Australian Crime Fiction Stephen Knight, 2018-06-28 Australian crime fiction has grown from the country's origins as an 18th century English prison colony. Early stories focused on escaped convicts becoming heroic bush rangers or how the system mistreated those who were wrongfully convicted. Later came thrillers about wealthy free settlers and lawless gold seekers and urban crime fiction including Fergus Hume's 1887 international best seller The Mystery of a Hansom Cab set in Melbourne. The 1980s saw a surge of private eye thrillers popular in a society skeptical of police. Twenty first century authors have focused on policemen and increasingly policewomen and finally indigenous crime narratives. The author explores in detail this rich but little known national subgenre.

Man of Two Tribes Arthur W. Upfield, 2020-06-01 Myra Thomas apparently dressed only in nightgown and slippers has walked off the train somewhere along the 650 kilometres of track that crosses the Nullarbor Plain. With two camels and a dog Bony begins to search the desert in search of her. He finds more than he bargains for only to find a group of people imprisoned in the extensive limestone caves beneath the desert plain. This is surely one of the two or three strongest of Upfield's novels. It is an eerie mixture of Aboriginal folk customs and white man's greed and lust for revenge. Something of a study of abnormal psychology it nevertheless turns on people's very natural and nasty feelings. This book is a splendid combination of plot setting and development from The Spirit of Australia by Ray Browne.
