Ozolins, 1986-10-21 Among nineteenth century novelists there is probably none who speaks so directly to the modern reader as Fedor Dostoevski His visions of alienation and terror have not lost their power to shake our complacency even in this present age hardened as it is to violence and social decay In this stimulating collection of essays a distinguished group of specialists in comparative literature and the social sciences explores the themes and problems with which Dostoevski struggled as both a writer and as a man and assesses their continuing relevance to the modern world Encompassing a wide range of topics and perspectives this collection enriches our knowledge and appreciation of a writer whose prophetic visions of alienation and explorations of the dark side of the human psyche continue to fascinate readers and students of the human condition

Bain, 1987-12-04 The contributors to this volume represent acknowledged experts in the field as well as a number of promising young scholars They provide a thorough examination of how Romantic authors grappled with the problem of describing the connections between consciousness unconsciousness and language in their endeavor to capture this interplay in their art As this collection bears witness the Romantics sought to discard old ideas about language and literature and to mold new forms in their search to recover in both literature and life the sense of human possibility The essays while strikingly diverse in topic and approach explore this broad issue and come to a surprisingly similar conclusion for Romantic writers genuine consciousness whatever it might imply about self awareness not only made it possible for an individual to affiliate with something outside himself but even made such bonding necessary The Writer Written Jean-Pierre Durix, 1987-09-09 Few people are so widely read within Commonwealth literature or are so knowledgeable about so many different cultures as Jean Pierre Durix The first part of the book deals with general theoretical themes e.g. the writer as teacher while the second contains studies of single novels by such writers as Patrick White C.K. Stead and Salman Rushdie here Durix is at his best Choice Exploring the relationship between the writer and his craft between the artist and society between the creator and his conception of creation this fascinating study takes up various key positions represented by major writers from Africa
