Intimate Relations Christine Weder, 2024 Shows that engagement with art and literature was essential to the programmatic sexual theories of the late 1960s and early 70s and that the period s aesthetic theories were characterized by forms of sexual obsession In the period around and after 1968 sexuality and the arts entered into a remarkably intimate and mutually beneficial relationship on one hand scientific theories of sexuality and their pop psychological counterparts incorporated lengthy reflections on art movements and literary texts since artistic media were understood as crucial to the project of inventing radically new modes of human living and loving On the other hand the aesthetic ambitions that informed new conceptions of sexuality had their mirror image in the varying forms of sexual obsession that characterized contemporary aesthetic theories Approaches as diverse as those of Theodor W Adorno Roland Barthes Susan Sontag Leslie A Fiedler Peter Gersen and Herbert and Ludwig Marcuse all contributed to a dramatic eroticization of the arts Christine Weder's interdisciplinary study explores this largely neglected relationship providing a dual insight into an era of profound transformation she demonstrates how and why the engagement with art and literature was essential to the programmatic theories of the new Eros At the same time she offers a fresh historical perspective on aesthetics around 1968 Whereas aesthetic developments in the late sixties have conventionally been conceived in terms of politicization Weder demonstrates that the sexualization of the arts was no less profound and in doing so contributes to a fundamental reframing of this tumultuous period
