoric of social change QUARTERLY JOURNAL OF SPEECH

On Women's Films Ivone Margulies, Jeremi Szaniawski, 2019-07-25 On Women's Films looks at contemporary and classic films from emerging and established makers such as Maria Augusta Ramos Xiaolu Guo Val rie Massadian Lynne Ramsay Lucrecia Martel Rakhshan Bani Etemad Chantal Akerman or Claire Denis The collection is also tuned to the continued provocation of feminist cinema landmarks such as Chick Strand's Soft Fiction Barbara Loden's Wanda Valie Export's Invisible Adversaries Cecilia Mangini's Essere donne Attentive to minor moments to the pauses and the charge and forms bodies adopt through cinema the contributors suggest the capacity of women's films to embrace shape and question the world

Toward a Philosophy of the Documentarian Dan Geva, 2018-04-03 The theme of this book is the documentarian what the documentarian is and how we can understand it as a concept Working from the premise that the documentarian is a special extended sign the book develops a model of a quadruple sign structure for and of the documentarian growing out of enduring traditions in philosophy semiotics psychoanalysis and documentary theory Dan Geva investigates the intellectual premise that allows the documentarian to show itself as an extremely sophisticated creative and purposeful being in the world one that is both embedded in its own history and able to manifest itself throughout its entire documentary life project as a stand alone conceptual phase in the history of ideas The SAGE Handbook of Film Studies James Donald, Michael

Renov, 2008-04-16 Written by a team of veteran scholars and exciting emerging talents The SAGE Handbook of Film Studies maps the field internationally drawing out regional differences in the way that systematic intellectual reflection on cinema and film has been translated into an academic discipline It examines the conversations between Film Studies and its contributory disciplines that not only defined a new field of discourse but also modified existing scholarly traditions It reflects on the field's dominant paradigms and debates and evaluates their continuing salience Finally it looks forward optimistically to the future of the medium of film the institution of cinema and the discipline of Film Studies at a time when the very existence of film and cinema are being called into question by new technological industrial and aesthetic developments

Movie-Made America Robert Sklar, 2012-10-31 Hailed as the definitive work upon its original publication in 1975 and now extensively revised and updated by the author this vastly absorbing and richly illustrated book examines film as an art form technological innovation big business and shaper of American values Ever since Edison's peep shows first captivated urban audiences film has had a revolutionary impact on American society transforming culture from the bottom up radically revising attitudes toward pleasure and sexuality and at the same time cementing the myth of the American dream No book has measured film's impact more clearly or comprehensively than Movie Made America. This vastly readable and richly illustrated volume examines film as art form, technological innovation, big business, and cultural bellwether. It takes in stars from Douglas Fairbanks to Sly Stallone, auteurs from D.W. Griffith to Martin Scorsese and Spike Lee, and genres from the screwball comedy of the 1930s to the hard body movies of the 1980s to the independents films of the 1990s. Combining panoramic sweep with detailed commentaries on hundreds of individual films, Movie Made America is a must for any motion picture enthusiast.

Alanis Obomsawin Randolph Lewis, 2006-01-01 In more than twenty powerful films, Abenaki filmmaker Alanis Obomsawin has waged a brilliant battle against the ignorance and stereotypes that Native Americans have long endured in cinema and television. In this book, the first devoted to any Native filmmaker, Obomsawin receives her due as the central figure in the development of indigenous media in North America. Incorporating history, politics, and film theory into a compelling narrative, Randolph Lewis explores the life and work of a multifaceted woman whose career was flourishing long before Native films such as Smoke Signals reached the screen. He traces Obomsawin's path from an impoverished Abenaki reserve in the 1930s to bohemian Montreal in the 1960s, where she first found fame as a traditional storyteller and singer. Lewis follows her career as a celebrated documentary filmmaker, citing her courage in covering at great personal risk the 1991 Oka Crisis between Mohawk warriors and Canadian soldiers. We see how, since the late 1960s, Obomsawin has transformed documentary film, reshaping it for the first time into a crucial forum for sharing indigenous perspectives. Through a careful examination of her work, Lewis proposes a new vision for indigenous media around the globe: a cinema of sovereignty based on what Obomsawin has accomplished.

Collecting Visible Evidence Jane Gaines, Michael Renov, 1999 In documentary studies, the old distinctions between fiction and nonfiction no longer apply as contemporary film and video artists produce works that defy classification. Coming together to make sense of these developments, the contributors to this book effectively redefine documentary studies. They trace the documentary impulse in the early detective camera, in the reenactment of battle scenes from World War I, and in the telecast of the Nevada A Bomb test in 1949. Other topics include experiments in virtual reality, the crisis of representation in anthropology and video art, and documentary work that challenges the asymmetry of the postcolonial. Us/Them divide.

