Nathaniel A. Warne,2016-05-13 We all feel emotions and are moved to action by them Religious communities often select and foster certain emotions over others Without understanding this it is hard to grasp the way groups view the world and each other Often it is the underlying emotional pattern of a group rather than its doctrines that either divides it from or attracts it to others These issues so important in today s world are explored in this book in a genuinely interdisciplinary way by anthropologists psychologists theologians and historians of religion and in some detailed studies of well and less well known religious traditions from across the world Women, Religion, and Emotions in Modern Germany and Beyond Lisa Fetheringill Zwicker,Martina Cucchiara,2025 Analyzes the role of emotions in the religious lives of women from across Germany and Europe from the nineteenth century to the 1970s Scholarship on women and religion has focused primarily on the intersection between women s religious engagement and their emancipation This volume goes beyond that to examine the vital role religion has played in the private and public lives of German and European women Because emotions are central to the expression of religiosity it draws on approaches from the history of emotions to examine how women understood felt and practiced religion in their search for meaning Spanning from the nineteenth century to the 1970s the volume s essays show how religion helped women make sense of their lives It also illuminates the degree to which women used religion and its attendant emotional scripts to shape modern society and how religious discourses in turn shaped women s emotions and comportment in the public sphere The volume builds on recent research that shows that religion especially the religiosity of women remained a pressing public concern in modern Europe From anxieties over the religiosity of Bavarian servants to restrictive norms imposed on Jewish widows from the interfaith commitments of kindergarten teachers to the autobiographical narratives of aspiring Protestant deaconesses from the suffering of stigmatics in Germany and Belgium to Irish women s public narratives of their religiosity this book reveals how women s faith and attendant religious emotions have been central to their public and private lives Paul's Emotional Regime Ian Y. S. Jew,2020-10-15 In his letters Paul speaks often of his emotions and also promotes certain feelings while banishing others This indicates that for Paul emotion is vital However in New Testament studies the study of emotions is still nascent current research in the social sciences highlights its cognitive and social dimensions Ian Y S Jew combines rigorous social scientific analysis and exegetical enquiry to argue that emotions are intrinsic to the formation of the Pauline communities as they encode belief structures and influence patterns of social experience By taking joy in Philippians and grief in 1 Thessalonians as representative emotions and contrasting Paul s approach with that of his Stoic contemporaries Jew demonstrates that authorized feelings have socially integrating and differentiating functions by reinforcing the shared theological realities upon which emotional norms are based group belonging is bolstered Simultaneously authorized emotions fortify the theological boundaries between Christians and others which strengthens group solidarity in the Church by accentuating its members insider status Using this framework heuristically Jew explores how the interplay of symbolic ritual and social elements within Paul s eschatological worldview reinforces emotional norms and demonstrates that attention to emotion can only deepen our understanding of the social formation of the early believers

A Sociology of Religious Emotion

Ole Riis,Linda Woodhead,2010-06-24 Thoughtfully illustrated with photographic plates that capture the global range of religions and cultures discussed Book Jacket

Understanding Affections in the Theology of Jonathan Edwards Ryan J.

Martin,2018-11-15 This volume argues that the notion of affections discussed by Jonathan Edwards and Christian theologians before him means something very different from what contemporary English speakers now call emotions and that Edwards s notions of affections came almost entirely from traditional Christian theology in general and the Reformed tradition in particular Ryan J Martin demonstrates that Christian theologians for centuries emphasized affection for God associated affections with the will and distinguished affections from passions generally explaining affections and passions to be inclinations and aversions of the soul This was Edwards s own view and he held it throughout his entire ministry Martin further argues that Edwards s view came not as a result of his reading of John Locke or the pressures of the Great Awakening as many Edwardsean scholars argue but from his own biblical interpretation and theological education By analysing patristic medieval and post medieval thought and the journey of Edwards s psychology Martin shows how on their own terms pre modern Christians historically defined and described human psychology

Religious

Affects Donovan O. Schaefer,2015-11-13 In Religious Affects Donovan O Schaefer challenges the notion that religion is inextricably linked to language and belief proposing instead that it is primarily driven by affects Drawing on affect theory evolutionary biology and poststructuralist theory Schaefer builds on the recent materialist shift in religious studies to relocate religious practices in the affective realm an insight that helps us better understand how religion is lived in conjunction with systems of power To demonstrate religion s animality and how it works affectively Schaefer turns to a series of case studies including the documentary Jesus Camp and contemporary American Islamophobia Placing affect theory in conversation with post Darwinian evolutionary theory Schaefer explores the extent to which nonhuman animals have the capacity to practice religion linking human forms of religion and power through a new analysis of the chimpanzee waterfall dance as observed by Jane Goodall In this compelling case for the use of affect theory in religious studies Schaefer provides a new model for mapping relations between religion politics species globalization secularism race and ethics

"Martyr to the Truth" Charles J.T. Talar,2012-10-18 In his autobiography Joseph Turmel 1859 1943 has left an intensely personal account of his struggles to reconcile his Catholic faith with the results of historical critical methods as those impacted biblical exegesis and the history of dogma Having lost his faith in 1886 he chose to remain as a priest in the Church even while he worked to undermine its teachings He did so initially in writings published under his own name and as his conclusions became increasingly radical under a veritable team of pseudonyms He was excommunicated in 1930 His account of his life is less a discussion and defense of his ideas than it is a moral justification of his conduct Turmel is
