

1892 7 Stat. 25

All Chinese immigrants excluded from U.S. for 10 years; Chinese illegally in U.S. could be removed.

13. Immigration Act of 1891 26 Stat. 1804

This act established the federal office of the superintendent of immigration, removing oversight of immigrant passenger arrivals from states, particularly New York State in light of rampant corruption there. This act also enshrined the right of the federal government to deny admittance to the U.S. for paupers, contagious persons, those convicted of felonies or moral turpitude, and polygamists.

14. Naturalization Act of 1906 34 Stat. 596

This major naturalization act instituted significant changes to the process of naturalization. The formal title is "A Bill to Establish a Bureau of Immigration and Naturalization, and to Provide for the Naturalization of Aliens throughout the United States."

The act established the federal government as the creator and interpreter of naturalization policy. By establishing the Bureau of Immigrant and Naturalization, this act invested the new Bureau with responsibility for managing the first uniform naturalization policy throughout the country.

Prior to 1906, an alien could be naturalized in any U.S. "court of record," with state and local courts managing proceedings according to their own standards and processes.
