

Principles of Team play

- ◆ Improvisation: refers to adapting or changing to the various performance situations that arise. Switching to another play or tactic allow you to deal with opposition more effectively.
- ◆ Communication: This is required to make players aware of the attacking tactic; aware of support options, when and where they are in space etc. It can be verbal (a shout) or a visual (a hand signal)
- ◆ Organisation: Players have specific roles and responsibilities (we will talk about this later). There are set plays to organise, the attacking formation and the tactics in open play.
