Western Horticultural Review ,1851 Red Vs. the Wolf , In the Hollow of the Wave Bonnie Kime Scott, 2012 Examining the writings and life of Virginia Woolf In the Hollow of the Wave looks at how Woolf treated nature as a deliberate discourse that shaped her way of thinking about the self and the environment and her strategies for challenging the imbalances of power in her own culture all of which remain valuable in the framing of our discourse about nature today Bonnie Kime Scott explores Woolf's uses of nature including her satire of scientific professionals and amateurs her parodies of the imperial conquest of land her representations of flora and fauna her application of post impressionist and modernist modes her merging of characters with the environment and her ventures across the species barrier In shedding light on this discourse of Woolf and the natural world Scott brings to our attention a critical neglected and contested aspect of modernism itself She relies on feminist ecofeminist and postcolonial theory in the process drawing also on the relatively recent field of animal studies By focusing on multiple registers of Woolf's uses of nature the author paves the way for more extended research in modernist practices natural history garden and landscape studies and lesbian queer studies The American Farmer, 1823
