Regionalism, Multilateralism, and Economic Integration Gary P. Sampson, Stephen Woolcock, 2003 This publication considers whether regional trade agreements have led to a new form of economic co operation by promoting deeper integration in the regulatory structures of participating countries An examination of recent experiences are found to show that although there is no single model for deeper integration regional trade agreements have generally more effective than more remote WTO procedures in facilitating trade and improving transparency Regional processes and rules are found to have been consistent with the multilateral obligations of each party with additional commitments in the regional agreements complementing WTO rules Advancing East Asian Regionalism Melissa Curley, Nicholas Thomas, 2012-10-12

Developments in East Asia have progressed rapidly in terms of regionalism since the 1997 crisis The end of the Asian miracle called into question not only the capacity of regional states to meet the needs of their attendant peoples but also challenged the viability of regional organizations such as ASEAN to adapt and respond to the changing circumstances Advancing East Asian Regionalism looks at the ways in which ASEAN has expanded since the crisis and evaluates the potential of East Asia to come together in a regional formation one capable of representing the region as a whole akin to the European Community It draws upon the knowledge and perspectives of academics and policy makers actively engaged in the contradictory issues of regionalism Coupling case study material on regionalism institutions and sectoral cooperation with theoretical debates on regionalization this book is an invaluable resource that pushes our understanding of East Asian regionalism forward
