Polarimetric SAR Imaging
 Yoshio Yamaguchi, 2020-08-18 Radar polarimetry has been highly sought after for its use in the precise monitoring of Earth's surface. Polarimetric SAR Imaging explains the basic concepts of polarimetry and its diverse applications including deforestation, tree classification, landslide detection, tsunamis, volcano eruptions, and ash distribution. It covers snow accumulation, rice field monitoring, urban area exploration, and ship detection among other applications. The explanations use actual data sets taken by Advanced Land Observing Satellite ALOS and ALOS2. With the increasing problems presented by climate change, there is a growing need for detailed earth observation using polarimetric data. As the treatment of the vector nature of radar waves is complex, there is a gap between the theory and the application. Polarimetric SAR Imaging: Theory and Applications addresses and fills this gap. Features: Provides cutting-edge polarimetric applications for earth observation with full-color images. Includes detailed descriptions of theory, equations, expansions, and flowcharts, and numerous real examples. Explains concepts, data analysis, and applications in simple and clear language aimed at an intuitive comprehension. Provides specific and unique examples of PolSAR images derived from actual space and airborne systems ALOS, ALOS2, PiSAR, and L-Covers. Covers the wide range of radar polarimetry, especially the decomposition of polarimetry data, an original method developed by the author using Japanese polarimetric SAR data. Illustrated in full color using images generated by polarimetric techniques. This book is easy to understand and use for both student and expert and is an excellent resource both in the classroom and in the field.

Family origin histories
 Edward Sapir, Morris Swadesh, Alexander Thomas, John Thomas, 2009-01-01 Nuuchah-nulth family histories are actually tribal histories since their idea of family encompasses the tribe. Eighteen such histories are presented here, chronicling the origins and resources of a number of tribal families. In lieu of written records, these oral traditions stood as Nuuchah-nulth history and were recited formally in public on ceremonial occasions. Several accounts give long lists of foods. Others describe the acquisition of important technological advances such as a salmon trap. Half of the texts are short, focusing on a particular item like a mask or a house decoration. One text lists hundreds of Nuuchah-nulth place names given mythically by Swan Women to the Port Alberni region, which was previously Salish in population and language. Generally, these histories explain how the world came to be and set forth family claims to material and spiritual resources. Each account belonged to the family which had the exclusive right to tell it publicly. Summary outlines are provided in the introduction. Published in English.
