Science Not Art Ten Scientists Diaries:

Science, Not Art Jon Turney, 2003-01-01 In Science not Art a young generation of first class scientists most of them Royal Society Young Fellows kept diaries over several months which reveal with an unusual honesty the frustrations comic ironies and occasional breakthroughs in the charged and highly competitive world of contemporary science What do mathematicians actually do How are hypotheses dreamed up and then tested in space physiology climate change or neuroscience And how does an intense commitment to understanding more about the world impact on scientists private lives

Art and Science Sian Ede, 2012-11-13 Is science the new art Scientists weave incredible stories invent wild hypotheses and ask difficult questions about the meaning of life They have insights into the workings of our bodies and minds which challenge the myths we make about our identities and selves They create visual images models and scenarios that are gruesome baffling or beguiling They say and do things that are ethically and politically shocking Contemporary scientists frequently talk about beauty and elegance artists hardly ever do While demonstrating how science is affecting the creation and interpretation of contemporary art this book proposes that artistic insights are as important on their own terms as those in science and that we can and should accommodate both forms of knowledge Featuring the work of artists such as Damien Hirst Christine Borland Bill Viola and Helen Chadwick and art science collaborative ventures involving Dorothy Cross Eduardo Kac and Stelarc it looks at the way new scientific explanations for the nature of human consciousness can influence our interpretation of art at the squeamish interventions being produced by artists relishing in new technologies and at art which takes on the dangers facing the fragile environment Seeing the world from the other point of view can inform the practice of both sides this book will provide new insights to artists scientists and the wider public The Creative Reflective Practitioner Linda Candy, 2019-11-26 The Creative Reflective Practitioner explores research and practice through the eyes of people with a wholehearted commitment to creative work It reveals what it means to be a reflective creative practitioner whether working alone in collaboration with others with digital technology or doing research and what we can learn from listening and observing closely It gives the reader new insights into the fascinating challenge that having a reflective creative mindset can bring Creative reflective practice is seen through practitioner ideas and works which have informed the writing at every level supported by research studies and historical accounts The practitioners featured in this book represent a broad spectrum of interdisciplinary creative activities producing works in film music drama dance and interactive installations Their work is innovative full of new ideas and exciting to experience offering engagement and challenge for audiences and participants alike Practitioner interviews give a direct sense of how they see creative practice from the inside The ways in which these different situations of practice stimulate and facilitate reflection in practice and how we can learn from this are described Variations of reflective practice are discussed that extend the original concepts proposed by Donald Schön and a contemporary dimension is added through the role of the digital in creative reflective practice as a tool mediator medium and partner This book is relevant to people who wish to understand creativity and reflection in practice and how to learn from the practitioners themselves This includes researchers in any discipline as well as students arts professionals and practitioners such as artists curators designers musicians performers producers and technologists Nursing Research Kader Parahoo, 2014-05-30 Learning about research can be a daunting task This best selling core text book offers a comprehensive introduction to important research concepts processes and issues The author guides readers who are new to research but also introduces new debates and perspectives to those with some experience wanting to develop their skills further This popular book equips students with the information and skills they need to read comprehend and critique research Whether an undergraduate taking an introductory research module a postgraduate nursing student embarking on a project or an experienced practitioner wanting to sharpen your skills Parahoo's accessible writing style will ensure readers are able to utilise research throughout their study and in everyday practice New to this Edition Three new chapters on qualitative methods introducing grounded theory phenomenology and ethnography Updated narrative and research examples to ensure content and application is relevant Visual Culture and Bioscience Suzanne Anker, J. D. Talasek, 2008 Edited by Suzanne Anker JD Talasek Preface by David Yager Foreword by JD Talasek Introduction by Suzanne Anker The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 2004 Leonardo, 2004 International journal of contemporary visual artists New Scientist, 2003 South African Journal of Science, 2003 Internationale Bibliographie der Rezensionen wissenschaftlicher Literatur, 2004 Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists, 1959-02 The Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists is the premier public resource on scientific and technological developments that impact global security Founded by Manhattan Project Scientists the Bulletin's iconic Doomsday Clock stimulates solutions for a safer world Diary of a Citizen Scientist Sharman Apt Russell, 2023-03-14 A critically acclaimed nature writer explores the citizen scientist movement through the lens of entomological field research in the American Southwest Award winning nature writer Sharman Apt Russell felt pressed by the current environmental crisis to pick up her pen yet again Encouraged by the phenomenon of citizen science she decided to turn her attention to the Western red bellied tiger beetle an insect found widely around the world and near her home in the Gila River Valley of New Mexico In a lyrical often humorous voice Russell shares her journey across a wild rural landscape tracking this little known species an insect she calls charismatic elegant and fierce What she finds is renewed optimism in mysteries still left to be explored that despite the challenges of climate change there is a growing diversity of ways ordinary people can contribute to the research needs of scientists today in the name of environmental activism Offering readers a glimpse into the pioneering field of citizen science Diary of a Citizen Scientist documents one woman's transformation from a feeling of powerlessness to engaged hopefulness Winner of the John Burroughs Medal and the WILLA Literary Award for Best Creative Nonfiction Named one of the top ten best nature books of 2014 by GrrlScientist in The Guardian New Scientist and Science Journal, 1993-10 Constructing Modernity Martin Hammer, Professor

Christina Lodder, Naum Gabo, Christina Lodder, 2000-01-01 Naum Gabo 1890 1977 whose eventful life took him from his native Russia to Berlin Paris London and finally the United States achieved renown as one of the most inventive and controversial figures in twentieth century sculpture This book is the first comprehensive account of Gabo's life career and artistic theory and practice Martin Hammer and Christina Lodder explore in detail the evolution of the artist's work and his aesthetic concerns creative processes assimilation of such new materials as plastic and approach to public sculpture The authors also examine his response to the scientific and political revolutions of his age and trace the origins and development of Gabo's utopian conviction that Constructivist art was profoundly in tune with modernity social progress and advances in science and technology Drawing on Gabo's extensive and largely unpublished archives of letters diaries notebooks models and sketchbooks Hammer and Lodder discuss the sculptor's work in the context of his relations with other avant garde artists architects and critics including his brother Antoine Pevsner They also situate his aesthetic theory and practice within the Constructivist movement

Social Studies of Science and Technology: Looking Back, Ahead B. Joerges, H. Nowotny, 2012-12-06 BERNWARD JOERGES AND HELGA NOWOTNY YET ANOTHER TURN The thing that doesn't fit is the thing that's most interesting Richard Feynman This volume was originally conceived as a contribution to yet another turn not captured by one of the many adjectives that have served to describe the collective meandering of the scholarly community in search of direction It was meant to mark the millennial turn a seemingly purely chronological event but one in search for great meanings and invested with loaded significances The editors wanted to seize the opportunity of the moment in order to pause and reflect on the sociology and history of social studies of science and technology The moment came and went and the new millennium barely nine months later thrust its historical marker upon the world through a horrendous and cruel shock in an unforeseen and unforeseeable way Since then the world appears more vulnerable and volatile fragmented and fraught with uncertainty The universal values bequeathed by the Enlightenment are either refused or appear refuted The dream of a universal civilization which has accompanied the unfolding of the existing multiple modernities in their historically unique trajectories has been discarded and its promises in tatters
