Security And Development In Southern Africa:

Security and Development in Southern Africa Nana Poku, 2001-04-30 With the end of white dominated South Africa many observers have argued for a positive transformation of the whole of Southern Africa based upon market integration and increased cooperation among the states of the region Poku and the contributors to this collection re examine this optimistic scenerio and they point to the problems of translating good intentions into actual policies In reality the economic imbalance between South Africa and its neighbors poses severe problems for the region Far from finding a stronger ally in regional reconstruction and developmnet the countries in the region are finding that for many in South Africa they simply do not matter that much The analysis points to greater polarization which may imply greater marginalization of the poorer countries in the region Moreover a major widening of the gap between the richer South Africa and some or all of the weaker economies may lead to increased tensions and breakdown of regional relations even to a situation detrimental to economic development in the region A provocative analysis by some of the leading politico economic thinkers of the region the volume will be of great use to scholars researchers and policy makers involved with Southern African development The

Security-development Nexus Lars Buur, Steffen Jensen, Finn Stepputat, 2007 The link between security and development has been rediscovered after 9 11 by a broad range of scholars Focusing on Southern Africa the Security Development Nexus shows that the much debated linkage is by no means a recent invention Rather the security development linkage has been an important element of the state policies of colonial as well as post colonial regimes during the Cold War and it seems to be prospering in new configurations under the present wave of democratic transitions Contributors focus on a variety of contexts from South Africa Mozambique and Namibia to Zimbabwe and Democratic Congo they explore the nexus and our understanding of security and development through the prism of peace keeping interventions community policing human rights gender land contests squatters nation and state building social movements DDR programmes and the different trajectories democratization has taken in different parts of the region Security and development assistance United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Foreign Relations, 1988 The Southern African Development Community

(SADC) and the European Union (EU) Johannes Muntshick, 2017-10-09 This book explores regionalism in the Southern African Development Community SADC and highlights the influence of the European Union EU as an extra regional actor on the organization and integration process The analysis is guided by theory and explains the emergence institutional design and performance of SADC s major integration projects in the issue areas of the economy security and infrastructure It provides in this way a profound assessment of the organization as a whole The study shows that South Africa plays a regional key role as driver for integration while external influence of the EU is ambivalent in character because it unfolds a supportive or obstructive impact The author argues that the EU gains influence over regional integration processes in the SADC on the basis of patterns of asymmetric interdependence and becomes a game changer insofar as it facilitates or impedes solutions to regional cooperation problems SADC - The Southern Arrested Development Community? MICHAEL.

AEBY,2019-09-13 Southern Africa is likely to experience more social unrest in the foreseeable future That is one of the conclusions in this policy dialogue which provides an overview of political and economic developments relevant to regional peace and security in Southern Africa While the region continues to experience isolated armed conflicts and while developmental backlogs present a major risk to regional stability in the long run currently the most acute source of instability stems from governance deficits which in the past decade have prompted crises in many of the member states of the Southern African Development Community SADC SADC s institutional framework for regional peace and security has proven ineffective because SADC leaders have prioritised national sovereignty over the enforcement of democratic principles The institutions have little capacity as they lack material and political support The governance deficits and SADC s lacklustre conflict management may in the long run arrest development in Southern Africa Food and Nutrition Security in Southern African Cities Bruce Frayne,Jonathan Crush,Cameron McCordic,2017-12-22 Urban population growth is extremely rapid across Africa and this book places urban food and nutrition security firmly on the development and policy agenda It shows that current efforts to address food poverty in Africa that focus entirely on small scale farmers to the exclusion of broader socio economic and infrastructural approaches are misplaced and will remain largely ineffective in ameliorating food and nutrition insecurity for the majority of Africans Using original data from the African Food Security Urban Network s AFSUN extensive database it is demonstrated that the primary food security challenge for urban households is access to food Already linked into global food systems and value chains Africa s supply of food is not necessarily in jeopardy Rather the widespread poverty and informal urban fabric that characterizes Africa s emerging cities impinge directly on households capacity to access food that is readily available Through the analysis of empirical data collected from 6 500 households in eleven cities in nine countries in Southern Africa the authors identify the complexity of factors and dynamics that create the circumstances of widespread food and nutrition insecurity under which urban citizens live They also provide useful policy approaches to address these conditions that currently thwart the latent development potential of Africa s expanding urban population

Food Security and Sustainable Development in Southern Africa Scott Drimie,Simphiwe Mini,2003 Southern Africa experienced acute food shortages during 2002 and 2003 The New Regionalism and the Future of Security and Development B. Hettne,2016-04-30 This book is dedicated to the implications of the new regionalism for global security and development The fourth in the five volume New Regionalism Series it features contributions from the UNU WIDER project on new regionalism Conflict, Security and Development Paul Jackson,Danielle Beswick,2018-06-14 This textbook draws on academic theory field research and policy developments to provide an overview of the connections between security and development before during and after conflict This third edition is revised and updated to take account of changes that have occurred in both policy and academic arenas which are relevant to students and practitioners in this area In addition there is a new chapter on memory and memorialisation after conflict In an interdependent world it is often argued that the challenges of underdevelopment and insecurity have global implications This textbook charts an accessible course through these complex debates providing a comprehensive introduction for those encountering these issues for the first time The main aims of the revised edition are to set out how thinking on conflict security and development has changed over time and continues to evolve to explore the consequences of these changes particularly for the theory and practice of development and security promotion to introduce a range of case studies from across the globe in order to explore the implications of a combined approach to security and development The authors are experienced in both the theory and the practice of this field and illustrate the links between conflict security and development with practical examples drawing on key case studies from the past twenty years Each chapter is informed by student pedagogy and the book will be essential reading for all students of development studies war and conflict studies and human security and is recommended for students of international security and international relations in general

