Regionalism Contested Institution Society And Governance Urban And Regional Planning And Development Series:

Regionalism Contested Henrik Halkier, 2016-12-05 As we move further into the 21st century the prominence of regions can no longer be taken for granted A certain skepticism has developed with regard to the feasibility of marginal regions achieving self sustained growth and states have maintained their role as regulators of economic and social activities Thus the notion of the region and its significance is currently much debated and contested Illustrated with a wide range of European case studies this volume brings together the main strands of these contestations as economic political and social actors attempt to institutionalise their vision of their region as the dominant form of territorial governance It questions both the external delimitation and the internal constitution of regions and critically analyses the societal processes circumscribing ways in which regions are created maintained and undermined The volume provides a wide range of analytical perspectives to enable an understanding of the current mosaic of regionalism in Europe

Handbook on City and Regional Leadership Markku Sotarauta, 2021-02-26 In this timely Handbook people emerge at the centre of city and regional development debates from the perspective of leadership It explores individuals and communities not only as units that underpin aggregate measures or elements within systems but as deliberative actors with ambitions desires strategies and objectives

Leadership and Change in Sustainable Regional Development Markku Sotarauta, Ina Horlings, Joyce Liddle, 2012-09-10 This book shows first of all that leadership plays a crucial role in reinventing regions and branching out from an old path to something new in order to create more balanced and sustainable regional development Second it maintains that leadership is not a solo but a multi agent and level activity and that it needs to be discussed and studied as such Third as the book argues leadership is shaped differently in various institutional and cultural contexts and on different scales This book explores the ways leadership plays out in regional development context contributing to economically socially and ecologically balanced sustainable future

Regional Development and Spatial Planning in an Enlarged European Union Neil Adams, 2016-04-01 The expansion of the European Union in 2004 has had significant consequences for both existing and new members of the Union New member states are assimilating into a new institutional and policy framework while the changing geography of Europe provides a different context for policy development in pre 2004 member states One of the more important fields in which these changes are impacting is regional development The admission of the new countries changes patterns of economic and social disparities across the territory of the European Union which in turn demands that existing approaches to regional development are reconsidered An approach which has proved to be one of the most innovative is spatial planning This book brings together a team of academics and policy makers from across the new Europe involved in regional development and spatial planning Providing insights into different approaches it offers a valuable opportunity to compare experiences across European borders

