Fixing Landscape Corey Byrnes, 2019-01-15 In 1994 workers broke ground on China's Three Gorges Dam. By its completion in 2012 the dam had transformed the ecology of the Yangzi River, displaced over a million people and forever altered a landscape immortalized in centuries of literature and art. The controversial history of the dam is well known; what this book uncovers are its unexpected connections to the cultural traditions it seems to sever. By reconsidering the dam in relation to the aesthetic history of the Three Gorges region over more than two millennia, Fixing Landscape offers radically new ways of thinking about cultural and spatial production in contemporary China. Corey Byrnes argues that this monumental feat of engineering can only be understood by confronting its status as a techno-poetic act, a form of landscaping indebted to both the technical knowledge of engineers and to the poetic legacies of the Gorges as cultural site. Synthesizing methods drawn from premodern, modern, and contemporary Chinese studies as well as from critical geography, art history, and the environmental humanities, Byrnes offers innovative readings of eighth-century poetry, paintings from the twelfth through twenty-first centuries, contemporary film, nineteenth-century British travelogues, and Chinese and Western maps among other sources. Fixing Landscape shows that premodern poetry and visual art have something urgent to tell us about a contemporary experiment in spatial production. Poems and paintings may not build dams, but Byrnes argues that the Three Gorges Dam would not exist as we know it without them.

The Illustrative Practical Arithmetic by a Natural Method with Dictation Exercises George Augustus Walton, Electa N. L. Walton, 1871 A Single Pebble John Hersey, 1989-02-11 A young American engineer sent to China to inspect the unruly Yangtze River travels up through the river's gorges searching for dam sites. Pulled on a junk hauled by forty odd trackers, he is carried too into the settled ancient way of life of the people of the Yangtze until the interplay of his life with theirs comes to a dramatic climax.

The Illustrative Practical Arithmetic by a Natural Method ... George Augustus Walton, Electa Nobles Lincoln Walton, 1869 Relearning to See Thomas R. Quackenbush, 2000-01-24 In this accessible presentation of the famous Bates method, Thomas R. Quackenbush, who teaches the Bates method in California and Oregon, describes how eyesight can improve naturally at any age and regardless of heredity. This book is a wonderful tribute to the genius of Dr. Bates, who was a pioneer in discovering how vision becomes blurred and how it restores itself naturally to clarity and acuity. Now 80 years later, his findings and teachings remain light years ahead of our contemporaries. His approach to treating vision problems was truly holistic, and the theme throughout this book is very much an extension of that holistic approach. Dr. Quackenbush is to be commended for his dedication in getting the truth out and keeping the torch burning in this bible on vision improvement.

The Illustrative Practical Arithmetic ... George Augustus Walton, 1873 Symbolism 21 Florian Klaefer, Klaus Stierstorfer, Marlena Tronicke, 2021-10-25 Special Focus Law and Literature This special focus issue of Symbolism takes a look at the theoretical equation of law and literature and its inherent symbolic dimension. The authors all approach the subject from the perspective of literary and book studies.

foregrounding literature's potential to act as supplementary to a very wide variety of laws spread over historical geographical cultural and spatial grounds. The theoretical ground laid here thus posits both literature and law in the narrow sense. The articles gathered in this special issue analyse Anglophone literatures from the Renaissance to the present day and cover the three major genres: narrative, drama and poetry. The contributions address questions of the law's psychoanalytic, subconscious, copyright and censorship, literary negotiations of colonial and post-colonial territorial laws, the European refugee debate and migration narratives, fictional debates on climate change, contemporary feminist drama and classic 19th century legal narratives. This volume includes two insightful analyses of poetic texts with a special focus on the fact that poetry has often been neglected within the field of law and literature research. Special Focus editor Franziska Quabeck, Westfälische Wilhelms-Universität Münster, Germany. Bulletin, 1923. A Brief History of Mathematical Thought Luke Heaton, 2017-01-02. A compelling and readable book that situates mathematics in human experience and history.

