Pure-bred Dogs, American Kennel Gazette, 1968-05 Rand McNally & Co.'s New Census Atlas of the World Rand McNally and Company, 1914 French Dishes for American Tables Pierre Caron, 2014 French Dishes for American Tables We hope this book may be of use for while economy is not its sole object the variety of receipts for palatable dishes which may be prepared at small cost is very large On the other hand of course there are a great number of dishes which are obviously expensive but these may be distinguished at a glance In conclusion we would remark that as we know the furnishings of American kitchens to be very meager we have forborne the mention of particular utensils for the preparation of certain dishes There are however a few articles which are indispensable if the best results are expected viz a Dutch oven for roasting meats poultry and game before the fire and not in the oven of the range which bakes instead of roasting and so dries up the juices of the meats A mortar and pestle will also be required when pounding is mentioned as for chicken meats almonds etc A fine sieve is necessary for the straining of sauces and two flannel bags kept scrupulously clean one for the purpose of straining soups and the other for straining jellies Who's who in the Midwest, 1954 1960 Readership Survey of the Gainesville Daily Sun University of Florida.
