Remembering G And Other Stories:

The Postcolonial Short Story Maggie Awadalla, Paul March-Russell, 2012-10-23 This book puts the short story at the heart of contemporary postcolonial studies and questions what postcolonial literary criticism may be Focusing on short fiction between 1975 and today the period in which critical theory came to determine postcolonial studies it argues for a sophisticated critique exemplified by the ambiguity of the form

Unreliable Truths Sissy Helff, 2013 While many people see home as the domestic sphere and place of belonging it is hard to grasp its manifold implications and even harder to provide a tidy definition of what it is Over the past century discussion of home and nation has been a highly complex matter with broad political ramifications including the realignment of nation states and national boundaries Against this backdrop this book suggests that home is constructed on the assumption that what it defines is constantly in flux and thus can never capture an objective perspective an ultimate truth Along these lines Unreliable Truths offers a comparative literary approach to the construction of home and concomitant notions of uncertainty and unreliable narration in South Asian diasporic women's literature from the UK Australia South Africa the Caribbean North America and Canada Writers discussed in detail include Feroza Jussawalla Suneeta Peres da Costa Meera Syal Farida Karodia Shani Mootoo Shobha D and Oonya Kempadoo With its focus on transcultural homes Unreliable Truths goes beyond discussions of diaspora from an established postcolonial point of view and contributes with its investigation of transcultural unreliable narration to the representation of a global South Asian diaspora

Reordering of Culture Alvina Ruprecht, 1995-11-15 Political economic and social barriers among Latin America the Caribbean and Canada are giving way to global forces and the global dreams they inspire This collection of original articles and essays examines popular culture literature theatre belief systems indigenous practices and questions of identity exile and alienation The interconnectedness and distinction of cultural production throughout the Americas transplanted interests the mediation of African and European influences and the expression of shifting identities all reflect the development of a new American neighbourhood

Harriet's Legacies Ronald Cummings, Natalee Caple, 2022-05-15 Historic freedom fighter and conductor of the Underground Railroad Harriet Tubman risked her life to ferry enslaved people from America to freedom in Canada Her legacy instigates and orients this exploration of the history of Black lives and the future of collective struggle in Canada Harriet's Legacies recuperates the significance of Tubman's time in Canada as more than just an interlude in her American narrative it is a new point from which to think about Black diasporic mobilities possibilities and histories Through essays and creative works this collection articulates new territory for Tubman in relation to the Black Atlantic archive connecting her legacies of survival freedom and cultural expression within a transnational framework Contributors take up the question of legacy in ways that remap discourses of genealogy and belonging positioning Tubman as an important part of today's freedom struggles Integrating scholarship with creative and curatorial practices the volume expands conversations about culture and expression in African Canadian life across art literature performance politics and public pedagogy Considering questions of culture community and futures Harriet's Legacies explores what happened in the wake of Tubman's legacy and situates Canada as a key part of that dialogue God's Scorekeeper and Other Stories Frank G. Honeycutt, 2019-08-20 Quick What do these characters all have in common An anguished ghost whose interest in measuring mountains led to his premature death A retired educator who takes a part time job inside the cozy confines of Wrigley Field's manual scoreboard An obsessive orthodontist known to evangelize his prone patients A bipolar father whose zany day includes an encounter with the police And a victim of identity theft reconsidering his vocation They're all pastors of course Join storyteller Frank Honeycutt on a roller coaster ride inside the flawed lives and vivid imaginations of sixteen ministers struggling to keep and make sense of their faith At times humorous surprising sad and even warped this fictional peek into the private lives of clergy sheds angular light upon the complicated theological motives guiding those called to lead God's people

Odysseys Home George Elliott Clarke, 2017-06-22 Odysseys Home Mapping African Canadian Literature is a pioneering study of African Canadian literary creativity laying the groundwork for future scholarly work in the field Based on extensive excavations of archives and texts this challenging passage through twelve essays presents a history of the literature and examines its debt to and synthesis with oral cultures George Elliott Clarke identifies African Canadian literature's distinguishing characteristics argues for its relevance to both African Diasporic Black and Canadian Studies and critiques several of its key creators and texts Scholarly and sophisticated the survey cites and interprets the works of several major African Canadian writers including Andr  Alexis Dionne Brand Austin Clarke Claire Harris and M Nourbese Philip In so doing Clarke demonstrates that African Canadian writers and critics explore the tensions that exist between notions of universalism and black nationalism liberalism and conservatism These tensions are revealed in the literature in what Clarke argues to be paradoxically uniquely Canadian and proudly apart from a mainstream national identity Clarke has unearthed vital but previously unconsidered authors and charted the relationship between African Canadian literature and that of Africa African America and the Caribbean In addition to the essays Clarke has assembled a seminal and expansive bibliography of texts literature and criticism from both English and French Canada This important resource will inevitably challenge and change future academic consideration of African Canadian literature and its place in the international literary map of the African Diaspora

Embracing the Other Dunja M. Mohr, 2008 In the wake of addressing multiculturalism transculturalism racism and ethnicity the issue of xenophobia and xenophilia has been somewhat marginalized The present collection seeks from a variety of angles to investigate the relations between Self and Other in the New Literatures in English How do we register differences and what does an embrace signify for both Self and Other The contributors deal with a variety of topics ranging from theoretical reflections on xenophobia its exploration in terms of intertextuality and New Zealand Maori historiography to analyses of migrant and border narratives and issues of transitionality authenticity and racism in Canada and South Africa Others negotiate identity and alterity in Nigerian

Remembering Palestine in 1948 Efrat Ben-Ze'ev, 2011-02-07 The war of 1948 in Palestine is a conflict whose history has been written primarily from the national point of view This book asks what happens when narratives of war arise out of personal stories of those who were involved stories that are still unfolding Efrat Ben Ze ev examines the memories of those who participated and were affected by the events of 1948 and how these events have been mythologized over time This is a three way conversation between Palestinian villagers Jewish Israeli veterans and British policemen who were stationed in Palestine on the eve of the war Each has his or her story to tell These small scale truths shed new light on the Palestinian Israeli conflict as it was then and as it has become

Problems of the Psychology of Memory A. Smirnov, 2013-06-29 Contrary to popular opinion contemporary psychology in the USSR is far from being monolithic It is true that the development of Soviet psychology does have characteristic features which distinguish it from the development of Western and particularly Anglo American psychology Perhaps the most distinguishing features of Soviet psychology are represented by the pre dominance of the historical evolutionary approach and the emphasis on integrative physiological mechanisms underlying behavior The development of Soviet psychological thinking can also be characterized as having been free of the fruitless discussions of mind body dualism and of dominance by rat and pigeon centered behaviorism Soviet psychology had the benefit of a rich inheritance from the Sech that laid the foundation for modern psycho enov Botkin Pavlov school biology and biological psychiatry Unfortunately the politically engendered omnipresent dogmatism during the Lysenko Stalin era of obscurantism tended to pervert this rich scientific heritage and hindered the development of a diversity of concepts and methods in the behavioral and biological sciences
