My Mother In Memory:

I Am My Mother's Memory Leah Pettepiece, 2002-11-27 This is the story of the daughter of a survivor of the Holocaust. It is a simple but exquisite retelling of the first twenty-two years of her life. Learning about her family's past is only a part of the struggle she also has to come to grips with the fact that the mother she knows as her own claims she is not her child. In addition to weaving a story the fabric of which is rich and vibrant, Leah also designed the montages that accompany each chapter from her pictures and her large stamp collection. The montages give the reader a second story, historical and exciting.

Starting to write stories and capture special moments in My Mother, A Memory Journal is a healing way to celebrate Mother's life during these days. Do a page a day, a question a day, or even 1 per week or year.

Hunger of Memory Richard Rodriguez, 2004-02-03 Hunger of Memory is the story of Mexican American Richard Rodriguez who begins his schooling in Sacramento, California, knowing just 50 words of English and concludes his university studies in the stately quiet of the reading room of the British Museum. Here is the poignant journey of a minority student who pays the cost of his social assimilation and academic success with a painful alienation from his past, his parents, his culture, and so describes the high price of making it in middle-class America. Provocative in its positions on affirmative action and bilingual education, Hunger of Memory is a powerful political statement, a profound study of the importance of language, and the moving, intimate portrait of a boy struggling to become a man.

Tribune fresh air fund aid society, 1918 Feeding My Mother Jann Arden, 2019-03-05 This edition of the inspirational 1 bestseller draws on a new year of Jann's diaries and her mother's final days. When beloved singer and songwriter Jann Arden's parents built a house just across the way from her, she thought they would be her refuge from the demands of her career. And for a time, that was how it worked. But then her dad fell ill and died, and just days after his funeral, her mom was diagnosed with Alzheimer's. In Feeding My Mother, Jann shares what it is like for a daughter to become her mother's caregiver in her own frank and funny words and in recipes she invented to tempt her mom. Full of heartbreak but also full of love and wonder.

The Year of Finding Memory Judy Fong Bates, 2011-03-29 In the tradition of The Concubine's Children and Paper Shadows, a probing memoir from the author of the acclaimed novel Midnight at the Dragon Cafe. An elegant and surprising book about a Chinese family's difficult arrival in Canada and a daughter's search to understand remarkable and terrible truths about her parents' past lives. Growing up in her father's hand laundry in small town Ontario, Judy Fong Bates listened to stories of her parents' past lives in China, a place far removed from their every day life of poverty and misery. But in spite of the allure of these stories, Fong Bates longed to be a Canadian girl. Fifty years later, she finally followed her curiosity back to her ancestral home in China for a reunion that spiralled into a series of unanticipated discoveries. Opening with a shock as moving as the one that powers The Glass Castle, The Year of Finding Memory explores a particular yet universal world of family secrets, love, loss, courage, and shame. This is a memoir of a daughter's emotional journey and her painful acceptance of conflicting truths. In telling the story of her parents, Fong Bates is telling the story of how she came to know them.

A Mother's Memory Jean Meikle, 2016-02-24 My choice to keep my son at home during his illness seemed like the only option due to my son's aversion to staying in a hospital. It was a hard decision with lasting consequences. The choices were either hospital or home, as hospices were not offered as an option at that time. This is his story, my memories.

Cajun Literature and Cajun Collective Memory Mathilde Köstler, 2022-12-19 How does Cajun literature emerging in the 1980s represent the dynamic processes of remembering in Cajun culture? Known for its hybrid constitution and deeply ingrained oral traditions, Cajun culture provides an ideal testing ground for investigating the collective memory of a group. In particular, francophone and anglophone Cajun texts by such writers as Jean Arceneaux, Tim Gautreaux, Jeanne Castille, Zachary Richard, Ron Thibodeaux, Darrell Bourque, and Kirby Jambon reveal not only a shift from an oral to a written tradition They also show hybrid perspectives on the Cajun collective memory Based on recurring references to place the texts also reflect on the Acadian past and reveal the innate ability of the Cajuns to adapt through repeated intertextual references The Cajun collective memory is thus defined by a transnational outlook a transversality cutting across various ethnic heritages to establish and legitimize a collective identity both amid the linguistic and cultural diversity in Louisiana and in the face of American mainstream culture Cajun Literature and Cajun Collective Memory represents the first analysis of the mnemonic strategies Cajun writers use to explore and sustain the Cajun identity and collective memory