Leadership and the City Markku Sotarauta, 2015-11-06 The 21st century has been dominated by an almost compulsive race to find new pathways for city development As cities seek to regenerate via the knowledge based economy now more than ever dynamic leadership is required order to navigate new and complex challenges while building community This book is about generative leadership in knowledge city development Leadership and the City is rooted in a conviction that the leadership in a city is crucial in order for it to adjust strategically to major transformations and thus secure a good future for its inhabitants The book opens a fresh view of leadership by focusing on generative leaders and their modes of leading instead of spatial categorisations governance structures and or policy contents and processes It investigates generative leadership by elaborating the modes of leadership power and strategies in influence networks The key points are highlighted with several empirical cases These include Akron and Rochester USA Munich Germany Leeds UK Barcelona Spain as well as Helsinki Tampere and Sein joki Finland This book will be of interest to researchers and practitioners concerned with Leadership Urban Studies and Strategic Management Spatial Planning and Urban Development in the New EU Member States Uwe Altröck,2006 The new EU member states have been facing a wide range of planning and urban development problems since the transition in 2004 Bringing together specially commissioned articles on each of the ten countries this volume examines these problems and their r Future Challenges in Evaluating and Managing Sustainable Development in the Built Environment Peter S. Brandon,Patrizia Lombardi,Geoffrey Q. Shen,2024-09-23 Future Challenges in Sustainable Development within the Built Environment stimulates and reinterprets the demands of Responsible and Sustainable Development in the Built Environment for future action and development It examines the methods of evaluation the use of technology the creation of new models and the role of human factors for examining and developing the subject over the next twenty years Government Discourse and Housing Jago Dodson,2007 This volume uses post structuralist theory to develop a framework for the analysis of government institutions and policy and applies this to the study of government housing policy in Western nations It uses the post structuralist approach to examine detailed case studies of housing policies in Europe Australia and New Zealand thereby evaluating the strengths and weaknesses of its application Evaluation in Planning E.R. Alexander,2016-04-22 Evaluation is a critical stage in urban and regional planning and development with the consideration of alternative proposals essential for informed debate and decision Evaluation in planning has become even more important with the new paradigm attempting to integrate economic efficiency with equity sustainability and social responsibility The craft of pre development evaluation has long been influenced by Nathaniel Lichfield and in his honour this book brings together prominent researchers and practitioners to discuss evaluation in planning its conceptual foundations and subsequent development its strengths and persisting dilemmas and its best practices and their potential for improving future planning and development The chapters trace evaluation in planning from its historical origin to current applications Part one reviews the evolution of evaluation theory and practice and part two contains a selection of best practice application The final integrating chapter notes key problems and offers directions for future development in evaluation research and practice      The Futures of the City Region Michael Neuman, Angela Hull, 2013-09-13 Does the city region constitute a new departure in urbanisation If so what are the key elements of that departure The realities of the urban in the 21st century are increasingly complex and polychromatic The rise of global networks enabled by supranational administrations both governmental and corporate strongly influences and structures the management of urban life How we conceive the city region has intellectual and practical consequences First in helping us grasp rapidly changing realities and second in facilitating the flow of resources ideas and learning to enhance the quality of life of citizens Two themes interweave through this collection within this broad palette First are the socio spatial constructs and their relationship to the empirical evidence of change in the physical and functional aspects of urban form Second is what they mean for the spatial scales of governance This latter theme explores territorially based understandings of intervention and the changing set of political concerns in selected case studies In efforts to address these issues and improve upon knowledge this collection brings together international scholars building new data driven cross disciplinary theories to create new images of the city region that may prove to supplement if not supplant old ones The book illustrates the dialectical interplay of theory and fact time and space and spatial and institutional which expands on our intellectual grasp of the theoretical debates on city regions through practical knowing citing examples from Europe the United States Australasia and beyond This book was originally published as a Special Issue of Regional Studies      De-coding New Regionalism James W. Scott, 2016-05-13 Bringing together comparative case studies from Central Europe and South America this book focuses on new regions regions created as political projects of modernization and re scaling Through this approach it de codes New Regionalism in terms of its contributions to institutional change while acknowledging its contested nature and contradictions It questions whether these regions are merely a strategy of neo liberal adjustment to changing political and economic conditions or whether they are indicative of true reform greater citizen participation and empowerment It assesses whether these regions are really representing something new or whether they are a reconfiguration of traditional power relationships It provides a timely critical analysis of region building and the extent to which national processes of decentralization and sub national processes of regionalism can enhance the effectiveness and responsiveness of governance

Urban Complexity and Spatial Strategies Patsy Healey, 2006-12-15 Urban Complexity and Spatial Strategies develops important new relational and institutionalist approaches to policy analysis and planning of relevance to all those with an interest in cities and urban areas Well illustrated chapters weave together conceptual development experience and implications for future practice and address the challenge of urban and metropolitan planning and development Useful for students social scientists and policy makers Urban Complexity and Spatial Strategies offers concepts and detailed cases of interest to those involved in policy development and management as well as providing a foundation of ideas and experiences an account of the place focused practices of governance and an approach to the analysis of governance dynamics For those in the planning field itself this book re interprets the role of planning frameworks in linking spatial patterns to social dynamics with twenty first century relevance      Territory, Identity and Spatial Planning Mark Tewdwr-Jones, Philip

Allmendinger, 2006-09-27 This book provides a multi disciplinary study of territory identity and space in a devolved UK through the lens of spatial planning It draws together leading internationally renowned researchers from a variety of disciplines to address the implications of devolution upon spatial planning and the rescaling of UK politics Each contributor offers a different perspective on the core issues in planning today in the context of New Labour s regional project particularly the government s concern with business competitiveness and key themes are illustrated with important case studies throughout      Introduction to Regional Economic Development Mustafa Dinc, 2015-12-18 This is a relatively simple and easy to read introduction of major regional and local economic development theories their theoretical evolution and other relevant topics such as governance institutions and local leadership within the globalization context It also discusses some basic analytical tools and provides a template for them in an easy to use MS Excel spreadsheet application It introduces conflict management procedures into regional development process and provides a regional decision support framework      The