Story Movements Caty Borum Chattoo, 2020 Only a few years after the 2013 Sundance Film Festival premiere of Blackfish, an independent documentary film that critiqued the treatment of orcas in captivity, visits to SeaWorld declined, major corporate sponsors pulled their support, and performing acts canceled appearances. The steady drumbeat of public criticism, negative media coverage, and unrelenting activism became known as the Blackfish Effect. In 2016, SeaWorld announced a stunning corporate policy change: the end of its profitable orca shows. In an evolving networked era, social issue documentaries like Blackfish are art for civic imagination and social critique. Today's documentaries interrogate topics like sexual assault in the U.S. military, the Invisible War, racial injustice, 13th, government surveillance, Citizenfour, and more. Artistic nonfiction films are changing public conversations, influencing media

agendas mobilizing communities and capturing the attention of policymakers accessed by expanding audiences in a transforming media marketplace In Story Movements How Documentaries Empower People and Inspire Social Change producer and scholar Caty Borum Chattoo explores how documentaries disrupt dominant cultural narratives through complex creative often investigative storytelling Featuring original interviews with award winning documentary filmmakers and field leaders the book reveals the influence and motivations behind the vibrant eye opening stories of the contemporary documentary age American Studies Jack Salzman,1990-05-25 This volume supplements the acclaimed three volume set published in 1986 and consists of an annotated listing of American Studies monographs published between 1984 and 1988 There are more than 6 000 descriptive entries in a wide range of categories anthropology and folklore art and architecture history literature music political science popular culture psychology religion science and technology and sociology Brink of Reality Peter Steven,1993 In Brink of Reality Peter Steven examines the convergence of video art and social issue documentary from the 1940s to the present No other book has explored contemporary Canadian documentary so thoroughly or provided as broad a view of the state of the art in the 1990s Gendering the Nation Kass Banting,Brenda Longfellow,1999-01-01 The definitive collection of essays both original and previously published that address the impact and influence of a century of women s film making in Canada Labour in a Single Shot Roy Grundmann,Peter Schwartz,Gregory Williams,2025-10-01 This collection of essays offers a critical assessment of Labour in a Single Shot a groundbreaking documentary video workshop From 2011 to 2014 curator Antje Ehmann and film and video maker Harun Farocki produced an art project of truly global proportions They travelled to fifteen cities around the world to conduct workshops inspired by cinema history s first film Workers Leaving the Lumi re Factory shot in 1895 by the Lumi re brothers in France While the workshop videos are in colour and the camera was not required to remain static Ehmann and Farocki s students were tasked with honouring the original Lumi re film s basic parameters of theme and style The fascinating result is a collection of more than 550 short videos that have appeared in international exhibitions and on an open access website offering the widest possible audience the opportunity to ponder contemporary labour in multiple contexts around the world

AIDS TV Alexandra Juhasz,Catherine Gund,1995 Camcorder AIDS activism is a prime example of a new form of political expression an outburst of committed low budget community produced political video work made possible by new accessible technologies As Alexandra Juhasz looks at this phenomenon why and how video has become the medium for so much AIDS activism she also tries to make sense of the bigger picture How is this work different from mainstream television How does it alter what we think of the media s form and function The result is an eloquent and vital assessment of the role media activism plays in the development of community identity and self empowerment An AIDS videomaker herself Juhasz writes from the standpoint of an AIDS activist and blends feminist film critique with her own experience She offers a detailed description of alternative AIDS video including her own work on the Women s AIDS Video Enterprise WAVE Along with WAVE Juhasz discusses amateur video tapes of ACT UP demonstrations safer sex videos produced by Gay Men s Health Crisis public access programming and PBS documentaries as well as network television productions From its close up look at camcorder AIDS activism to its critical account of mainstream representations AIDS TV offers a better understanding of the media politics identity and community in the face of AIDS It will challenge and encourage those who hope to change the course of this crisis both in the real world and in the world of representation

The Cinema of Sara Gómez Susan Lord, María Caridad Cumaná, 2021-07-06 Throughout the 1960s until her untimely death in 1974 Afro Cuban filmmaker Sara G me z engaged directly and courageously with the social political economic and cultural transformations promised by the Cuban Revolution G me z directed numerous documentary films in 10 prolific years She also made De cierta manera One way or another her only feature length film Her films navigate complex experiences of social class race and gender by reframing revolutionary citizenship cultural memory and political value Not only have her inventive strategies become foundational to new Cuban cinema and feminist film culture but they also continue to inspire media artists today who deal with issues of identity and difference The Cinema of Sara G me z assembles history criticism biography methodology and theory of G me z s work in scholarly writing interviews with friends and collaborators the film script of De cierta manera and a detailed and complete filmography Featuring striking images this anthology reorients how we tell Cuban cinema history and how we think about the intersections of race gender and revolution By addressing G me z s entire body of work The Cinema of Sara G me z unpacks her complex life and gives weight to her groundbreaking cinema

Negative Cosmopolitanism Eddy Kent, Terri Tomsy, 2017-11-10 A multi disciplinary approach to cosmopolitanism that explores its negative effects including how subjects under globalization become cosmopolitan against their will