Cross Border Security in the Southern African Region Innocent Moyo, 2024-07-29 This book provides a sophisticated analysis of cross border challenges and problems in the southern African region It advances explanations that transcend the state centric narrative that has nationalised cross border security It provides insights from non state actors such as informal cross border traders ICBTs informal cross border transporters undocumented migrants and cross border communities It argues that security needs to be understood beyond a state centric paradigm by focusing on the political economic environmental and societal threats at macro meso and micro levels The book suggests that at the core of cross border security challenges in the Southern African region is a post colonial governmentality This drives the nationalisation of cross border security as though it is the only security leading to nation states in turn depoliticising and invisibilising the security and livelihoods of ordinary people even when nation states claim to be protecting the same The book will be a useful resource for students scholars and researchers of African Studies Border Studies Human Geography Migration Studies Development Studies International Studies International Relations Political Science and Security Studies

Security and development in Southern Africa Christopher Saunders, Dawn Nagar, University of Cape Town. Centre for Conflict Resolution, 2008

Migration, Development and Urban Food Security Crush, Jonathan, 2016-11-25 Over the last decade two issues have risen to the top of the international development agenda Food Security Migration and Development Each has its own agency champions international gatherings national line ministries and voluminous bodies of research There is thus a massive institutional and substantive disconnect between these two development agendas The reasons are hard to understand since the connections between migration and food security seem so obvious Food security needs to be mainstreamed into the migration and development agenda and migration needs to be mainstreamed into the food security agenda Without this happening both agendas will proceed in ignorance of the other to the detriment of both The result will be a singular failure to understand and manage the crucial reciprocal relationship between migration and food security This paper aims to promote a conversation between food security and migration experts and policy makers with particular reference to the crisis of urban food security in Africa The empirical basis of the conversation is an AFSUN survey in 2008 and its findings on the differences between migrant and non migrant households in 11 cities in Southern Africa

Rethinking the Security-Development Nexus Sasha Jespersen, 2016-12-01 This book critically examines the security development nexus through an analysis of organised crime responses in post conflict states As the trend has evolved the security development nexus has received significant attention from policymakers as a new means to address security threats Integrating the traditionally separate areas of security and development the nexus has been promoted as a new strategy to achieve a comprehensive people centred approach Despite the enthusiasm behind the security development nexus it has received significant criticism This book investigates four tensions that influence the integration of security and development to understand why it has failed to live up to expectations The book compares two case studies of internationally driven initiatives to address organised crime as part of post conflict reconstruction in Sierra Leone and Bosnia Examination of the tensions reveals that actors addressing organised crime have attempted to move away from a security approach resulting in incipient integration between security and development but barriers remain Rather than discarding the nexus this book explores its unfulfilled potential This book will be of much interest to students of war and conflict studies development studies criminology security studies and IR in general

Conflict, Security and Development Danielle Beswick, Paul Jackson, 2013-06-17 This textbook draws on academic theory field research and policy developments to provide an overview of the connections between security and development before during and after conflict

The Security-Development Nexus Ramses Amer, Ashok Swain, Joakim Öjendal, 2013-11-01 The Security Development Nexus Peace Conflict and Development approaches the subject of the security development nexus from a variety of different perspectives Chapters within this study address the nexus specifically as well as investigate its related issues particularly those linked to studies of conflict and peace These expositions are supported by a strong geographical focus with case studies from Africa Asia and Europe being included Overall the text's collected essays provide a detailed and comprehensive view of conflict security and development

Routledge Handbook of Peace, Security and Development Fen Osler Hampson, Alpaslan Özerdem, Jonathan Kent, 2020-06-04 This Handbook offers a comprehensive examination of the peace security and development nexus from a global perspective and investigates the interfaces of these issues in a context characterised by many new challenges By bringing together more than 40 leading experts and commentators from across the world the Handbook maps the various research agendas related to these three themes taking stock of existing work and debates while outlining areas for further engagement In doing so the chapters may serve as a primer for new researchers

Congressional Record United States. Congress,1978 Toward Peace Security Southern Harvey Glickman,2022-02-22 First Published in 1990 This volume originates with a conference at Haverford College April 28 30 1989 On that weekend an international group of scholars inside and outside governments from Africa and elsewhere assembled to address the theme Toward Peace and Security in Southern Africa The conference was based on a sense of urgency concerning the continuing plight of the region reflected in the renewed state of emergency in South Africa and the declining economies in southern Africa as well as paradoxically a sense of impending opportunity for South Africa and the region as manifested in the Angola Namibia accords recently negotiated
