field     The Encyclopedia of Sustainable Tourism Carl I Cater, Brian Garrod, Tiffany Low, 2015-10-01 Tourism is the world's fastest growing industry and impacts globally upon ecology, economies, peoples, cultures and the built environment. Development therefore must be sustainable and sympathetic in order to preserve the environment and culture it exploits. Despite sustainable tourism being an area of considerable recent interest, there has been no synthesis of the diverse considerations of sustainable tourism and the language and terms particular to this subject. An important resource for researchers of tourism, this reference work defines and explains terms associated with considering and preserving the environment, host peoples, communities, cultures, customs, lifestyles and social and economic systems.     Perspectives on the Impact, Mission and Purpose of the Business School Eric Cornuel, Howard Thomas, Matthew Wood, 2023-06-02 With contributions from some of the leading thinkers in business school education, this book explores the impact and purpose of the business school and addresses some of the most important questions facing management education today. The diverse perspectives brought together by the EFMD in this volume examine a number of common questions, themes and challenges. These include whether business schools should be viewed as schools of management given the complexity of the business environment; what is the positive impact of business school research and the balance of relevant practical impact and academic rigour; the strategic evolution of business schools and how they may evolve in a more purposeful direction; and why business school leaders compete strongly but are reluctant to collaborate and how collaboration may encourage greater positive societal impact. With insightful commentary and illustrative case studies, this book serves as a landmark publication on the value and impact of business schools. The book will be of particular interest to those working in business schools, higher education leaders, policy makers and business leaders seeking insight into the value, impact and future of business and management education.     International Encyclopedia of Business Management, 2025-09-01 The Encyclopedia of Business Management Four Volume Set is a comprehensive resource that covers over 200 topics across various areas of business management. Each entry is written in an accessible manner, making complex concepts easy to understand. Educational Innovation in Economics and Business VI Tor A. Johannessen,Ansgar Pedersen,Kurt Petersen,2013-04-17 Business education and business research has often been criticized by the business community which claims that much of it is mainly directed at the establishment of teachers and researchers themselves instead of distributing their knowledge to the business community It may seem that many universities and other research institutions have turned into mere knowledge manufacturers where the emphasis is more on the output volume than on quality of relevance with little or no consideration for the end users As universities and corporations attempt to prepare management to be alert to future changes improved and even brand new teaching methodologies are required The main focus of the present volume is on the distribution and selection of new knowledge How can business educators deliver new knowledge to students and the business community more rapidly than before How should we define the core business curriculum when new knowledge becomes old knowledge

Intellectual Capital for Communities Ahmed Bounfour,Leif Edvinsson,2012-06-25 In the knowledge economy the value of corporations is directly related to their knowledge and intellectual capital But broaden the perspective a little wider and you begin to see the possibilities Think of cities regions even entire nations in addition to the public sector If intangibles and intellectual capital are important to the private sector they are also important to the productivity and competitiveness of the public sector and so to communities and nations as a whole In this book Editors Ahmed Bounfour and Leif Edvinsson have brought together the best minds in intellectual capital throughout the world to focus on a new and fertile area of research measuring and managing the intellectual capital of communities This is a creative and cutting edge area of research that has the potential to change how public sector planning and development is done Once there is a clear way to identify where wealth is created in a given region nation this process has the potential to reveal a huge knowledge repository in the public sector with a significant but idle potential for collective wealth creation the wealth of nations in waiting Review of Small Business Administration's Programs and Policies -- 1971, Hearings Before ... 92-1 on ... establishes a general design theory based on the axioms of pragmatic thinking a crucial unity between experience and the process of learning and between conceptual thought and situational consciousness Building Knowledge develops a theoretical framework and practical instrumentation to establish a knowledge base for the discipline of architecture Part one of the book presents design methods as a third way of investigating reality apart from scientific methods or the conception of art By describing the science philosophical context Foqu extensively analyses the nature of design activity and the design process its inherent characteristics and the differences between science and art As such it is argued that design processes have a research dimension an sich which are essentially contextual and action driven Foqu offers an integrated and comprehensive perspective to understand design activity both from an epistemological and practical standpoint This results in an expanded discourse about the true nature of architectural design processes Within this theoretical framework part two explains how case study research is a primordial means to establish a knowledge base for the discipline and profession of architecture From this premise Foqu compares case study research in law medicine and business administration and develops a practical and comprehensive approach to case studies in architecture The methodology offers a solid and general framework wherein a consistent body of knowledge regarding architectural design processes can be generated This promotes deeper insight in the complex relationship between context product and process which governs every design process on the one hand and between the several stakeholders involved on the other hand Publisher
