Reinventing (with) Theory in Rhetoric and Writing Studies Andrea Alden, Kendall Gerdes, Judy Holiday, Ryan Skinnell, 2019-10-21 Reinventing with Theory in Rhetoric and Writing Studies collects original scholarship that takes up and extends the practices of inventive theorizing that characterize Sharon Crowley's body of work. Including sixteen chapters by established and emerging scholars and an interview with Crowley, the book shows that doing theory is a contingent and continual rhetorical process that is indispensable for understanding situations and their potential significance and for discovering the available means of persuasion. For Crowley, theory is a basic building block of rhetoric produced by and within specific times and locations as a means of opening other ways of believing or acting. Doing theory in this sense is the practice of surveying the common sense of the community doxa and discovering the available means of persuasion. Reinventing with Theory in Rhetoric and Writing Studies takes Crowley's notion of theory as an invitation to develop new avenues for believing and acting. By reinventing the understanding of theory and its role in the field, this collection makes an important contribution to scholarship in rhetorical studies and writing studies. It will be valuable to scholars, teachers, and students interested in diverse theoretical directions in rhetoric and writing studies as well as in race, gender, and disability theories, religious rhetorics, digital rhetoric, and the history of rhetoric. Publication supported in part by the Texas Tech University Humanities Center. Contributors: Jason Barrett, Fox, Geoffrey Clegg, Kirsti Cole, Joshua, Daniel Wariya, Diane Davis, Rebecca Disrud, Bre Garrett, Catherine C. Gouge, Debra Hawhee, Matthew Heard, Joshua C. Hilst, David G. Holmes, Bruce Horner, William B. Lallier, Jennifer Lin, LeMesurier, James C. McDonald, Timothy Oleksiak, Dawn Penich, Thacker, J. Blake, Scott, Victor J. Vitanza, Susan Wyche.

Reinventing SETI John Gertz, 2025 Reinventing SETI clears out the cobwebs of outdated or wrongheaded SETI paradigms such as Fermi's Paradox, the Drake Equation, and METI, i.e., proactively sending signals from Earth to putative aliens. It argues that scientists should approach the pursuit of extraterrestrials (ETs) in a more effective manner. Author John Gertz states that ETs as biological lifeforms themselves cannot accomplish interstellar travel but have instead placed robotic probes throughout the universe, perhaps even in our own Solar System. Humorous and deeply informative, this book takes the reader through the universe, conventional SETI methods, and ideas on future ET exploration.

Reinventing Aurobindo Ghose Bidyut Chakrabarty,2025-06-30 Aurobindo Ghose s ideological vision challenges traditional interpretations that divide his thought into distinct political and spiritual phases. The common belief that his engagement in the nationalist movement (1893-1910) gave way to a retreat into spirituality in Pondicherry oversimplifies the complexity of his intellectual evolution. This division often found in historiography suggests a shift from nationalism to spirituality but fails to recognise the underlying continuity in Aurobindo's ideas. A closer examination reveals a seamless development that transcends such a simplistic bifurcation. Aurobindo's nationalism was not solely political; it was deeply connected to his reverence for India's ancient intellectual traditions. He opposed the Westernisation of India, seeing it as a force that disconnected Indians from their cultural heritage. The blind imitation of Western values, in his view, betrayed India's spiritual and philosophical legacy. This commitment to intellectual revival was evident throughout his early career, during which he sought to navigate the colonial system, even attempting to secure a position within the British administration. Ultimately, Aurobindo rejected this path and aligned himself with the nationalist movement. Alongside leaders like Lal Bal and Pal, he redefined Indian nationalism, advocating for direct resistance to colonial rule and championing mass mobilisation that included all castes, religions, and genders. His vision was not a transition from politics to spirituality but an integrated approach where nationalism and spirituality were inextricably linked in the pursuit of India's freedom and cultural renaissance.
