Foucault, Christianity and Interfaith Dialogue Henrique Pinto,2020-11-25 Foucault Christianity and Interfaith Dialogue develops a new model for interfaith dialogue using the work of the French historian of ideas Michel Foucault The author argues that it is the injustice done to the Other by Roman Catholic Protestant and other centred and unitary models of religious pluralism that allows the introduction of Foucault s de centring of transcendence and human reason as an alternative model for understanding religious diversity and the role it ought to play in the constitution of the self and the making of society This Foucaultian approach provides a new direction for interfaith dialogue in the modern world and leads to an ethical rather than a nihilistic position while fostering a non unitary theology of religious pluralism and an open textured process of self transformation The author s original and imaginative application and expansion of Foucault s concept of the More from The Archaeology of Knowledge 1969 makes important and original contributions to academic work on Foucault and contemporary theology Law, Culture and Visual Studies Anne Wagner,Richard K. Conversion and the Politics of Religion in Early Modern Germany David M. Luebke, Jared Poley, Daniel C.

Ryan, David Warren Sabean, 2012-05-01 The Protestant and Catholic Reformations thrust the nature of conversion into the center of debate and politicking over religion as authorities and subjects imbued religious confession with novel meanings during the early modern era The volume offers insights into the historicity of the very concept of conversion One widely accepted modern notion of the phenomenon simply expresses denominational change Yet this concept had no bearing at the outset of the Reformation Instead a variety of processes such as the consolidation of territories along confessional lines attempts to ensure civic concord and diplomatic quarrels helped to usher in new ideas about the nature of religious boundaries and therefore conversion However conceptualized religious change conversion had deep social and political implications for early modern German states and societies Muslim Prisoner Litigation SpearIt, 2023-09-19 Since the early 1960s incarcerated Muslims have used legal action to establish their rights to religious freedom behind bars and improve the conditions of their incarceration Inspired by Islamic principles of justice and equality these efforts have played a critical role in safeguarding the civil rights not only of imprisoned Muslims but of all those confined to carceral settings In this sweeping book the first to examine this history in depth SpearIt writes a missing chapter in the history of Islam in America while illuminating new perspectives on the role of religious expression and experience in the courtroom Forced Baptisms Marina Caffiero, 2012 This book makes use of newly available archival sources to reexamine the Roman Catholic Church's policy from the sixteenth to nineteenth centuries of coercing the Jews of Rome into converting to Christianity Marina Caffiero one of the first historians permitted access to important archives sets individual stories of denunciation betrayal pleading and conflict into historical context to highlight the Church's actions and the Jewish response Caffiero documents the regularity with which Jews were abducted from the Roman ghetto and pressured to accept baptism She analyzes why some Jewish men interested in gaining a business advantage were more inclined to accept conversion than the women The book exposes the complexity of relations between the papacy and the Jews revealing the Church not as a monolithic entity but as a network of competing institutions and affirming the Roman Jews as active agents of resistance
