Science On The Shores And Banks:

Science on the Shores and Banks Elizabeth Keyser Cooper, 1961 Introduction to Bed, Bank and Shore Protection Gerrit J. Schiereck, 2017-12-21 Introduction to Bed Bank and Shore Protection provides students and professional engineers with the understanding and guidance to prevent the erosion of movable beds banks and shorelines In a world of rising sea levels and extreme weather conditions these skills are increasingly important to the engineer as well as the wider community The book starts with the underlying scientific principles behind hydraulics and soil mechanics and applies them to common practical situations for the protection of coastal and river beds banks and shores Based on the author s twenty years of experience this blend of theory and practice provides the reader with useful knowledge that can be applied to a wide range of situations for the protection of the environment Use of Aerial Methods in Landscape Studies Sergei Vasil'evich Viktorov, 1969 The collection of articles covers a wide range of problems The use of aerial methods in the tundra taiga steppes and sandy deserts the possibilities of aerial methods for the study of regional characteristics of landscapes and the applications of aerial photography for large scale mapping Author Beach Management Tools - Concepts, Methodologies and Case Studies Camilo M. Botero, Omar Cervantes, Charles W. Finkl, 2017-12-04 This book provides an overview of beach management tools including carrying capacity beach nourishment environmental and tourism awards like Blue Flag or others bathing water quality zoning beach typologies quality index user s perception interdisciplinary beach monitoring coastal legislation shore protection social and economic indicators ecosystem services and coastal governance applied in beach case studies Beaches are one of the most intensely used coastal ecosystems and are responsible for more than half of all global tourism revenues and as such the book introduces a wide range of state of the art tools that can be used to deal with a variety of beach challenges Each chapter features specific types of tools that can be applied to advantage in beach management practices With examples of local and regional case studies from around the globe this is a valuable resource for anyone involved in beach management Beach Nourishment Project, Town of Nags Head , 2010

American Journal of Science , 1856 Handbook of Blended Shore Education Gabriele Strohschen, 2008-11-07 As we confront the future of our professional endeavors we tend to rely with confidence on longstanding and widely honored assumptions about the world and ourselves We believe we have accumulated sturdy structures of knowledge effective practices and sound values Yet we rely on these resources with scant consciousness that in the long run our assumptions practices and values may not only be inimical to the viability of our profession but as well oppressive in their effects on others There is at least one assumption common across many professions and cultures that is of particular significance It is the assumption that the world is made up of discrete entities or units There are not only the species of plants and animals for example but there is me as opposed to you us vs them my business enterprise in competition with yours our nation or religion and yours And with this assumption of separable units we assemble ways of sustaining and protecting those units of which we feel a part We erect buildings laws schools governments and armies to ensure that what is inside the boundary will flourish and what is outside cannot threaten us In effect the assumption of a world of independent entities establishes the way in which we understand and conduct ourselves within relationships

Coastal Risk: Shores and Deltas in Peril Clara Armaroli, Derek W. T. Jackson, Denise Reed, Christophe Viavattene, 2020-01-30 The interaction between land and sea is controlled by a number of processes that are in general driven by the equilibrium between environmental forcing components e.g. hydrodynamic waves currents surges atmospheric e.g. winds and terrestrial e.g. catchment land cover and sediment dynamics In the context of the Anthropocene epoch the equilibrium in many coastal regions is now often altered by the influence of human activities Successive human activities globally influence indirectly these forcing components helping magnify the negative impact of extreme meteorological events and sea level rise Directly human activity can also influence a number of processes at a local scale within and between the catchment the sea and the coast For example misplaced engineered infrastructure inside these naturally dynamic environments can accentuate disequilibrium destabilizing shores and deltas Development in catchments can promote rapid runoff inducing sometimes dramatic effects on downstream urbanized areas the socio economy as well as on coastal resources and ecosystems This Research Topic aims to assemble research and review papers that focus on the dynamics of shores and deltas in peril under present conditions as well as in the future context of sea level rise climate change and adaptation strategies under various scenarios
