Feminism and Ecological Communities Christine Cuomo, 2002-09-11 Feminism and Ecological Communities presents a bold and passionate rethinking of the ecofeminist movement It is one of the first books to acknowledge the importance of postmodern feminist arguments against ecofeminism whilst persuasively presenting a strong new case for ecological feminism Chris J Cuomo first traces the emergence of ecofeminism from the ecological and feminist movements before clearly discussing the weaknesses of some ecofeminist positions Exploring the dualisms of nature culture and masculinizing feminine that are the bulwark of many contemporary ecofeminist positions and questioning traditional feminist analyses of gender and caring Feminism and Ecological Communities asks whether women are essentially closer to nature than men and how we ought to link the oppression of women people of colour and other subjugated groups to the degradation of nature Chris J Cuomo addresses these key issues by drawing on recent work in feminist ethics as well as the work of diverse figures such as Aristotle John Dewey Donna Haraway and Maria Lugones A fascinating feature of the book is the use of the metaphor of the cyborg to highlight the fluidity of the nature culture distinction and how this can enrich ecofeminist ethics and politics An outstanding new argument for an ecological feminism that links both theory and practice Feminism and Ecological Communities bravely redraws the ecofeminist map It will be essential reading for all those interested in gender studies environmental studies and philosophy
