

The background of the slide is a light blue gradient with faint, artistic illustrations of celestial objects. In the top left, there is a sun with a crescent moon inside it, surrounded by radiating lines. To its right is a bright yellow circle, possibly a full moon or a star. Further right is a ringed planet, similar to Saturn. On the far right, there are several overlapping, translucent, circular shapes that look like clouds or nebulae. Scattered throughout the background are small, faint stars and constellations.