Empirical and Institutional Dimensions of Smart Specialisation Philip McCann, Frank van Oort, John

Goddard, 2016-11-25 Smart specialisation is the new policy approach to the development of regional innovation systems across Europe and it involves fostering innovative and entrepreneurial initiatives which are well tailored to the local context The different technologies skills profiles business activities institutions and sectors which reflect a region s economic strengths and potential are to be fostered and encouraged to diversify in ways which also exploit the region s linkages with broader global value chains Yet the ideas contained in the smart specialisation agenda have until now been primarily conceptual in nature The Empirical and Institutional Dimensions of Smart Specialisation draws together some of the leading regional economists and scientists in Europe to analyse how smart specialisation is working in practice This book investigates different dimensions of the agenda as it is developing across parts of Europe from both quantitative and qualitative perspectives The quantitative analysis examines the nature of the diversification processes undertaken by regions and the interplay between the chosen local regional development priorities and the wider global value chain impacts of these choices Meanwhile the qualitative analysis examines the institutional opportunities and challenges facing policy makers and the key elements most likely to provide the underpinnings of a workable set of policy settings The book is aimed both at academic researchers interested in the interface between economic geography and regional innovation systems as well as at policy makers making public policy decisions related to regional development at the local city regional or national levels

Urban Growth Management and Its Discontents Y. Dierwechter, 2008-06-23 This book introduces synthesizes and evaluates spatial planning for growth management in the contemporary USA It discusses the neglected relationship between the actual environmental results of various state growth management systems and the geographically diverse politics of discontent with these various systems      Regional Development in Northern Europe Mike Danson, Peter de Souza, 2012-02-07 This book draws on work from across northern Europe and is parallel and complementary to the network itself By establishing an intellectual and practically orientated framework and platform and by bringing together contributions defining the state of the art and potential development paths in the field it is the first volume to offer a systematic and scientific view from the periphery      Fragile Governance and Local Economic Development Sergio Montero, Karen Chapple, 2018-09-03 Much of our understanding of local economic development is based on large urban agglomerations as nodes of innovation and competitive advantage connecting territories to global value chains However this framework cannot so easily be applied to peripheral regions and secondary cities in either the Global South or the North This book proposes an alternative way of looking at local economic development based on the idea of fragile governance and three variables associations and networks learning processes and leadership and conflict management in six Latin American peripheral regions The case studies illustrate the challenges of governance in small and intermediate cities in Latin America and showcase strategies that are being used to achieve a more resilient and territorial vision of local economic development This book will be of interest to students and researchers of local economic development urban and regional studies and political economy in Latin America as well as to policy makers and practitioners interested in local and regional economic development policy      Rethinking European Spatial Policy as a Hologram Valeria Fedeli, 2017-03-02 Bringing together case studies from several European countries this book provides an in depth examination of the evolution of European spatial policy Contributors focus on changes to the design and implementation of European policies at both national and local levels and examine institutional change particularly Europeanization European governance and EU enlargement Rhetorical discursive and representational dimensions are also interlinked to explore synergies and conflicts The volume offers an experimentation of new interpretative approaches to spatial planning which will prove essential to the international debate

Vital coalitions, vital regions Ina Horlings, 2023-09-04 Many rural regions in Europe are undergoing a dynamic transition driven by forces of urbanisation and agricultural development new patterns of production and consumption and new societal demands However while the historical rural urban divide is eroding rural landscapes are becoming more important to people for leisure recreation and personal orientation The complex processes affecting rural areas are proving difficult for the current institutions to manage The challenge is to find ways to create new capacity to act and get sustainable initiatives off the ground initiatives that are now often smothered or constrained by the institutional context This book bridges the gap between theory and practice to explore the conditions required to enable a transition towards sustainable regional development It analyses experiences in eight regions in the Netherlands where different regional strategies have been pursued the development of new markets rural services and linkages between producers and consumers spatial designs regional branding and new alliances between agricultural sectors and other sectors The authors argue that specific forms of networks called vital coalitions have the ability to foster better regional co operation and identify the crucial requirements for vital co operation These include the presence of leaders of change agenda setting processes coalition building and supportive government authorities The book is of value to all those interested or involved in rural and regional development professionals policy makers scientists and students
