Making Cultural Connections Readings For Critical Analysis:

Making Cultural Connections Marilyn Rye, 1994 Making Cultural Connections , 1994 Literature and Ethnic Discrimination Michael J. Meyer, 2023-11-27 Even though universities and colleges make a concerted effort to foster unity and worldwide acceptance of different ethnicities by including politically correct literature in their curriculums their attempts to protect students from being exposed to texts that portray discrimination and exhibit racial insensitivity are futile and ill advised Texts that contain biases based on otherness continue to be written and those produced in the past remain relevant and still demand the attention of an audience of reader In order to see the full picture of the world in which they live students must face even that which is uncomfortable and disturbing To think otherwise is to create an academic environment that is totally idealistic and distorts the fact that ethnic discrimination has been a potent reality in every society in history and remains so today These studies in this volume allow readers to meet writers from the traditional American and European canon while also being exposed to third world writers whose work may be unfamiliar They include memoirs of Holocaust survivors and even record the silencing of Italian women Apartheid in South Africa and tribal conflict in Nigeria as well as transplanted Asian culture in Canada and the idolization of the black body in Japan The collection permits a viewing of the ethnic other not merely in a politically correct way in which one samples the differences and nods approvingly Rather its intent is to offer opportunities for contemplative assessment of authorial motives and goals thereby engendering a wealth of understanding based on active engagement rather than passive acceptance of the status quo WPA, Writing Program Administration , 1993 Critical Perspectives on Language and Discourse in the New World Order Faiz Sathi Abdullah, Mardziah Hayati Abdullah, Tan Bee Hoon, 2009-03-26 The papers in this book explore language use in a broad range of discourse fields They provide theoretical perspectives on global orientations to social political and economic transformations in the New World Order NWO and extend these with studies on the impacts of such transformations at the local national regional and global levels The discussions highlight current concerns among academics and political commentators about the potential social impact of representations of the NWO in language and discourse The present work is important in raising social consciousness towards the central role that language and discourse play in the construction of shifting multiple identities In this way the roles of critical discourse analysis and indeed that of the analysts themselves are emancipative and socially transformative The value of such consciousness raising for potential social action in language user empowerment terms cannot be overstressed particularly given the ascendant position of the English language in the NWO This collection is a significant contribution to the ongoing critical discussion on global order discourse Handbook of Research on Cross-Cultural Online Learning in Higher Education Keengwe, Jared, Kungu, Kenneth, 2019-04-01 Online learning has been touted as one way of reducing the cost of higher education while simultaneously addressing the increasing demand for educational opportunity and providing access to hitherto left out populations Many universities are defying tradition by offering completely online degrees for global participants As such research is needed to improve the design of online and virtual learning environments to ensure that they are inclusive and culturally adaptive for the global education marketplace The Handbook of Research on Cross Cultural Online Learning in Higher Education shares paradigms perspectives insights challenges and best practices for the instructional design and delivery of cross cultural adult web based learning experiences and examines adult learner characteristics and competencies critical for the design of these applications The content within this publication covers trending topics including virtual learning culturally adaptive environments and online education and is intended for instructional designers faculty administrators students and researchers

Reading Rembrandt Mieke Bal, 2025-10-01 Reading Rembrandt: Beyond the Word-Image Opposition explores the potential for an interdisciplinary methodology between visual art and literature. In a series of close analyses of works by Rembrandt, as we see them today through all the ways of seeing and commenting that precede and texts related to those works, Mieke Bal questions the traditional boundaries between literary and visual analysis. Bal also studies Rembrandt's complex handling of gender and the representation of women in Rembrandt's painting. The methods used in this study come from both in and outside the history of art. They demonstrate the author's sensitivity to the visual aspects of Rembrandt's work as meaningful. The works by Rembrandt gain in depth and interest, but an original perspective of the role of visuality in our culture also emerges, which ultimately has consequences for our views of gender, the artists, and the act of reading.

Cultural Studies As Critical Theory Ben Agger, 2014-05-01 Examines the field of cultural studies and argues for its relevance in addressing the enormous impact of popular culture and mass media today.
