Unity is Strength Markus Bierkoch, 2024-12-02

Migration has been one of the most pressing societal issues throughout history Immigrant associations play a crucial role in understanding this phenomenon They channel migration streams influence the assimilation of their members and serve as representatives of the entire immigrant group in society However they remain an understudied subject particularly in historical research To address this gap this study examines German immigrant associations in New York from the 1890s to the 1930s Through an innovative combination of statistical and textual analyses it explores the class composition of these associations their intricate system of mutual aid and their political activities This study offers insights into how specific socio economic motivations influenced immigrant organization and collective action including aspects such as long distance nationalism and cross border ethnic identity Ultimately based on these findings this study demonstrates that immigrant associations played a crucial role in helping their members adapt to a new social and economic environment Additionally it shows why and how immigrant associations significantly shaped the image of German immigrants in American social and political life Constructing Metropolitan Space Jill Simone Gross, Enrico Gualini, Lin Ye, 2018-12-07 There is little question today that processes of globalization affect national and local economies governance processes and conditions for economic competitiveness in the major urban regions of the world In most liberal democratic countries these processes are occurring according to a rationale which attempts to combine strategies of state supported development with increasing local regional governmental decentralization and autonomy Against this background the issue of metropolitan development is being redefined worldwide along with its institutional frameworks modes of governance policy instruments and spatial planning strategies The overarching assumption of this volume is that metropolitan space far from being consolidated as a policy object is currently being redefined and in some instances constructed and contested as a scale through a variety of policy practices related to spatial economic development objectives Through case studies drawn from across four continents the authors reveal a range of interesting cross national commonalities concerning the power that state actors situated at various spatial scales exert as agents in these processes This volume interrogates key research issues raised by these developments and is intended as a contribution to the establishment of a globally comparative analysis of the construction of metropolitan spaces and scales under conditions of globalization and neoliberalization Greater New Jersey Dennis E.
