Three Postwar Eras in Comparison C. Levy, M. Roseman, 2001-12-14 A brief glance at twentieth century European history would suggest that wars and their aftermath produced the major turning points in its development Three times in 1918 1945 and again in 1989 Europe was confronted with major questions of restructuring and rebuilding But can we really divide Europe's development into neat postwar eras Why was the period 1945 1989 so much more stable and prosperous than 1918 1939 Has the end of the cold war changed the basis of the post 1945 settlement This comparative collection offers some unique insights into these questions

The International Aluminium Cartel Marco Bertilorenzi, 2015-09-16 Aluminium was one of most cartelised industries in the international economic panorama of the 20th century Born following the discovery of electrolytic smelting process in 1886 this industry even in its infancy established a cartel which characterised its history until nearly 1980 Managers of the aluminium industry from various historical eras and countries shared the same vision about the development of their industry to keep prices as stable as possible in order to encourage expansions and to provide return on investments Price instability which characterised the trade of other commodities was unknown to the aluminium industry This book neither argues that cartels are fundamentally evil nor attempts to demonstrate that cartels are optimal business organisations It instead provides an in depth and frank analysis of the internal working of industrial organisations and of the interplay between cartels and political powers and institutions The International Aluminium Cartel offers explanations for the construction and collapse of cartels descriptions of their operations and an historical interpretation of their experiences Incorporating information gleaned from a unique collection of private and public archives from several countries this unique study will appeal to a wide variety of readers including academics interested in industrial and business history
