Precariousness, Community and Participation Matthew Johnson, 2018-12-07 This book attempts to explore the effects of neoliberalism on particular forms of community Guy Standing 2011 has popularised the notion of precariousness to describe the unpredictable neoliberal conditions faced by radically different people throughout the world Members of Standing's precariat lack occupational identities treat work and other moneymaking activities instrumentally are focused on the short term and have no shadow of the future hanging over their actions leaving little incentive to sustain long term relationships and productive but unpaid social activities This issue presents an interdisciplinary account of the challenges faced by communities at a time in which neoliberalism seems unchecked and uncheckable by the rise of nationalist populism At points responses are presented but it is perhaps reflective of the general sense of helplessness of those committed to tackling neoliberalism that the final article highlights serious deficits in an approach commonly presented as a practicable response basic income In the spirit of participation each article is accompanied by a reply by a non academic as well as an academic This ought not to be seen as tokenism the experience of the project has been that discussions can be advanced much more effectively through engagement with community members and professionals The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Global Discourse

The Challenge to Scholarship Gill Nicholls, 2005-06-24 This book is a lively and engaging investigation that seeks to establish what it means to be a scholar and the value of scholarship

Learning Partnerships for Social Inclusion Stephen O'Brien, Máirtín Ó Fathaigh, 2007 In education in Ireland more diverse groups than ever are accessing learning routes that hitherto remained obstructed This book explores ways in which the ideal of educational inclusion manifests itself in authentic policy and practice It seeks to integrate the lifelong learning debate across three significant educational sectors

Adult Learning, Citizenship and Community Voices Pam Coare, Rennie Johnston, 2003 This topical book examines the connections between theory and practice in citizenship learning Focusing on the experiences and views of a range of citizens many on the margins of society the contributors explore the significance and impact of particular forms of educational policies and provision in peoples lives and the role adult learning can play in the development of citizenship Organised into three sections the book provides a theoretical overview and a framework for understanding the links between learning and citizenship This is followed by an exploration of the voices of different citizens as they seek to develop their lives and learning

The final section brings together theory and practice and identifies ten Propositions for Practice in developing adult learning for citizenship primarily in community contexts Perceptions of Citizenship Responsibility Amongst Botswana Youth Julia Preece, Dama Mosweunyane, 2004 Botswana is widely regarded as a model African democracy Since independence in 1966 the country has enjoyed unparalleled peace and stability within the African continent It has also experienced unprecedented changes from being one of the ten poorest countries in the world to its current status as a middle income country However in spite of the advances of the last thirty years it still experiences high levels of poverty and inequality Perceived inhibitors to progress are attributed to the younger generation's erosion of traditional values and a collective reluctance to take pride in the nation This book offers an analysis of how the younger generation is reconciling globalisation influences with traditional cultural values and belief systems It argues that this generation does care about their country but has changed priorities It further recommends educational interventions that might nurture the best of Botswana's cultural heritage whilst ensuring an active democratic citizenry that is relevant to modernity The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 2001

Learning Communities and Imagined Social Capital Jocey Quinn, 2010-04-01 This volume critically explores themes of belonging learning and community drawing on a range of research studies conducted with adult learners in formal and informal contexts and employing interdisciplinary theory from education feminist theory cultural studies and human geography Dominant but simplistic and regulatory ideas and practices of learning community in higher education and lifelong learning are critiqued Instead Jocey Quinn argues that learners gain most benefit from creating their own symbolic communities and networks which help to produce imagined social capital A rich variety of empirical data is used to explore and demonstrate how such imagined social capital works Boletín Internacional de Bibliografía Sobre Educación, 2002 Aanwinsten van de Centrale Bibliotheek (Queteletfonds) Bibliothèque centrale (Fonds Quetelet), 2001