Strength of advanced ceramic breeder pebbles: influence of fabrication methods, composition and annealing Kolb, Matthias, 2019-07-29. The Flip Side Professor Stuart Christie, 2024-12. Benefiting from recently catalogued archival materials, The Flip Side: Old China Hands and the American Popular Imagination, 1935-1985 evaluates the influence of an ensemble of well-known Americans born or bred in China: Pearl S. Buck, Henry R. Luce, Owen Lattimore and John Hersey, after their return to the United States of America. The children of missionaries and others serving China all contributed in significant ways to the globalisation of the American ideal in the 20th century, even as each sought in different roles—as publishers, as novelists, as scholars—to centre Chinese values and concerns in the Anglophone public sphere. As Chinese ideas and values met the projection of American soft power and governmentality, a uniquely bilateral global imaginary arose wherein respect for China as an emerging force encountered Western reaction. For these old China hands, the return to the USA resulted in unique and differing sociocultural formations. Buck's intersectional literary populism on behalf of the Chinese people, Henry R. Luce's press internationalism, Lattimore's inner Asian regional imaginaries and Hersey's China trilogy allegories. All were keen observers of and participants in international networks combining a diversity of China-based expertise and resources that continued to inform their everyday work at a great distance. Both public and private, these networks onshore and off enabled and energised their own advocacy that dared to imagine a Chinese future distinct from its colonial or semi-feudal past. The Flip Side asserts that these American stakeholders occupied a transitional but crucial role in the rise of China in Western imagination prior to China's assertion of sovereignty over its own global role and message.

The Early Earth James Badro, Michael J. Walter, 2015-08-25. The Early Earth: Accretion and Differentiation provides a multidisciplinary overview of the state of the art in understanding the formation and primordial evolution of the Earth. The fundamental structure of the Earth as we know it today was inherited from the initial conditions 4.56 billion years ago as a consequence of planetesimal accretion, large impacts among planetary objects and planetary scale differentiation. The evolution of the Earth from a molten ball of metal and magma to the tectonically active dynamic habitable planet that we know today is unique among the terrestrial planets and understanding the earliest processes that led to Earth's current state is the essence of this volume. Important results have emerged from a wide range of disciplines including cosmochemistry, geochemistry, experimental petrology, experimental and theoretical mineral physics, and geodynamics. The topics in this volume include Condensation of primitive objects in the solar nebula, planetary building blocks, Early and late accretion and planetary dynamic modeling, Primordial differentiation, core formation, Magma Ocean evolution and crystallization. This volume will be a valuable resource for graduate students, academics, and researchers in the fields of geophysics, geochemistry, cosmochemistry, and planetary science. Advanced Concepts in Fluorescence Sensing Chris D. Geddes, Joseph R.

Lakowicz, 2010-07-18 Over the last decade, fluorescence has become the dominant tool in biotechnology and medical imaging. These exciting advances have been underpinned by the advances in time-resolved techniques and instrumentation, probe design, chemical/biochemical sensing, coupled with our furthered knowledge in biology. Complementary volumes 9-10

Advanced Concepts of Fluorescence Sensing: Small Molecule Sensing and Advanced Concepts of Fluorescence Sensing: Macromolecular Sensing aim to summarize the current state of the art in fluorescent sensing. For this reason, Drs. Geddes and Lakowicz have invited chapters encompassing a broad range of fluorescence sensing techniques. Some chapters deal with small molecule sensors such as for anions, cations, and CO₂, while others summarize recent advances in protein-based and macromolecular sensors. The Editors have, however, not included DNA or RNA-based sensing in this volume as this was reviewed in Volume 7 and is to be the subject of a more detailed volume in the near future. Biomedical Diagnostic

Science Wai Tak Law, Naim Akmal, Arthur Usmani, 2002-07-30 Examines developments in gene and biochips. Biomedical Diagnostic Science and Technology comprehensively discusses new signals for analyte detection, site-directed immobilization of proteins, methods to improve surface biocompatibility, current strategies for the treatment of diabetes, etc. Geological
