Someone Else's Face in the Mirror Carla Bluhm, Nathan Clendenin, 2009-04-30 In 2005 surgeons in France removed part of the face from a cadaver and grafted it onto the head of a 38 year old woman grossly disfigured by a dog attack Three years later in December 2008 surgeons at the Cleveland Clinic announced they had performed the first U S face transplant Although modern culture is accustomed to pushing medicine and the human body beyond all limits the world's first partial face transplant and the seven that have followed have caused a stir that still reverberates globally This book begins with the story of Isabelle Dinoire the recipient of the first face transplant and chronicles her surgery and battles with tissue rejection Its scope widens with a look at how surgical teams including three U S transplant teams are in a global race to perform the first full face transplant and at how medical history has led up to this point with prior successful transplants ranging from body parts as simple as cornea to those as neurologically complicated as the heart a hand and a penis The most novel among these surgeries the face transplant conjures up particular and expansive psychological issues Authors Bluhm and Clendenin show how transplant recipients struggle with functional issues including a lifetime of anti rejection drugs a danger highlighted by the recent death of the second face transplant patient in China But just as challenging in the case of face transplant is the psychological effect on and potential threat to identity Who are you if suddenly your face or a significant portion of it is not what you were born with What is it like to look in the mirror and see a face that is not the one you have always had Dinoire lamented It will never be me That statement is an absolute simplification of the identity issues a face transplant can create explain the authors Bluhm and Clendenin show how across history and media humankind via medicine literature film and other media has dreamed of a day when face transplants would be possible With so many disfigurements occurring among the military in Iraq and experimental face transplants too expensive for implementation in the private sector it is likely that the U S military will take the reins and further face transplant techniques as quickly as possible to serve injured personnel

Human and Cosmic Thought Rudolf Steiner, 2015-06-24 Rudolf Steiner demonstrates that there are twelve main philosophical standpoints and that the future of philosophy rests not upon defending one and refuting the others but in learning to experience the validity of them all What convinces us of the truth of a certain point of view Why do we find it difficult to comprehend viewpoints that differ from our own What are the inner foundations of our knowledge In these concentrated and aphoristic lectures Steiner speaks of twelve main philosophical standpoints and the importance of understanding each of them An appreciation of the variety of possible world views not only sharpens and makes more flexible our own powers of thinking but helps us to overcome a narrow minded one sidedness promoting tolerance of other people and their opinions Steiner goes on to explain how each standpoint is also coloured by a particular soul mood which influences the way we actively pursue knowledge Several philosophers and their works are characterised in this manner throwing light on their contributions to human culture Through such insight into the true nature of human thinking we are led to understand the quality of cosmic thought and how in Rudolf Steiner's words the human being can be seen as a thought which is thought by the Hierarchies of the cosmos