Nonfiction Film Richard Barsam, 1992-11-22 Richard Barsam has given us as comprehensive a study of the origins and development of the nonfiction mode in motion pictures as we are ever likely to have in one volume He draws on all the major written sources and many which are little known and he shares with us many eloquent descriptions of the films themselves giving us a valuable textbook Richard Dyer MacCann superb work Historical Journal of Film Radio and Television

Moving Environments Alexa Weik von Mossner, 2014-07-15 In Moving Environments Affect Emotion Ecology and Film international scholars investigate how films portray human emotional relationships with the more than human world and how such films act upon their viewers emotions Emotion and affect are the basic mechanisms that connect us to our environment shape our knowledge and motivate our actions Contributors explore how film represents and shapes human emotion in relation to different environments and what role time place and genre play in these affective processes Individual essays resituate well researched environmental films such as An Inconvenient Truth and March of the Penguins by paying close attention to their emotionalizing strategies and bring to our attention the affective qualities of films that have so far received little attention from ecocritics such as Stan Brakhage s Dog Star Man The collection opens a new discursive space at the disciplinary intersection of film studies affect studies and a growing body of ecocritical scholarship It will be of interest not only to scholars and students working in the field of ecocriticism and the environmental humanities but for everyone with an interest in our emotional responses to film

DV-Made China Zhen Zhang, Angela Zito, 2015-04-30 In 1990s post Reform China a growing number of people armed with video cameras poured out upon the Chinese landscape to both observe and contribute to the social changes then underway Happening upon the crucial platform of an older independent film movement this digital turn has given us a DV China that includes film and media communities across different social strata and disenfranchised groups including ethnic and religious minorities and LGBTQ communities DV Made China takes stock of these phenomena by surveying the social and cultural landscape of grassroots and alternative cinema practices after the digital turn around the beginning of the new century The volume shows how Chinese independent amateur and activist filmmakers energize the tension between old and new media performance and representation fiction and non fiction art and politics China and the world Essays by scholars in cinema and media studies anthropology history Asian and Tibetan studies bring innovative interdisciplinary methodologies to critically expand upon existing scholarship on contemporary Chinese independent documentary Their inquiries then extend to narrative feature activist video animation and other digital hybrids At every turn the book confronts digital ironies On the one hand its portability facilitates forms of radically private film production and audience habits of small screen consumption Yet it also simultaneously links up makers and consumers curators and censors allowing for speedier circulation more discussion and quicker formations of public political and aesthetic discourses DV Made China introduces new frameworks in a Chinese setting that range from aesthetics to ethical activism from digital shooting and editing techniques to the politics of film circulation in festivals and online Politics the authors urge travels along paths of aesthetic excitement and aesthetic choices conversely always bear ethical consequences The films their makers their audiences and their distributional pathways all harbor implications for social change that are closely intertwined with the fate of media culture in the new century of a world that both contains and is influenced by China

Television for Women Rachel Moseley, Helen Wheatley, Helen Wood, 2016-11-10 Television for Women brings together emerging and established scholars to reconsider the question of television for women In the context of the 2000s when the potential meanings of both terms have expanded and changed so significantly in what ways might the concept of programming addressed explicitly to a group identified by gender still matter The essays in this collection take the existing scholarship in this field in significant new directions They expand its reach in terms of territory looking beyond for example the paradigmatic Anglo American axis and also historical span Additionally whilst the influential methodological formation of production text and audience is still visible here the new research in Television for Women frequently reconfigures that relationship The topics included here are far reaching from television as material culture at the British exhibition in the first half of the twentieth century women s roles in television production past and present to popular 1960s television such as The Liver Birds and in the twenty first century highly successful programmes including Orange is the New Black, Call the Midwife, One Born Every Minute and Wanted Down Under. This book presents ground breaking research on historical and contemporary relationships between women and television around the world and is an ideal resource for students of television media and gender studies. InsUrgent Media from the Front Chris Robé, Stephen Charbonneau, 2020-11-03 In the 1940s it was 16 mm film In the 1980s it was handheld video cameras Today it is cell phones and social media Activists have always found ways to use the media du jour for quick and widespread distribution InsUrgent Media from the Front takes a look at activist media practices in the 21st century and sheds light on what it means to enact change using different media of the past and present Chris Rob and Stephen Charbonneau s edited collection uses the term insUrgent media to highlight the ways grassroots media activists challenged and are challenging hegemonic norms like colonialism patriarchy imperialism classism and heteronormativity Additionally the term is used to convey the sense of urgency that defines media activism Unlike slower traditional media activist media has historically sacrificed aesthetics for immediacy Consequently this run and gun method of capturing content has shaped the way activist media looks throughout history With chapters focused on indigenous resistance community media and the use of media as activism throughout US history InsUrgent Media from the Front emphasizes the wide reach media activism has had over time Visibility is not enough when it comes to media activism and the contributors provide examples of how to refocus the field not only to be an activist but to study activism as well
