My Reflections On Grieving:

My Reflections on Grieving Marion E. Stephany, 1987-01-01      Wide My Ocean, Deep My Grief Bev Swanson, 2005

Have you lost someone so close that the bottom seems to have fallen out of your world Are you tossing in a very deep and wide ocean of grief Do you just want some comfort company and some ways to cope with your grief      My Journey Through Grief Tammy Gann, 2021-05-23

Losing a loved one regardless of the circumstances can be an extremely difficult time in a person's life However a sudden and tragic loss adds even more issues and struggles It is devastating and shocking to those left behind leaving most people paralyzed not knowing which way to turn Death is not a topic we like to talk about which leaves most of us unprepared and unequipped to deal with grief Yet the unfortunate truth is that at some point we will all be faced with death For some it is easier to speak how they feel and for others it is better for them to write No matter how you deal with the loss in your life this journal will help guide you through the pain of losing someone you love Every journey through grief is different This is a journal will help you go through the painful process of grief It assists and guides you step by step by asking questions to get you to reflect on your emotions Every day is another step in your journey through grief This will help you to identify your pain so you can begin to heal It is structured in three categories personal devotional and specific questions regarding the person you lost Through the many tragedies in my life I have found a purpose and a vision to help others walk through grief Suffering and sorrow are never pleasant however the wisdom and compassion that come from such events are priceless This kind of wisdom and empowerment can't be taught but rather must be experienced My methodology is built upon real life experience coupled with practical down to earth guidance Having the highest regard for each person's unique situation I have created a journal that will help you walk through the pain of grief My hope is that everyone walking in pain will be empowered receive healing and find joy once again      My Journey: a Look into the Life of a Grieving Teenager Kaela Stubenvoll, 2015-11-03

The disease came with a vengeance and shocked his system totally It took eight weeks from diagnosis in a flash he was gone Where do you even start when the one person who has been there for you throughout your young life is taken away from you before your eyes For teenager Kaela Stubenvoll cancer claimed her beloved father For you it may be the loss of a sibling a cherished pet or a close friend Grief doesn't discriminate What does matter is the path you choose and the journey you take from the darkest place to your future brighter self Written by Kaela for other teenagers or anyone grieving a great loss this book contains anecdotes advice and personal poems as she reveals her grief truth discovered lessons learned and how she ultimately triumphs Reality has been a lot harder than any dream and through this twisted humor that became my life this journey is perfectly imperfect      Black Grief and Healing Yansie Rolston, Patrick Vernon, 2024-09-19

When Black people mourn it is not only for the passing of loved ones As a community Black people will also be mourning the systemic inequalities racial prejudices and oppressions we experience daily The stories and poems in this anthology illuminate the unique ways loss affects the Black community and the effects of the widespread lack of understanding of traditional rituals and beliefs They show us how experiences of collective loss during the pandemic the aftermath of the Grenfell Tower fire and ongoing systemic health inequalities are experienced not just as individuals but also as part of a global community Contributors from a range of backgrounds professions and identities discuss the challenges of grieving under the shadow of continuing adversity including threats of deportation Sources of strength and healing are also explored from personal and spiritual responses to community initiatives and activism Poignant and inspiring these are stories we all need to read and provide us with insights into lives and losses which are all too often misunderstood and sidelined
