Einstein, Picasso Arthur I Miller, 2008-08-01 The most important scientist of the twentieth century and the most important artist had their periods of greatest creativity almost simultaneously and in remarkably similar circumstances This fascinating parallel biography of Albert Einstein and Pablo Picasso as young men examines their greatest creations Picasso's Les Femmes d'Alger and Einstein's special theory of relativity Miller shows how these breakthroughs arose not only from within their respective fields but from larger currents in the intellectual culture of the times Ultimately Miller shows how Einstein and Picasso in a deep and important sense were both working on the same problem

Around the World in Six Years Henry Holt, 2015-07-15 At the age of 67 Henry Holt struck off on a sailing adventure that would become a six year voyage unlike any other way of seeing the world The people he met and the challenges he faced along the way from bureaucratic headaches at ports to truly frightening weather events to isolation from his friends and family while relying on their help from afar only strengthened his commitment to the journey Around the World in Six Years is an account of sailing lessons and life lessons in equal measure Dramatic funny and heartfelt it is an account of an ordinary man on an extraordinary trip and will inspire the aspiring adventurer in every reader

Race, Romanticism, and the Atlantic Paul Youngquist, 2016-05-23 In highlighting the crucial contributions of diasporic people to British cultural production this important collection defamiliarizes prevailing descriptions of Romanticism as the expression of a national character or culture The contributors approach the period from the perspective of the Atlantic maritime economy making a strong case for viewing British Romanticism as the effect of myriad economic and cultural exchanges occurring throughout a circum Atlantic world driven by an insatiable hunger for sugar and slaves Typically taken for granted the material contributions of slaves sailors and servants shaped Romanticism both in spite of and because of the severe conditions they experienced throughout the Atlantic world The essays range from Sierra Leone to Jamaica to Nova Scotia to the metropole examining not only the desperate circumstances of diasporic peoples but also the extraordinary force of their creativity and resistance Of particular importance is the emergence of race as a category of identity class and containment Race Romanticism and the Atlantic explores that process both economically and theoretically showing how race ensures the persistence of servitude after abolition At the same time the collection never loses sight of the extraordinary contributions diasporic peoples made to British culture during the Romantic era
